the Chartering of a vessel, Mr. Cobb would down sale, judging from his apparent anxiety to make the voyage both the State & the emigrants in hand, at as moderate a rate as they could be sent for, even if the vessel took one hundred ready to go in a vessel chartered for the purpose —

I make this suggestion to enable the executive Committee, should the Board determine on sending out supplies, to place them hands at once on the spot also under some terms.

Respectfully

P.S. Since sick Mrs Harper who advises that supplies be sent out, also as many Emigrants as can be procured —
