Dear Sir

I find among my unanswered letters, which I am answering as as possible, a Communication designated for publication, touching one of your Editorials, which gives to my mind that somebody made what you write, though others do not. I have written him that I would lay the subject before you, & let you make the amendment honorable. I enclose the letter. The writer is a good man, & a warm friend of Co. Co. You can do what you please about it. Answer it to him in a letter - or write another Editorial, which I will publish & he will read - or write to me what you have to say - Please return me his letter when you have done with it -

James Hall M. D.

Yours faithfully,
W. M. Galt
