

and that my cold is slowly giving way - I begin to feel better - but I fear I shall not get any rest this Summer. Dr. Sargent is still confined to his room, I fear no prospect of being able to work any for some months. Mrs.
Husley is still very unwell she is detained with her son. Fletcher has gone north to spend the Summer I pick up a little. So that I am the forlorn hope - or as my wife says "the fossil remaining" of this office. I do want to go to Michellmackinack & Lake Superior or a pair of months - but I am fearful.
