Dear Doctor

I would have written you before but I was attacked with billious fever and am not yet recovered. therefore I hope this will sufficiently apology for me. I have commenced dissection Dr Peasley loaned me a dissecting case. he has just finished his book on Histology it has gone to the press. I wrote Mr Rosier on wednesday. The term ends here on or about the 12th of Nov so we have about 6 weeks ~~to~~, yet. the candidates for graduation are numerous and pretty well posted. I find that I am not behind any of them this is saying much yet it is true. It is pleasant here yet. but we have had frost. I study in the morning until 8 O'clock attend all the Lectures until 12 O'clock after dinner I dissect until five and study until 9 O'clock P.M. I can say no more at present

Respectfully Yours
