Dr James Hall

Dear Sir. I think, if we spend that Monday night any where in Maryland, it will be at your house. And if we do, we shall use every effort in our power, short of actual cruelty, to take you on with us the next morning. There is nobody else, who is so competent to the work of taming the Ephesian fighters. If you are not there, I am afraid that a certain invincible personage "on two sticks," as you once said, will have every thing in his own way. Nothing but an inability to go without too much bodily suffering, must be allowed to keep you away. Bowen writes to Gurley, that Formosa River is now unoccupied.

Yours, as ever,
Joseph Lany
