Dear Doctor

Your last long & sweet letter bears date 7- (I am ashamed to write it) Oct. 31. 61. I will make no other apology than to remind you of pressing duties & poor health.
Every mail I have thought of you & often beside your photograph hangs in our dining room and is a constant remembrance of you. Moreover whatever occurs of interest, we think of the interest you would feel in the event.
I cannot pretend to tell you all of importance & interest that has recently transpired. I must condense. And just here stands my dear little Grace by my side & takes up your letter and says, "Papa please let me see
