

Arrangements. Though I should not object to the Corner, I will not on this occasion avail myself of your offer to purchase anything in Baltimore.
Among the Half Barrels will be one of Hams, distinctly marked, As the last Barrel I sent out was much injured on the voyage, arising I presume from 'sweating' consequent upon the heat of the hold of the vessel, may I rely upon your having this one placed in such a position that a similar accident , at least from the same cause, may not occur? Otherwise I should be loathe to send it. Also there will be a small box of ~~fresh~~ garden seeds liable to spoil if overheated. Can you promise me to have a favorable disposition made of this also? Awaiting your speedy reply I remain Yours very Respect
