

to take with him a lady to whom he is to be married between this time and the sailing of the vessel. -

The wedding ceremony had been fixed for the second day of November; if not definitely, at least with ~~what~~ such confidence that the time of sailing would be later than that as will lead to embarrassment if an earlier day must be named. -

Under these circumstances you will confer a special favor on the Lady's family and herself if you will be at the trouble to ascertain, if possible, with certainty, whether passengers arriving in Baltimore from two to four days later than the first ~~prope~~ (in the morning train that is, arriving in the morning) will be in time for the vessel. -

Should you succeed, if you will Telegraph me, at the earliest moment you will oblige me much.

I hope to hear from you, by Tel.
Early on Thursday -

Very Resp^y
