

have had, of such protest being made.

I obtained the draft & sent you as a favor to Mr. Lewis, and my object has been in the whole transaction not to subject any one to needless expense. My opinion is, we all stand acquitted of any just charge of complaint in the matter, and that we are all too generous to suffer an unexpected item of expense, thus occasioned, to disturb, in the least, our mutual respect and good feelings.

I am, Sir, very respectfully, Your humble serv't
John Orcutt.
