

hard to you, there is no bank here that I cannot readily procure a check for the money, but will write to a friend of mine residing in Baltimore Mr. Wm. S. Bryan to make the payment to you, I enclose a letter for Emily, she was in New Virginia when I heard from her and you please have the letter forwarded to her. I fear she thinks I have been unmindful of her she so earnestly urged me to send as soon as possible, but I had to wait the sitting of the legislature to make a petition for her as it is only by a special act she is allowed by the law of the state to return. I will be very much obliged to you to let me know how soon a vessel will sail, from what port, and the probable time of a return and in you will ask the last to find Emily that she may not miss the first opportunity, direct it, you please to Miss S. S. Mallett.

Very respectfully yours
