

Composition and Dictation.

Considering the advantage the scholars have, they don't give satisfaction.

There are many who act very obstinate, stiff, but by applying the rod they are conscious that I intend to be the school-master, in that way the school keeps healthy.

Though there are many who try to give due deference.

Fifty one of the scholars were present at the examination held July 22<sup>d</sup>.

Recitations during the term below the usual rehearsals.

The lessons recited at the examination by some of the scholars were not satisfactory; others did remarkably well.

The advanced boys of the school continue to render assistance with some of the minor classes. It is allowed in order to impress more deeply upon their own minds what they have passed through.

Maryland Historical Society

The Maryland State Colonization Society Papers

VII. Special Funds
C. Hall School Fund

2. August 1875-- June 1893