Hicks' Forecasts For April.

Vulcan regular storm period central on March 31st, comes over into April for two or three days. The Mercury period is central on the 2d and will prolong the the disturbances at this time. Thunder, lighting, wind and rain, with severe hail storms in many sections, may be looked for with possibly spurts of snow and sleet to the northward.

A reactionary storm period, overhung by the Mercury brace, centers on the 5th, 6th and 7th' Vicious electrcial and hail storm will be very natural on and touching the 5th and 6th, with high temperature, humid atmosphere, and greatly depressed barometer. Change to much cooler, with frost in central and northern states, about the 6th to 6th.

A regular storm period involves the 6th to the 16th, having its center on the 11th. A very decided raise in temperature will set in to the westward about the 9th and 10th, the barometer will fall, and storms of rain, wind, thunder and hail will push eastwardly across the country on and touching the 10th, 11th, 12th and 13th. Another change to much cooler with rising barometer will run its course, with frosty northward on and next to the 14th, 15 and 16.

A reactionary storm period is central on the 17th. 18 and 19th. The moon is in perigee and on the celestial equator on the 18th.

A regular storm period is central on the 23rd, covering the 21st to 23d. The temperature will again rise very high, and the brometer will fall to low readings as we enter this period, beginning in western extremes. Storms of rain, wind and hail will follow, and during the 22d to 25th, these storms will pass in regular, progressive order from west to east across the country.

A reactionary storm period covers the last three days of the month, having the Moon in apoge, at last quarter and near the celestial equator. Return of April thunder showers, with low barometer. Now that the Mars period has worked backward, well out of the spring, look for warmer, more propitious April weather.

GEORGE APSLEY CELEBRATES NINETY-FIFTH ANNIVERSARY

To-day is the ninety fifth anniversary of George Apsley, Lock Haven's grand old man, and an informal reception was held during the entire day and evening. Many of that gentleman's friends called to extend congratulations on his having reached such an advance age, and found him most eager to meet all. Felicitations were sent by post cards and by letters, and beautiful cut flowers were received by the dozen.

Mr. Apsley is a gentleman of the old school and his familiar figure, clad in broadcloth and invariably appearing in a silk hat, always added the touch of refinement to his personal appearance.

He was born in Kent County, in the year of 1818, and has been a resident of Lock Havens, Pa.. since 1861. Mr, Apsley for many years has conducted a store where leather and shoe findings were sold and he is still engaged in that business. He enjoys the faculities apparently as well as earlier in life and he is quite able to read the daily papers. During the past few days he has been slightely indisposed and for this reason no special anniversary function was held.

His son ex-Congressmaa L D. Apsley, a wealthy rubber manufacturer of Hudson, Mass., accompanied by his wife arrived in this city on Wednesday. The son's gift to his aged parent was one dollar for every year of his life, which is an annual custom. A large box of carnations from Hudson was also a gift. His granddaughter Mrs. J. C. Heisler, wife of Dr. Heisler, of Philadhlphia, is another welcome visitor.

Mr. Apsley is cared for in his declining years by his daughter, Mrs. J. C. Reardon, who looks after his every wish.—From Lock Haven Express.

A FORTUNATE ESCAPE.

Automobile Turns Turtle Near Chestertown with Two Business Men and Two Ladies.

Messrs. Herman Blackway and Randolph Waddell, of Chestertown, and Misses Lillian Kirby and Nellie Newman, of Baltimore, narrowly escaped serious injury last Sunday afternoon when an automobile in which they were riding, turned turtle. The accident occured about a quarter of a mile south of Church Hill, on the state road while the party were returning to Chestertown from the direction of Centreville.

According to statements made by occupants of the car the accident was due to the reckless interference by the driver of another car going in the same direction. Mr. Blackway, who was at the steering wheel of his machine states that he was proceeding leisurely along when he was overtaken by another car, which, after passing immediately assumed a slower pace than he, Mr. Blackway was going. The latter then drew to one side when to his surprise the car in the lead quickly pulled directly in front of him. This was repeated several times until a wide stretch of road was reached which gave Mr. Blackway, as he thought full opportunity to pass without interference, but when he attempted to do so the car ahead again pulled in front of him and at such an angle that Mr. Blackway, in order to avoid a collision was compelled to give his machine a quick swerve. As he did this the wheels struck a bed of sand and his car skidded and turned turtle, hurling Mr. Waddell and Miss Kirby twenty feet across the road and pinning Mr. Blackway and Miss Newman beneath the car.

All four occupants of the machine were bruised but fortunately none were seriously injured. The car was damaged about $300.

HEAVY SNOW FALLS IN TORNADO'S PATH

More than 200 persons were killed and four hundred were injured in the wind storm that demolished 450 homes, damaged hundred of other buildings and caused a monetary loss variously estimated at $5,000,000 to $12,000,000 in the main path of the tornado in and near Omaha, Neb, A snow storm of blizzard proportion followed the tornado, and is adding to the sufferings of the thousands of homeless and hampering the search for the dead and injured.

Most of the casualties were in Omaha. Nearby towns in Nebraska and across the Missouri river in Iowa also suffered severely. Wires are snapped off in all directions. Fire broke out in the ruins of many wrecked buildings in the Nebraska metropolis. A heavy rain followed the wind, however, and drenched the homeless ones, but also put out the flames.

Of the 202 known dead within the area covered by the storm 152 were residents of Omaha. The remaining dead are scattered over a considerable territory, with Council Bluffs, Iowa, 12; Yutan, Neb., 16; Berlin, Neb., 7; Glenwood, Iown, 5; Neols, Iowa, 2, and Bartlett, Iowa, 3.

Perhaps fifteen hundred persons are homeless in Omaha. Three hundred buildings were more or less damaged, many of these being churches and school buildings. Eight of Omaha's public schools were wrecked.
