MARBURY IN KENT.

Asks That His Occasional Democracy Be Forgotten—His Candidacy Being Accepted by Mr. Barroll's Followers With Protestations.

Wm. L. Marbury, Esq., candidate for Long Term Senator against Senator John Walter Smith and Isaac Lobe Straus, in company with Mr. Barroll's son, Wethered, arrived at Rock Hall Saturday and addressed an audience of 31 that evening. Jefferson D. Ayres was chairman of the meeting. The vice-presidents read out were Walter Hadaway, Charles Kelly, George C. Leary, James M. Durding, George O. Kendall and John C Wood.

He came to Chestertown and, with his wife, spent Sunday at the home of Hope H. Barroll, Esq., and wife, where a splendid entertainment was provided. On Monday in company with Judge W. B. Copper and L. Wethered Barroll he visited Church Hill where D. Thos. Hurlock took the candidate around. At Crumpton Chas. Clements presided at a small meeting with J. C. Smith, J. W. Walls, Geo. M. Vansant, Walter Wallace, W. T. Godwin, D. L. Bamberger, S. Chairs, Jr., R. Jefferson.

At Millington, W Finley Collins, the prospective candidate for postmaster, presided with these assistants read, Chas. O. Casey, Will Mallalieu, Wm. H. Loper, H. C. Hendricks n and John E. Woodall. At Massey he was greeted by C. S. Hurlock, T. C. Roe, A. F. Huey, T. J. Dunn, Tom Darrell, Dudley Evans, S. J. Johnson. At Kennedyville Jesse H. Copper and Judge Chas. Hill had him in charge and at Betterton T. B. Crew, Judge James Bramble and James G. Harris. At Worton A. S. Turner, Elwood Morris and Harry Taylor accompanied him while Ellsworth Bowers introduced him at Lynch.

All this trip was ended at Chestertown with a meeting held in Firemen's Hall. This meeting was to have been a rouser, but on account of various circumstances did not meet the expectations of its promoters. G. E. Noland, a pronounced supporter of Isaac Loeb Straus, was advertised as the presiding officer, but failed to be present and preside, and T. D. Bowers had to make apologies for same. The meeting was attended by 115 Barrollites, 52 opponents, 25 College students, 8 boys and 7 ladies. Mr. Marbury's speech was taken up with abuse of Hon. John Walter Smith and the KENT NEWS, with no argumentative sentences nor flights of oratory which many expected. His inferred remarks on the right of President Wilson to name officials in order to promote the candidacy of Mr. Marbury brought a smile of satisfaction to the ten or fifteen applicants present for various offices in Kent.

BETTERTON NOTES

The monthly business and social meeting of the Betterton Epworth League was held Thursday evening, April, at the home of Capt. Horace Brice. The League was in good attendance and the meeting an enthusiastic one. Five new members, Misses Irene Crownhart, Sarah Taylor, Margaret Myers, Messrs. Walter Lewis and Tilon Myers were received into the League. It was decided to correspond with Miss Bremier, the noted elocutionist in view of getting her at an early date to coach a play. Miss Bremier is a lady of rare ability and brings out the latent powers of those she trains. She will have excellent talent here with which to work

Miss Elizabeth Brice gave "echoes" from a lecture given in Baltimore by W. T. Sheridan of the Central Office. She gave the League many helpful ideas. Mr. Sheridan said Leagues were of two classes, one "sits up and sits," the other "gits up and gits." It was fully decided that the Betterton League belongs to the latter class.

Betterton School held its Arbor Day exercises Friday afternoon, April 11th. Quite a number of the patrons were present. The following programme was well rendered: Chorus, Arbor Day; Scripture Reading, Margaret Myers; address of welcome, Nelson Hughes; recitation, Arbor Day, Clifton Myers; recitation, An Apology, Jessie Willis; recitation, Thoughts for a Farmer, Morris Jester; recitation, A Wise Old Owl, Nelson Boone; dialogue, Planting Time, Martha Rasin, Bertha Newcomb, Ethel Wilmer, Viola Kiker, Alice Taylor, Marie Willis, Mary Taylor; recitation, Almost Time, Norman Crew; recitation, Florence Rasin; recitation, A Boy's Opinion, Charles Willis; Reading, Celebrated Trees, Mabel Rasin; recitation, What the Wind Brings, Lillian Owens, Nellie Maslin, Harry Brice. Alpheus Smith,; recitation, The Critic, Florence Willis; Duet, The Pussy Willow, Mary and Alice Taylor; recitation, Lillian Owens; recitation, Winds of Springtime, Kenneth Trott and Harry Brice; recitation, The Four Leaf Clover, Clara Willis; recitation, Leslie Crew; recitation, Spring is here, Elsie Owens; recitation. Spring Flowers, Bessie Taylor; chorus, Blossom Bells; recitation, The Blue Bird, Allie Myers; Dialogue by Primer Class; recitation, Tell Me, Leonard Warram; recitation, How to Make a Whistle, John Owens; duet, Howard Robinson, Harold Crew; recitation, My Lady Spring, Alice Taylor; recitation, April, Edith Turner; Duet, Jessie Willis, Edna Jester; recitation, Signs of Spring, Marie Willis; dialogue, 9 children; chorus, Our Forests Tis of Thee. The music under the leadership of Mrs. J. H. Gooding with Miss Hazel Crew organist, was especially good. After the exercises cake and lemonade were served.

VOTES FOR WOMEN

Mean Votes for the Home.

Government, through the Public School system controls the education of children.

Government, through the Health Department, controls contagious diseases and regulates the purity of food, milk and water supplies.

Government is responsible for all the sanitary and moral environment of the Home including the control of the Liquor Traffic and the regulation of illegal Houses of Vice.

These are questions of vital importance to "woman in her sphere" as home-maker.

Maryland Suffragists believe that "Home is Woman's Sphere" and because Government has entered Woman's Sphere, we believe that woman, by casting a vote should participate in government.

The Anti-Suffragists say "but women are represented at the polls by their men folks."

We say, one man can legally cast but one vote, therefore a voter can only represent himself.

As it is the number of votes cast which decides questions, not the opinions one vote represents, we believe women should be given the right to express their own opinions at the place where opinions count—the polling booth.

The majority of men are just and recognizing the righteousness and justice of our claims, they are extending the franchise to women throughout the civilized world.

In the United States the men in all but twelve states have given women some form of suffrage and the testimony based on actual experience in these states is overwhelmingly in favor of votes for women,
