FISHERIES FACE RUIN

Bay and Tributaries Almost Depleted of Supply—Seining Methods Are Blamed.

Washington, May 17.—The great food-fishing industry of the Chesapeake Bay and its tributaries is in the worst condition for a generation, and radical measures will be necessary to restore it according to a statement made today commissioner of Fisheries Hugh M. Smith. Mr. Smith added that shad fishing is a hundred times less favorable that since the Government took up fish culture.

Between 3,000 and 4,000 nets line the western shore of the Chesapeake and run into its rivers, said Mr. Smith, and these nets prevent the shad, herring and other food fish from reaching fresh water spawning grounds, which is the principal cause of the unprecedented and startling depletion of the fish supply in the Chesapeake, when, Mr. Smith says, will require from three to five years to restore even with radical measures.

Congressman J. Charles Linthicum, of Baltimore, who is drafting national legislation for the protection of food fish in inter State waters, called on Mr. Smith yesterday to discuss his plan. Commissioner Smith told Mr. Linthicum that legislation was badly needed in view of the fact that Maryland and Virginia, have failed to enact laws to protect the fish, but before the bureau could sanction Mr. Linthicum's idea Secretary of Commerce Redfield would have to be consulted. It was Mr. Smith's belief that fish could be protected along the same national legislative lines as migratory birds. He added that if the State did not act the Government might be forced to do so for the preservation of the food fish supply.

Commissioner Smith said the herring and shad fishing in the Potomac had been abandoned this year by the seines, as the river is practically barren.

The fishing in the Potomac river this year was the poorest in a generation. Like conditions prevail in the Rappahannock and the James. The fresh waters of the Potomac have been practically barren the whole season. The largest catch of one of the biggest seines on the river operating on one of the most famous shores, was 3,000 herring, whereas 200,000 or more were frequently taken at one haul and probably the average up to 10 or 14 years ago would be 15,000 to 30,000 herring for a haul

"The largest catch of shad this season was 100 and many hauls only yielded from 6 to 20 fish, this with a seine 1,200 fathoms long.

"The run of fish from the ocean into the Chesapeake Bay is less that formerly and a large part of that run was taken in salt water before the fish reached fresh water, so that the natural reproduction, as well as the artificial propagation, has been reduced to a minimum The evil effects of this decline will be seen and felt from three to five years.

Notwithstanding the most active methods at the shad hatchers at Havre de Grace, the head of the bay, only a small quanity of eggs could be obtained this year, owing to the fact that spawning shad were not present."

Commissioner Smith then told how the Bureau of Fisheries had stepped into North Carolina, at the invitation of the State Legislature, made an investigation of fishing conditions and recommended remedial legislation. He said at that time the conditions in that State were similar to the Chesapeake Bay situation now.

"Our recommendations were enacted into law," said Mr. Smith. "The fishing was restricted to a slight degree and the fish got a decent show. As a result today the fisheries in North Carolina waters are in a flourishing state and continue to improve. Enormous catches are being made because sufficient spawning fish are allowed to reach the head waters.

NEW RULES AS TO SEED OYSTERS.

The Shellfish Commissioners Monday adopted an order prohibiting the further taking of seed oysters from Broad creek. The territory in Harris creek, above a line drawn from the outer end of Tilghman Island steamboat wharf to Change Point, was declared open for the taking of seed oysters on the following conditions:

Parties taking seed oysters must leave with the commander of the Oyster Navy, or his representative, on demand, a signed statement showing the name of the person to whom the oysters are to be delivered and such person must be included in the list of applicants for leases.

Salt Lake City, May 13.—After today no woman who works in the State will receive less that 90 cents a day; no girl worker will receive less than 70 cents a day, and no woman or girl will work over 54 hours a week.

The minimum wage law passed by the last Legislature went into effect today. The 54 hour law has been in effect some time. According to the new law a woman worker learning new work must be paid 90 cents daily: after 6 months apprenticeship this must be raised to at least $1.25 daily. Girl apprentice must be paid 75 cents daily, and after 6 months must be paid at least 90 cents per day.

THE stockholders of the Ridgely Creamery Company, Inc., held their annual meeting last week when the following men were elected to serve as directors during the coming year: John Lynch, F. Seward, Dr. S. S. Stone, A. G. Saulsbury, Dr. E. F. Smith, Adam Holsinger and Frank Stevenson. The creamery has been in uninterrupted operation for two years, and during that time has paid to our farmers in this vicininy for milk and cream over $27,000. Who said the creamery could not live.

"The Greatest Kidney Remedy On Earth" Says a Grateful Woman

I want to tell you how much good your Swamp-Root did me. About four years ago, I suffered from what the doctors called fistula and for two years of that time I endured what no tongue can tell. I also had inflamation of the bladder and I tried doctors medicines without receiving any help. Someone told me about Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root.

After giving it thorough trial, I received relief, so kept on using it and today I am a strong and well woman. If I ever feel badly or out of sorts, I take Swamp-Root and it always straightens me out. I honestly believe that this medicine would cure all troubles you recommend it for and it is a pleasure for me to send my testimony and photograph to you. I think Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root is one of the greatest medicines on earth.

Respectfully yours,
MRS. JOHN BAILY,
