THE SECOND DECADE OF A WANDERING BOY

[Written especially for the KENT NEWS.]

Now as I remember where Kennedyville is their were two large and prominent families Daniel Jones who had a family of eight children, four boys and four girls, the girls married and left the county many years ago, I do not think any of them are now living, the other family were the Hudsons, they had 6 children three boys and three girls, one of the girls married Chas. Ireland, the Josiah Lusby the younger one married Eben Neal. On the other side of the Hudsons lived Samuel Kerr who had a large farm and was very prominent in the county.

Swans Tavern to the Corner farm owned by Dr. Thomas, he also owned the farm where Jas. Archibald now lives and a strip of land that ran nearly to Turner's Creek. On the left was the Dr. Chas. Tylden farm, we now come to Shrewsbury Lane one of the most beautiful spots in Kent County. It's beautiful cemetery there rests some of the people who were the best in our county, there lies some who started life's journey with me, whom I loved and respected, the beautiful old church surrounded by the monarchs of the forest. Frequently I have traveled by the church and haltered to look at the beautiful scenery and think of those whom I once associated with. On the other side of the road we come to the Dr. Whethered farm and the Benj. Merritt farm both sides of the road, then to the Bartus Piner farm, Benj. Merritt, Bartus Piner, and Dr. Wethered, were prominent men in their day. An instant happened at the Bartus Piner farm in which Nooman killed Wroth, then we go on until we come to Freeman Woodland's farm we now go on to the Colin Ferguson farm, a very prominent man in Kent County, who John D. Stam married one of the family. Now we come back where Jermiah Stoll started to build his city from that to the Sassafras River on both sides of the road belonged to the Whethered's.

Now we will go back to Still Pond Cross Roads and take the road to the old stage road to Chestertown there was the Hepbron farm, the Jos. Turner farm, the Silk farm, then owned by the descendants of Robert Morris of the Revolutionary fame, then comes the Isaac Turner farm, then around the corner comes the St. Martins, then the Jas. Hepbron farm, then the Sam Riley farm, now we come to the home of Joshua Copper, the John Norris farm around the road was the Isaac Bull property, then the Lynch property occupied by Tommy Copper who married a Miss Lynch, on further you come to John Turner property, on the other side of the road lived Joshua Walbert, they were both good citizens, from there to the stage road there was a woods that was called the Big Woods except a little farm owned by Jas. Weer, an excellent citizen who came from Philadelphia there.

Now I have told you about my father moving on the Branch farm. He had bought a hundred acres from the Green Oak farm to put to his little farm, and he had got Edward Carty to dig him a well and put him a pump in. Now comes trouble my fathers' house is burned down and all valuable papers of our family have been burned together with the contents, and the family barely escaped, without any insurance at all. It was a large house, frame, and had been occupied by my grand-father he had a large shop, to make spinning wheels, large and small ones, and he also made grain fans, and reels for winding yarn, he had Jos. Woodall, one of his relatives to help him, who had two daughters Mary who married Henry Masten, Sarah who married John Moody who is the mother of Wm. Moody. Ruth Caindy spent her girlhood days there, John Duyer the older spent his boyhood days there.

We were without a home and my father moved to a little farm near Still Pond, known as the Lewis Hepbron farm, until he could get a house built and we moved back, while my father was a stout and healthy man before the fire, his troubles overwhelmed him so that he was taken with the pleurisy and died at the age of 44 years. My mother was left with four children the youngest one being two years old. She chose one of her relatives as administrator and she lived in part of the house, the tenant occupied the other part, the farm was rented for two hundred and fifty dollars a year. My mother was a frail woman and troubles that came upon her affected her very much, so Daniel Haines who kept store at Still Pond came over and said he would take me in his store, never shall I forget his and his wife's kindness to me. I went with him he kept a large store, I stayed with him until fall, Mr. Haines went over to see my mother and told her to send me to school for three months and then I will take him back The teacher then at the old brick school-house was Clinton S. Chock, he was not a Daniel Cumins as teacher, now the venerable Geo. Webster who had lived above the schoolhouse had gone to Harford County, the house was occupied by Mrs. Margaret Raisin, she had four children, William Medford, Amanda, Sallie and Susan. Sallie has a son in Kent County who is one of the best citizens of our county, I have always had the greatest admiration for him. Now comes the time when I go back to Daniel Haines, I was received back as a near relative, he sold nearly every thing in the store, at that time our currency was queer, a fipinbit which was six cents bought two pounds of sugar, two of them bought a pound of tobacco, in a week we would take in a half bushel of copper cents.

A VALUABLE SUGGESTION

IMPORTANT TO EVERYONE

It is now conceded by physicians that the kidneys should have more attention as they control the other organs to a remarkable degree and do a tremendous amount of work in removing the poisons and waste matter from the system by filtering the blood.

During the winter months especially, when we live an indoor life, the kidneys should receive some assistance when needed, as we take less exercise, drink less water, and often eat more rich, heavy food, thereby forcing the kidneys to do more work than nature intended. Evidence of kidney trouble, such as lame back, annoying bladder troubles, smarting or burning, brick-dust or sediment, sallow complexion, rheumatism, may be weak or irregular heart action, warns you that your kidneys require help immediately to avoid more serious trouble.

Many physicians claim that an herbal medicine containing no minerals or opiates has the most healing influence An ideal herbal compound that has had most remarkable success as a kidney and bladder remedy is Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root.

You may receive a sample bottle of Swamp-Root by Parcels Post. Address Dr. Kilmer & Co, Binghamton, N. Y., and enclose ten cents; also mention the KENT NEWS, Chestertown, Md.
