SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 22, 1913.

EVERY ONE has something for which to be thankful. Thanksliving is the best kind of thanksgiving.

THE great loss to Kent and other farmers from hog cholera would certainly merit some public action on the part of the State. If there is no money appropriated for this purpose then let the coming Legislature provide for same. It is becoming alarming. One farmer near town lost 99 shoats while another counts his loss at $600 this year. What do our grangers think of it?

IN another column is found the Auditors Report. Among the items noted is that of $518.48 for labor, poultry, oysters, whisky and cigars in almshouse report. We would like to ask if this liquor was used for patients or was it a part of the menu served at the big dinner. If the latter, then we think it is time for such items to be stricken from the list. When Gov. Crothers ordered all liquors to be excluded from dinners given at public institutions he had the approval of his constituents and we feel confident our almshouse trustees will have equal support in discarding this obsolete custom.

THE Mexican situation remains unchanged. President Wilson is exercising patience and firmness which will not be wasted. He has the support of other Powers so that the rebels will soon be cut off from all supplies. In its insistence upon a constitutional government in Mexico and its steadfast and uncompromising refusal to recognize the bloodstained usurper the United States government has occupied a high plane of dignity and morality that have challenged and received the respect and admiration of the world. There can be only one outcome--the fall of Huerta and the re-establishment of law and order in Mexico. It will take some time, however, to accomplish this as the people are not law abiding and believe that "might be right."

THE ladies of the "Town Relief" are making preparations for a Bazaar and Supper to be held in Firemen's Hall, December 10th, 11th and 12, for benefit of the Emergency Hospital and Old People's Home. On Wednesday and Thursday evenings an entertainment will be held and on Friday the supper consisting of turkey, oysters, etc. There will also be on sale each evening cake, candy, ice cream and fancy articles. Full particulars given next week. A special meeting for all interested in this worthy cause will be held Monday afternoon, Nov. 24th, at 3 o'clock under the Lyceum Theatre. All are urged to come.

A GENERAL SYSTEM NEEDED.

It seems to us that one of the leaks in the Treasury of Maryland is the lavish expenditure of moneys upon institutions of learning without any definite system as a whole. Here in our State we have a multiplicity of institutions of learning of varied degrees of efficiency. Some are equipped for one line work and some for another, and some are not equipped at all; all are independent in action and accidental in origin, and therefore we have no coordination of effort or of purpose, with few results of direct profit to the State. We have a shocking inefficiency by want of resources and a shocking waste of actual resources. S. F. Hershey, Esq., grasped the situation when he said recently that the Legislature last year in a haphazard, happy go-lucky way voted nearly $1,000,000 to various institutions of higher education. Over the application of these funds the State exercises practically no supervision. Few of the beneficiaries recognize any obligation to the State. The Hopkins get a large sum, but the State, as such, cannot call on it for any expert service, and in the present state of affairs probably wouldn't welcome such service. Every institution in the State has its friends at Annapolis; those who have the best friends get the most money, and those who have no friends get no money; though all generally get a little, and do a little, and all remain little, when they might all be powerful parts of one powerful whole. Hasn't the time come for Maryland to face in some comprehensive and constructive way its problems of higher education? And isn't the State for the very reason that its system is chaotic and haphazard, in an exceptional position to put some comprehensive and constructive twentieth century scheme into effect?

THANKSGIVING.

"O Sovereign King!—for all the wealth
Of gifts Thou hast bestowed;
For peace, and happiness, and health
With which we are endowed;
For faith to know the onward way,
And strength to onward plod;
For grace which guides us day by day
Nearer to Thee, O God!
For all Thy gifts, O heavenly host!
One gift alone have we.
And one which Thou will cherish most—
A heart of love for Thee."

Something to be thankful for!

When we consider how many human beings impair their eyesights every year, by sheer neglect, those of us who have good eyes should indeed feel thankful. But we should be careful to the extreme. If you are the least suspicious of your eyes come in and have them properly examined by a graduate optomerist. No charge—glasses supplied at low cost.
