LOCAL NOTES

OLD KRIS letters from the big family of NEWS children will be published next week. A number have been received, one coming last month from Fred. Jettey.

RUMSEY ANTHONY is having erected on his farm in Queen Anne, near Chester river bridge, a large new glass structure, 16 feet in width by 80 feet in length, to serve as a hothouse. This will be the second glass structure Mr. Anthony will have for use in his hothouse business. Mr. Frank E. Duyer is doing the work. Mr. Anthony fills a long-felt want in this section.

SCHAUBER & CO. have lost three mules and a horse during the past month from unknown causes. A clean bill of health has been given their cows.

THE fine Rhode Island Red cockerel belonging to Mr. John H. Moffett took first prize at the big poultry show in Wilmington last week.

THE Strawboard mill owing to a dull market has closed for two weeks. Repairs are being made and improvements added during the "rest."

QUITE an excitement was caused in Chestertown shortly after 5 o'clock Saturday by an alarm of fire. It proved to be the big automobile of Mr. W. Frank Jarrell at his home on the avenue. In pouring gasoline in the tank an explosion took place which ignited the big can of gasoline and threatened serious results. By quick and nervy action on the part of Messrs. Geo. Baldwin, W. F. Jarrell, Chas. Ford and Chas. S. Smith the fire was extinguished. A small extinguisher obtained from J. H. Sides' home did the work before the faithful fire-fighters arrived.

A PROFESSIONAL swindler has visited many towns on the Eastern Shore during the last week, posing as a magazine solicitor. He collects the money in advance, and the magazine invariably fails to appear. Kent citizens would do well to be on the look-out for this swindler, and pay no money in advance without a display of proper credentials.

THE Secretary of the Treasury in his estimates for appropriations required for the fiscal year ending June 15, 1915, sent to Congress last week, asks for appropriations for Maryland rivers and harbors as follows: For improving the harbors at Rock Hall, Queenstown, Claiborne, Cambridge and Chester, Choptank, Warwick, Pocomoke, La Trappe, Wicomico and Manokin rivers and Tyaskin Creek, Md., $30,500. Improving Corsica river, $4,800.

A LADY from Chestertown had her pocketbook stolen in Baltimore last Saturday together with $45. She had to borrow $1 to pay her way home!

J. W. BOGGS, one of Kent's most successful farmers, slaughters hogs in a novel way. He kills the hog by shooting him with a small rifle bullet, striking him in the forehead. Mr. Boggs had a pen of 25 hogs which averaged 225 pounds dressed. He kept 1500 pounds for use of farm, 500 pounds for family use and sold $420 worth. This is fine but a farmer near Galena has sold $1200 worth of hogs this year!

THE lost shawl advertised for in the NEWS was found by James Elias and returned to its owner. Nuf sed.

A STOLEN TEAM from Pennsylvania was found by Mr. W. Y. Burke Monday and returned to the owner who paid $25 reward.

THE Baltimore Sun, in making up an "All-Maryland" football team, placed Bowen, of Washington, at half-back, and said he was without question the best half-back in the State. Ringgold Strong, also of Washington, was given a place as half-back on the second "All-Maryland" team.

A NEW DWELLING is being erected on Kent Circle by Contractor G. Harry Cannan, next to Mr. Wm. H. Lambert's cozy home.

THE cooling stations in Kent are paying good prices for milk. A farmer at Massey received $200 for his milk check last month while another got $115.

IN the opening basket ball game of the season Washington College defeated Wilmington Conference Academy Friday night 59 to 9. The locals presented an older and heavier team and at all stages of the game held the schoolboys at their mercy.

AN interesting contest closed at Bond Church last week between two sides lead by William Maslin and Miss Beulah Walbert respectively, and of course the latter won. They raised $12 for benevolences. The culmination of the contest will be a treat given by the losers.

THE John N. Dodd house was offered at public sale Tuesday but withdrawn because of no satisfactory bid. It may be purchased at private sale from L. W. Wickes, Esq., trustee. This is a nice home, in fine repair and eligibly located.

THE Cheste town market was supplied last Saturday with dressed ducks and chickens raised by Auctioneer John H. Greenwood, who has had great success with cattle and poultry. Mr. Greenwood established a stand in front of Notary Burchinal's office and soon sold out.

DON'T fail to visit Owen B. Crow's store up town. It is filled with toys, etc.

ELSEWHERE in the NEWS is the advertisement of the Globe Store which have opened a clothing Store in Chestertown, nearly opposite the Voshell house. The manager, Mr. Max Cohen, has been ill for several weeks in the Delaware Hospital at Wilmington, but is now here and assumed charge of the new store this week.

ONE of the events of Xmas week in Chestertown will be the concert by the Johns Hopkins University Glee and Mandolin Club at Firemen's Hall on Monday evening, Dec. 29. After the concert the evening will be spent in dancing.

Personal and Social

Mr. Wm. Newsome is visiting his brother, Mr. Louis Newsome. Mr. N. has had a strenuous year as chauffeur and will take a rest. During his retirement Mr. Arthur Bacon will take his place. Mr. Louis F. Newsome has removed from Quaker Neck to the Lloyd farm at I. B.

Mr. C. W. Boggs and wife, nee Miss Helen Jefferson, have removed from Davenport, Iowa, to Oklahoma where Mr. Boggs has bought the leading paper in a thriving city. Charlie is a hustler.

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Vannort quietly celebrated their 48th wedding anniversary Dec. 6th. They must be happy because "Uncle Sam" always wishes young married couples as happy a life as his has been. Mrs. Vannort agrees with him, too.

Mr. Bartus Trew, one of Kent's best citizens, says he was given up as "done for" with consumption many years ago but got a bottle of wine and tar cough syrup and was cured. He has lived to see his doctor buried and others who predicted his end and has been a hard worker all his life. He is True by name and true by nature, too. May he live to see many more years of usefulness. Mr. Bartus Trew has lived on the farm he now owns for 79 years!

Mr. J. H. Copper and wife have removed to Quaker Neck with their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. Rudolph A. Wacker, on the Wood place. Mr. Walter Copper has bought the place near the cemetery formerly occupied by his parents.

Mr. C. N. Satterfield and mother attended the funeral of Dr. Chas. Usilton in Philadelphia Saturday.

Mr. R. Thompson, who was injured in Baltimore sometime ago in a street car, is in Baltimore regarding a suit for damages against the railway company.

Mr. J. W. Davis was elected captain of the 1914 football team of Washington College at a meeting of the "W" men last Friday afternoon. Mr. Roy Woodland was elected assistant manager.

Mr. Kendall, son of Mr. Walter Kendall, will tenant the Keyser farm, near Fairlee, next year. Mr. Wm. Clark will succeed Mr. Oliver Miller.

Hon. Wm. T. Hepbron removed to Chestertown Saturday and is making his home with his daughter, Mrs. C. L. Gill, next door to Auctioneer Greenwood.

Mrs. John W. Startt has rented rooms with Mr. and Mrs. Robert Smith on High street.

Dr. August Stabler, of the U. S. Bureau of Agriculture, was a welcome caller at the NEWS office last Friday. He is an interesting talker and well versed on farm topics.

Mrs. Barker has rented the Rollison house on High street and Mr. John Hadaway goes to the Thompson house corner Kent and Cannon streets.

Mr. John Hadaway has accepted a position at Brooks' Radcliffe Mills.

Mr. Hiram G. Powell, of Caroline, visited friends in Kent this week.

Mr. D. Edgar Hurlnck, of Church Hill, has been elected Clerk to the commissioners of Queen Anne's county.

Mrs. W. O. Selby is the guest of Dr. and Mrs. J. Page Strong, of Baltimore.

Miss Edna Wickes Strong and Mr. Wm. R. Strong gave a prettily arranged dance at their home "Belle View," in honor of Miss Adelaid Golt, of Virginia. The double parlors were thrown open for dancing and decorated most beautifully with holly and lighted candles. An orchestra composed of Messrs. Wagner, Fithian and Breirs furnised grand music. A buffett supper was served to eighty guests at twelve o'clock. The dancing was continued until 2.30 a. m.

Xmas On The Go.—Already people have started to make their annual Christmas visits to see "Old Kris," at Medders & Co.'s big stores in Still Pond. These people make a specialty of Christmas Goods in great style, and it is like a trip to the city to visit Wm. Medders & Co.'s place at this time. It is no uncommon thing to see people there from distances of twenty miles or more, all enjoying the Christmas sights and making selections to please their fancy.

ROSES were cut from the yards of Mrs. H. R. Graham, and Mrs. J. P. Parrott on Thursday of this week, thermometer registered 24° several days previous.
