The Junior Chautauqua will also be interesting. Just about a year ago the work of the Junior Chautauqua began, in close connection with the bigger movement which we might call the Senior Chautauqua. Today, the words Junior Chautauqua are magic words for 10,000 children in the towns of seven States. All these children and many more, in these and five additional States are now waiting anxiously for the coming week of stories, games, folk-dancing and athletics, which is the otner spelling of Junior Chautauqua.

OFFER HIGH PRICE FOR TURKEYS

Poultry Buyers Eager to Purchase Fowls to be Delivered in Fall.

Mrs. Martha Pondell, wife of a "Turkey Neck" farmer, last week refused an offer from a poultry buyer to sell her entire flock of turkeys at a fancy price for fall delivery. Mrs. Pondell this year has a flock of turkeys which numbers 483, and they are in excellent condition. Wednesday afternoon she was offered 22 cents per pound for the entire 483 turkeys for delivery at Thanksgiving time. The buyer even offered to pay her at the same rate for all turkeys which should die between now and time for delivery—the weight to be allowed for each dead turkey to be that of the general average for all live ones delivered. While the offer was an exceedinly flattering one she refused. She expects to make more money by holding out until the holiday season. The lady also has a flock of geese of several hundred from which she expects to reap good returns.

From all parts of "Turkey Neck" come the report that the supply of poultry this season will be above the average for that section. The Milford district is the great poultry producing centre in the State, and the farmers wives on the large bayshore farms annually make as much money from their poultry as their husbands do from their field crops. From all present indications, "Turkey Neck" will ship thousands of turkeys, geese, ducks, guinea fowl and chickens this fall.—Exchange.

THE BIG BALTIMORE SEPTEMBER CELEBRATION

Thousands from all sections of the country will gather at Baltimore from September 6 to 13, to participate in the National Star-Spangled Banner Centennial celebration. President Wilson, former President Taft and former President Roosevelt have been invited and will play a prominent part in the ceremonies. Governors of thirty states and the mayors of 50 of the largest cities in the Union have appointed delegates to attend the centennial. Foreign nations will be represented by members of the diplomatic corps and some men-o'-war to take part in the great naval display which will be headed by the United Stated Steamship Constellation, launched at Baltimore, September 7, 1797, and the oldest vessell in active service in the United States Navy. Military and industrial parades, historical and fraternal pageants, carnivals on land and water, floral automobile and municipal display, fireworks, the middle states regatta, the National A. A. U. Meet, unveiling of monuments and tablets, patriotic gatherings, fraternal and military balls, exhibitions of historical relics, colonial lawn parties, and other features will afford entertainment for those who go to Baltimore to honor our national anthem, its author and the man who fought and died to present the nation.

A GALA DAY for sure. Aeroplane flights, five big bands, two miles parade cowboys, cowgirls, Indians and a riot of all bright colored trappings on the day we have Kit Carson's Buffalo Ranch with us, Tuesday, Sept. 8th.

WE will get but two chances to see the biggest show of its kind in the world. That is on Tuesday September 8th, when Kit Carson's Buffalo Ranch Wild West arrives for two performances, Chestertown, Tuesday Sept. 8th.
