ABE COHEN

Sells It For Less and Pays More For Produce. Sandy Bottom Dept. Store

It was reported that a German gunboat and a merchantman were sunk by mines in the North Sea.

A dispatch from Ostend says it is announced there that the Germans are bombarding Termonde (Dendermonde) a fortified town of Belgium, 16 miles east of Ghent. The town has a population of about 10,000.

Germans Occupy Amiens.

Amiens, about 70 miles to the north of Paris, has been occupied by the Germans after three days of fierce fighting, according to a dispatch from that city dated September 1.

A French dispatch says: "The Valley of the Somme has been abandoned. Lafere has been taken after a bloody combat. We were obliged to retire.

"The right wing of the Germans," says the correspondent, "is too far advanced and there is a chance that it will be cut and caught between two fires if the British should be found in force. Our centre is resting very well and the right wing of our army appears to be taking the offensive."

Terrific Onslaughts.

Another report says the French left has been pushed back some miles nearer to Paris, but that the Allies' center has held ground in the face of terrific onslaughts, and that their line was unbroken at any point. The French left extended from Montdidier through Roye to Noyon.

Paris the Pivot.

Whether Paris is besieged or not it surely will become the center of pivotal operations that are planned to follow any further retreat of the Allies' left wing.

The huge Krupp siege guns, which proved so disastrous to Namur, are being moved south, and it is evident that the Germans were making preparations for a siege.

A dispatch from the Russian Embassy at Rome said that in the conflict around Lemberg, in Austrian Galicia, the Austrians lost 100,000 men killed, wounded and prisoners, together with 57 cannon. A previous report placed the Austrian losses at 43,000 men. In this battle 800,000 Russians and 600,000 Austrians were engaged.

A Rome dispatch said that a telegram from Nish, provisional capital of Servia, told of a fierce battle at Jadar between 200,000 Austrians and 180,000 Servians, in which the Austrians lost 140,000 men in killed, wounded, prisoners and dispersed.

BERLIN IS CONFIDENT.

Decked With Flags, City Awaits News Of Army's Complete Triumph.

Berlin, by wireless via Sayville, L. I.—Berlin is permanently decked with flags. Confidence prevails that nothing can stay the victorious advance of the western armies.

Major Marah, the military expert of the Tageblatt, expects that the armies of Duke Albrecht and the Crown Prince will soon reach Chalons and Verdun, which can be easily masked without delaying the advance.

These towns have lost their strategic importance. Toul and Epinal (capital of the Department of Vosges), may delay the armies of Prince Rupprecht and General von Herringen, but this is unimportant. Raids in Upper Alsace are to be expected while Belfort is in the hands of the French, but this is without significance so far as the general result is concerned.

The Lokal Anzeiger points out that the taking by the Germans of La Fere means the capture of a position on the line where the population had been reassured, and which line the latest English papers received here asserted would hold out long against the Germans.

It is now revealed that Austrian motor batteries, each consisting of two 12-inch guns mounted in automobiles, have been co-operating with the German heavy artillery in the reduction of northern forts.

ENGLAND ADMITS 5,000 CASUALTIES.

Few Killed and Injured Given Out. Bulk Of Names Being Missing.

London.—The official casualties suffered by the cavalry brigade and of three of the divisions, less one brigade, of the British force in France, follow:—

Killed—Thirty-six officers and 127 men.

Wounded—Fifty-seven officers and 629 men.

Missing—95 officers, 4,183 men.

This report was received in London from the headquarters in France of the expeditionary force.

As regards the men, as distinguished from officers, it is known that a considerable proportion of the missing were wounded men who had been sent down country, and regarding whom particulars were not available at headquarters.

Among the missing are included those who have not been accounted for, and the list may comprise prisoners not wounded and stragglers, as well as casualties.

ANOTHER RUSS VICTORY.

German Reinforcements Said To Have Arrived Too Late.

London.—The Rome correspondent of the Evening Star telegraphs. "A dispatch from Vienna says that the Russians have surrounded the Austrians at Lublin, Russian Poland. The Germans who were rushed from Belgium to reinforce the Austrians arrived too late."
