Forestry Talk.—Prof. W. F. Beasley, Chief of the Bureau of Forestry of John Hopkins University, addressed some of the ladies and gentlemen of St. Paul's Church, also some interested ladies and gentlemen of Chestertown, together with the Federated Club, last Thursday evening. Prof. Beasley was enthusiastic about the old oaks in St. Paul's church yard and some members of the parish are hoping to have these fine trees "doctored." A committee was appointed at a meeting of the sewing society of St. Paul's Wednesday evening to undertake this work. The new law also prohibits the placing of signs along the road sides. This does not apply to the signs giving directions placed along theroad by the Automobile Club.

Dr. H. C. Hughes found a cent dated 1803 in front of his house on Queen street where the new street is being made.

An enjoyable and a profitable meeting was held at Fairlee Gange Wednesday. Special meeting on the 21st and an oyster scald in the near future.

RESOLUTIONS OF RESPECT.

At a meeting of the Directors of the Chestertown Bank of Maryland held on Wednesday, Oct. 7th, 1914, the following resolutions were adopted :

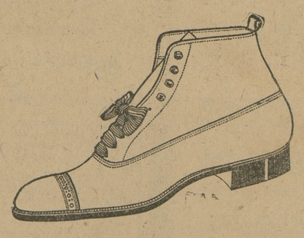

Resolved, That by the death of James S. Harris, Kent county loses and mourns one of its most upright, generous and public spirited citizens. His private and public life as well as his private honor were pure and stainless ; his business career honorable and above reproach. We offer to his bereaved family our sorrowful grief over the desolation which has come into their lives and express the hope that they will find consolation in the fact that as husband, father and citizen he was worthy the emulation of all.

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be published in one of the county papers and a copy sent to the bereaved family.

William W. Beck,
Tilghman Shafer,
Charles H. Price.

Here is the menu at Lynch supper : roast pig, fresh fish, oysters and salads, an up-to-date supper at 50 cents tonight.

Mrs. Ray, a noted temperance speaker, will be at Salem M. E. Church, Fairlee, next Sunday evening.

ROCK HALL

The Peace Sunday observance at the M. E. Church was an interesting occasion. A special peace sermon was delivered by the pastor, Rev. J. W. Prettyman. Appropriate song selections was a feature. The church was profusely decorated with flowers, plants, flags and banners. Among the decorations were the flags and banners and Bibles of the American Mechanics, Odd Fellows and Sons of America. The audience was large, and each individual was furnished with a miniature American flag, and at a given signal by the pastor, during the singing of the closing song, "My Country, 'Tis of Thee," every flag was euthusiastically waved.

Rally Day exercises were held by the Sunday School Sunday evening. A special programme was rendered before a large audience.

It is note that Peace S unday was pretty generally observed throughout the country, hundreds of thousands of peace prayers having ascended for early peace, which may be alright. But to many it has the appearance of "tommy rot" to pray for peace in Europe while this country is enacting naval appropriation bills to the tune of $141,000,000, providing among other things for the construction of two new dreadnaughts, to act as it were a chip on the shoulder while parading in foreign waters; also permitting the sale of two of our largest battleships to Greece. At the present time tremendous shipments of grain, horses and other commodities are furnished the warring countries for the prolongation of war. Sixty-seven cents of every dollar spent by this government goes for war purposes, so says "American Citizen" in last week's Press. St. Paul said, "I will show my faith by my works." This nation best do likewise.

This town was thronged with humanity on Saturday night from almost all sections of the lower half of Kent. Among them was one fool, or a drunk, who was driving his automobile in a reckless manner without lights. Ernest Keershmick and a companion were compelled to side-step to the middle of the thoroughfare to escape being run down. That indefatigable mixer and candidate, C. L. Dodd, Esq., was also among the visitors. He took in Piney Neck Friday night, and he says everything looks O. K. to him for the Democrats.

The Baltimore Sun is a most unsatissactory visitor to this place. So many times it fails to arrive until a day late. The subscribers wonder who is in fault.

Mr. T. B. Durding is the champion pumpkin grower of this section.

Mrs. Edw. Hudson, Miss Minnie Hudson and Miss Fannie Baker, of Chestertown, were entertained last week by Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Hudson.

Mr. Olin Ashley has secured a position with an insurance company in Baltimore, and Mr. Granville Ashley is also located in the city in anticipation of a remunerative position. The parents of these young men, Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Ashley, are feeling quite lonely now that three of their boys have left the home. They should not be so very lonely, as they have several interesting children still with them.

Some of our Rock Hall boys have matriculated with Strayer's Business College, of Baltimore. Among them are: Messrs. Jos. Downey, Wellington Ashley, Markley Ashley, Allen Urie, Sam'l Willson. Good luck, boys.

MILLINGTON

Mrs. Frank. L. Williams returned on Friday of last week to her home in Camden, N. J., after spending ten days at the home of her uncle, Mr. T. A. Godwin, near town.

Messrs. Howard West and William Walker, of Dover, Del., were guests last Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Ahern.

Franklin, the 9-year-old son of Mrs. Nellie Voshell, was taken to the St. Agnes Hospital, Baltimore, on Wednesday by Dr. Merritt Brice, to be operated on for appendicitis. Besides the doctor, he was accompanied by his mother and grandmother, Mrs. George Everett.

Mr. Henry M. Tonkin, of Lafayette College. Easton, Pa., spent last Tuesday with his mother, Mrs. Kate Tonkin.

Mrs. F. E. Fitch and little son, Francis, Jr., returned last Saturday after a week's stay with her sister, Mrs. P. H. Wood, Jr., of Wilmington, Del.

The regular monthly meeting of the Ladies Aid Society of Asbury M. E. Church met on Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. J. L. Smith.

Mr. John Kallip died at his home near town last Saturday of general debility. The funeral was held Wednesday morning at his late residence. Rev. G. P. Smith officiated and J. L. Smith was the undertaker. Interment in Millington cemetery. Beside his widow, he leaves one son, Mr. Thomas Kallip, at home, and one daughter, Mrs. Joseph Phillips, of this town.

Mr. J. Paul Jacobs, of Baltimore, visited his mother, Mrs. Mary Jacobs, this week.

Mrs. Anna Crane, who has been paralyzed for the last 12 years, died at her rooms at Central Hotel last Tuesday night. She leaves two sons, Messrs. John and Heber Crane, of Philadelphia, Pa., and one daughter, Miss Nan, of this town.

EDESVILLE

Be sure and don't forget the date of the festival October 17. All the delicacies of the season to be served.

"Peace" being the general theme for the sermons of last Sunday and also communion Sunday, Rev. Mr. Johnson preached a most appropriate sermon at the morning service from the text, "Our Father Which Art In Heaven, Hallowed Be Thy Name. Thy Kingdom Come. Thy Will Be Done In Earth, As It Is In Heaven."

Mr. Hydie Jone, son of Mr. and Mrs. Sterling Jones, who has been ill with typhoid fever is slowly improving.

Mrs. Fields is very ill, being threatened with appendicitis.

Miss Tabitha Wheat and Mr. Norman Nelson, of Chestertown, spent Sunday with friends down the county.

Little Miss Olivia Plummer and brother Frank, with their father, Mr. Leo Plummer, paid a flying visit to their grand parents, Mr. and Mrs. McIntyre on Sunday.

Mr. S. P. Fithian and Mr Simon Moffett left on Wednesday of this week for Washington, and from there to Fairfax, Va., to operate a machine there for T. L. Stine. They expect to be absent about ten days.

Mrs. Mollie Laughlin, of Wilmington, and Mrs. Emma Wilson, of Philadelphia, spent a few days with their father, Mr. C. B. Krusen.

The death of Mr. Harris came as a shock, although his life had hung by a thread for several days. The sympathy of the community is with his many relatives.

The leader for Sunday is Mr. William Clark. Topic, "The Christian Suggestion of Profit Sharing."

Mr. C. B. Krusen is visiting friends in Philadelphia, Wilmington and Vineland, N. J.

Miss Dorothy Medders leaves today (Saturday) for Dover Academy where she will take the full course.

Mrs. J. C. Rasin has returned from a visit to her sister in Townsend.

Mrs. Joseph Davis and little daughter, of New York, are visiting her father, Mr. George Harper.

Roses are in their glory now. The tables at Bond supper were decorated with beauties.
