BLAIR LEE SEES WILSON

Discussed Patronage With the President at White House.

A dispatch from Washington to the American dated Monday says:

"Senator Blair Lee was at the White House this morning and discussed Maryland's patronage and other matters with President Wilson to the short time allotted him for his conference. It is not at all probable that any appointment will be made in Maryland by Mr. Wilson until after the election, and every indication points to the suggestion already made in these dispatches that in the distribution of all the remaning patronage President Wilson will consult Senator Smith and will be guided by his wishes. This may not result in the appointment of none but Smith men to office, but it certainly means that there will be no more anti-Smith men appointed, as in the past."

Senator Smith Fighting Hog Cholera

A careful estimate shows that in 1913 more than 6,000,000 hogs valued at $65,000,000 died of hog cholera in the United States. This means that the over 700,000,000 pounds of dressed meat and lard, or enough to furnish every family in the land with about 35 pounds, were lost on account of the presence of a preventable disease.

In gradually increasing extent this great waste has been allowed to go unchecked for fifty years. No effort was made to deal with it until the Democrats gained the control of Congress.

Some years ago an effective serum for the cure and prevention of the disease was discovered by the Department of Agriculture. However, steps to make the discovery generally available—to use it on a large scale—were not taken until $75,000 was appropriated by the Sixty-second Congress for the study of methods by which to bring about a complete eradication of the pestilence.

So satisfactory were the results achieved with the small appropriation that in February of this year a bill was passed setting aside a fund of $500,000 for nation-wide application of the eradication work. Besides a saving for the farmers amounting to many millions, this promises to give all the people a greatly enlarged meat supply.

Senator John Walter Smith was very active in securing an appropriation for this work, having made minute inquiry regarding the loss of hogs in this State. The government acts slowly, but will leave nothing undone to eradicate the disease.

BIG DEMAND FOR HORSES

The imperial government has sent so many orders for horses to Canada that the country will be almost drained dry by the time the contracts are fulfilled. Charles Burns, of Toronto, Canada, has received an order for 10,000 head. His agents were sent to St. Louis, and there signed a contract for as many as Missouri can provide at an average of $175 a head. Already more than 2 000 have arrived at Toronto at the rate of about 500 a day.

It is estimated at Toronto that the United States will provide at least 20,000 horses and mules to be shipped to England and France within the next few months.

Through the northwestern part of Canada horse dealers have orders innumerable. Richard Restrich is trying to fill an order for 4,000 head, and believes he will be unable to get them.

British agents have orders to buy 10,000 head, and have placed an order with one local firm in St. Louis for 500 a week. The French are buying horses at the rate of 350 a day.

Russians Win Advantage in Vistula Battle

German and Austrian Forces Make Obstinate Stand Against Advance of Foe in South Poland—Czar's Troops Hold Hungarian Ground.

London.—The Ministry of War in Petrograd announces that Russia has conquered and occupied 39,000 square miles of Austrian territory, while successfully pushing vast offensive operations against the German provinces of East Prussia, Posen and Silesia.

The center of interest now is in southwestern Poland, in the province of Radom, where the Germans, having formed a junction with Austrian forces, are obstinately opposing the advance of the Russians toward Breslau and Cracow. The battle is in the initial stage, with slight advantages gained by the Russians.

The Russians have driven back the Germans from Wicclowski in Russian Poland, 35 miles southwest of Thorn in East Poland, and have fortified themselves within a few miles of the fortress of Thorn, according to a Petrograd cable.

The course of the River Vistula outlines the battle front. On the west side, Gen. von Hindenburg commanding an estimated force of 600,000 Germans and Austrians, is obstinately contesting the progress of probably 1,000,000 Russians commanded by the Grand Duke Nicholas. Toward the southwest, east of the River Dunajec in Galicia, the Russians are attacking German and Austrian outposts.

Northward of this principal theatre of operations Gen. Rennenkampf, with accessions of fresh troops and artillery, is following up his success at Augustowa and along the River Niemen. Russian troops have penetrated into East Prussia in some places, but for the most part the Russians are content to hold the Germans on the defensive along the whole East Prussia frontier. It is confirmed that the Russians are developing a strong offensive in the Mazur Lakes region in East Prussia.

Official reports from Germany declare the story of the advance of the Russian forces across the Niemen River in the Government of Suwalki is a lie, and say in the battle near Augustowo the Germans completely defeated two Russian army corps, took 3,500 unwounded prisoners and twenty guns and a number of machine guns.

Przemysl is being heavily bombarded and Petrograd says five of the forts have been silenced, while a story from Rome declares the city has fallen into the hands of the Russians.

EPITOME OF WAR NEWS

Three British aeroplanes flew 100 miles into German territory and dropped a bomb from a height of 500 feet, destroying a Zeppelin airship at Duesseldorf, was the official London report.

An official report in Paris said 1,600 German prisoners had been taken in a sharp engagement at Roye. The German and Allied cavalry were operating north of Lille, but the result was nowhere decisive.

Berlin announced slight progress for the Germans in the Argonne district in France.

Gen. Soukhomlinoff, the Russian Minister of War, said that the German invasion of Russian territory resulted in a disastrous defeat, and that no German troops are now on Russian soil. He also told of successes in Galicia.

Thousands fled from Antwerp, many going to Ostend, where the capital has been established.

A dispatch from Petrograd says there have been sanguinary fights between German and Austrian prisoners, who accuse each other's Generals of responsibility for Russian victories.

An official Berlin despatch said that in Northern France the battle was still undecided and reported repulses of the French in the Argonne and the vicinity of Verdun.

Thousands of refugees from Antwerp reached London. Holland reported an invasion of 10,000 and the Mayor of Rotterdam ordered trains to bring no more there.

Berlin also reports that the fighting on the German right wing in France has been successful and that in the assault on Antwerp two forts fell into German hands.

The Belgian Government has been removed from Antwerp to Ostend, several of the Ministers and many thousands of refugees having reached there.

Vienna reports that the Russians were defeated at a point near Tesco, in Hungary, after a battle lasting two days. The Russians retreated in haste.

The Canadian troops for service in the war arrived in British waters. They were sent inland to a camp to train for active service.

The Germans officially announce that their losses in killed, wounded, and missing, up to Sept. 1, was 117,000.

The Japanese have occupied the Island of Yap, another German possession in the Pacific, and about 1,000 miles from the Island of Mindanao, one of the group in the Philippines
