LOCAL NOTES

Mr Vernon Barnett has taken the initiative looking to the free delivery of mail in Chestertown. A petition has been largely signed and will be sent to the proper authorities. Senator John Walter Smith is in hearty sympathy with the people here and also Congressman Price, and we feel confident the move will prove successful.

The sale of cattle, horses and mules at the fair grounds Tuesday, under the auspices of Mr. Percy V. Hendrickson, was well attended and good prices realized.

An accident befell our county commissioner, Mr. Benjamin E. Crew, of near Betterton, on Tuesday. He was walking across a room at his home when his ankle turned and he fell, breaking his leg just below the knee. It was put in a plaster cast and he is doing as well as could be expected.

The Rich Neck Farmers Club has reorganized with new officers and expects to resume business shortly. Mr. James T. Anthony is president.

All tickets ordered for the minstrel show must be called for by Monday noon or they will be resold. Some of the best seats have already been taken.

The Choral Club will meet Monday night instead of Tuesday, on account of the entertainment by the Young Men's Club.

One of the biggest events of the season will be the Declamation Contest at the Chestertown High School between speakers from all the schools in the county. It will take place on Friday, March 19th.

The People's Laundry at Chestertown has established agencies in Centreville, Odessa, Smyrna, Middletown and other places. They finished over 3,000 collars one day this week, besides shirts, &c. These boys are hustlers and try to serve the public well.

The Sunday school class of Miss Mayme Thompson will hold a "March Bake" in the vacant store room adjoining S. P. Townshend's office on Court street on Saturday, March 20th, beginning at 1 o'clock sharp. Come and select your Sunday lunch.

A fine line of Columbia musical instruments and records is being handled by the Chestertown dealer, W. P. Newnam. See him before you purchase. Deal home.

The Junior Order held a splendid anniversary celebration Thursday night. Fried and stewed oysters were served in fine style by Caterer Watt at the Watt's house, Chestertown.

Declamation Contest.—The declamation contest held in Chestertown High School last Friday night was a most interesting event. This contest is the preliminary to a county contest to be held in this town. It was divided into three divisions, namely, Primary, Intermediate and High School. The Programme was as follows; Instrumental Solo by Louise Russell; declamations by five girls and two boys of the Primary; Chorus, byfive girls and three boys of the intermediate; Chorus, Misses Grace Newman, Helen Rouse, and Messrs Alvin Brown Charles Armstrong and Arthur Coleman; declamations by five girls and four boys of the High School. The Judges from Centreville rendered their decision and honors were given to: Primary girls, Marian Collins, Lida Wheat, and Mildred Weer; Primary boys, Billy Usiliton; Intermediate girls, Esther Urie Ruth Corey and Harriett Reed: Intermediate boys, Spencer Smith. High School girls, Frances Corey, Evelyn Russell and Helen Connelly: High School boys, John Collins The Judges were: Prof. Grime, Supt. of Queen Annes Schools, Miss Rose English teacher of Centreville High School; Prof. Adams, Principle of Centerville School.

25th Anniversary.—The many friends of Mrs. Wm. Carter will be glad to learn that she is very much improved and hopes to walk this year. She has been an invalid for ten years. The following interesting account will be read with pleasure: "Friends would not permit the twenty-fifth anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. William Carter, of Bellefont, formerly of Montrose, to pass by without a demonstration, in spite of their wishes for a quiet day and evening, so Friday for them proved quite eventful. Mr. Carter is one of Wilmington's most popular newspaper scribes and he has written almost everything in the news line from a personal to a "full-dressed murder," if the writer may be permitted to steal one of his own news-seeking expressions. Many friends and relatives called to extend congratulations. Fruit from Florida, candy from confectioners and dishes of different designs were included in the glittering gathering of gifts. Mr. Carter's office mates of the News presented them an attractive azalea. The plant stands over three feet high and is filled with pink blooms. Friday was also Mrs. Carter's birthday anniversary and she received many presents in honor of this date. Mrs. Carter was Miss Florence M. Cavender. Their marriage took place at the Episcopal rectory in Chestertown, Md. On that evening snow fell as it did on Friday night. There was another event celebrated at the Carter home, also on Friday—the birthday anniversary of Miss Justine Armstrong, a niece of Mr. and Mrs. Carter and she was substantially remembered by her young and old friends."

IF NOT, WHY NOT?

THIS is a very important question to you. If you have already worn one of the Hand-Made Suits of either the Adler Rochester or the High Art Brand, then you are fully acquainted with their Superior Finish and Perfect Fit. If you haven't worn one it's high time you were becoming acquainted with them, for we assure you that no such clothing was ever kept in Chestertown till Bordley & Son had the nerve to buy them. Hundreds of young men—the best dressers in Kent and Queen Anne's counties—cheerfully attest their Lasting Superiority over the trashy, ill-fitting, machine-sewed stuff being constantly offered you as made-to-measure. These suits are so constructed that they are not only a perfect fit when bought, but stay in shape in spite of wear and weather until you are tired of wearing them. We have them in every conceivable style, color and model, and in every instance from $3.00 to $5.00 less than the so-called made-to-measure trash you are being constantly importuned to buy. All we ask is to give us a trial and let us prove our assertion.

Respectfully,
