KENT COUNTY'S POET

On February 8, 1915, Frank H. Ruth, of Galena, received from Wm. H. Kenworthey, President of the Capelle Hardware Co., Wilmington, Del., an exceedingly handsome copy of Longfellow's

PSALM OF LIFE

Tell me not in mournful numbers
Life is but an empty dream;
For the soul is dead that slumbers,
And things are not what they seem.

Life is real! Life is earnest!
And the grave is not its goal;
"Dust thou art, to dust returnest."
Was not spoken of the Soul.

* * * *

Lives of great men all remind us
We can make our lives sublime;
And, departing, leave behind us
Footprints on the sands of time.

To which, on February 10, Mr. R. penned his acknowledgment with the following

LYRIC

Tell me truly, Friend Kenworthey,
Why should life be but a dream?
Whilst I tread life's rugged highway,
Is there not one beacon gleam

Far beyond this mundane dwelling—
In the distant azure height—
Where the blest their songs are swelling,
Where "a halo" now is bright?

Yes, methinks I see the beaming
Of the orb that guides my way;
All the while 'tis to my seeming
Promise of a bttter day.

Life is short "and time is fleeting,"
What the future will reveal
Is to man a certain meeting—
Life beyond the grave is real.

Ah, these footprints that another
Left upon the "sands of time,"
Are the precepts of a mother—
Pure, ennobling and sublime.

Footprints of a life's devotion,
(Trod through years of tender care)
Stir within me deep emotion—
Show the "unknown" bright and fair.

Lift the veil off our creation;
Scan life's volume—every page—
There I read "Transfiguration,"
E'en when "suns shall dim with age."

'Tis no dream—Oh! what elation,
Should I see Him face to face;
Then I'll see God's revelation
O'er Eternity's vast space.

Feel the joys of youth immortal,
Thro' eternal ages roll;
Conscious as I tread that portal,
Mine's the great unconquered soul.

BRYAN THRILLS THRONG.

10,000 Respond To Call For Total Abstinence Recruits.

As a climax to a temperance demonstration in the Billy Sunday tabernacle Monday night, a demonstration which for enthusiasm has probably never been surpassed in the history of the temperance movement in this country, Secretary of State Bryan's appeal for recruits in a total abstinence army was answered by 10,000 men and young men. Billy Sunday, who had been scheduled to speak from the same platform, was unable to be present because of his exertions during the day and need for rest to complete his campangn here. He was in Trenton.

The demonstration came at the close of one of the most remarkable speeches in his career as a temperance advocate, and Secretary Bryan was literally carried off his feet by the thousands who swept down the sawdust trails in response to his appeal for signers to pledge cards circulated through the immense audience by a host of ushers, In the scramble to enlist in the temperance army the Secretary of State was caught in the fighting, pushing, shouting, perspiring throng, and finally rescued by a detail of police summoned from a nearby substation.

The audience, when numbered more than 25,000 and filled every seat in the tabernacle, the same structure which has witnessed so many giant crowds and so much enthusiasm during the last two months, started with a song, "The Brewer's Big Horse Can't Roll Over Me." Lashed into a frenzy of enthusiasm by Secretary Bryan's arraignment of the liquor traffic and its terrible results, the throng chreered the speaker until the rafters shook.

M. E. Conference Next Week

The Forty-Seventh Session of the Wilmington Annual Conference, of the Methodist Episcopal Church will convene in Laurel, Del., on March 24th, next. Rev. George C. Williams is the Conference host. Bishop R. J. Cooke, of Portland, Oregon, will preside This will be Bishop Cooke's first visit to the Conference since he has been elected to the Episcopacy. More than ordinary interest centers upon the approaching session of the Conference. Dr. G. P. Jones, District Superintendent of the Salisbury district, will have served six years in this capacity. By the law of the church, he can no longer remain on that district.

The question that is uppermost in the minds of the clergy and the laity as well, is who will succeed Dr. Jones on Salisbury district? Several names are prominently mentioned, among them being Dr. C. A. Hill, of Immanuel Church, Crisfield; Rev. S. N. Pilchard, pastor of the Laurel church, and Rev. C. Williams, the Conference host. The Bishop has the appointing power, and "who's who" with him is the question, and that will not be known for a certainty until he reads the appointments.

The Methodist folk of Laurel are preparing to give the Conference a royal welcome.

This will be the first time the Conference has met there since 1872, when Bishop E. K. Ames presided.

THE piano recital given by Miss Marguerite Maas on Tuesday the 23rd promises to be a splendid affair. The ladies who have consented to act as patronesses on this occacion are Messieurs Thomas W. Eliason, Jas. W. Cain, Bradford Copper, H. H. Klinefelter, Curtis E. Crane, Jefferson D. Bacchus, H. Benge Simmons, W. Irving Walker, Mark Creasy, Allan A. Harris Thomas S. Bordley, Harry Jefferson, S. Scott Beck, Wm. Walter Chapman, Merrick Clements, Herbert Perkins, W, Frank Jarrell, A. Parks Rasin and H. W. Vickers, Jr.

"JOHN BAER" FIRST TOMATO PICKED THIS YEAR.

Mr. J. T. Wilson, Calvert Co., Md., August 19, 1914, writes: "'John Baer' Tomatoes are the earliest I have ever raised. They would have been very much earlier but for the long, dry season which nearly killed them; even then I was the first in my neighborhood to pick tomatoes. It is a fine tomato for table use or for canning. It has not as many seeds as other tomatoes. You can recommend 'John Baer' tomato highly for early use."

CAME FOR TEN MILES AROUND TO SEE "JOHN BAER" TOMATOES.

Mr. Thos. Howe, Washington Co., Md., writes July 30, 1914: "'John Baer' tomatoes done so fine for me I cannot say enough about them. I grew 1500 plants from the $1.00 package of seed. I picked fine ripe tomatoes from the last part of June to the last of July—300 baskets in all, selling them at $1.25 per basket and now the vines are still loaded with tomatoes. There were absolutely no cripples among them. Some of the vines had 105 tomatoes. People came for 10 miles around to see them. If I had bought one-quarter pound of the seed I should have made several hundred dollars more off the crop. Solid first, second, and third pickings. Picked every other day since starting to pick."

"JOHN BAER"—3 WEEKS AHEAD OF ANY OTHER TOMATO

Mr. R. T. Scott Nottoway Co., Va., August 24, 1914, writes: "'John Baer' Tomatoes were ready for market three weeks before any other tomato in our locality. I have been picking fine, large tomatoes off of them for over two months. I had a very successful crop."
