SWAT THE FLY

Flies hatch from eggs. The eggs are laid in filth. Fly eggs are not nice. Another name for them is fly-blows. But about the only harm which fly eggs do is to make more flies. After a few days the fly eggs hatch into maggots. Maggots are not nice, but they do not do much harm except that they make flies. The maggots crawl into dirt and in a few days they come out flies.

Flies are very busy insects. They are active all day long. During dry days they like to stay out in the grass in the yard. They can feel a rain coming before you can, so they always try to get in the house before a rainstorm. They are no fools. They like light. If a room is dark they do not like to go in it. If there are flies in the room, a good way to get rid of them is to darken the room and leave one window open and bright. The flies will fly out of this window. On a warm day you can easily persuade them to walk out into the yard or to stroll around the block. If it is getting cold in the fall or if a rain is coming up, they will stick to the house like a hungry dog to a frankfurter.

How do they live through the winter? A few lazy, logy flies can be found half dead but still living, around chimneys and warm places in the house or stable.

They will come to life just as soon as the boys get to playing marbles. An old she fly will go off to some bit of manure or garbage and lay a milliom eggs, and then in about two weeks there are flies enough—there is no danger of the stock being exhausted.

If no garbage or stable manure or filth was to be found the she flies would die and the stock might be lost. The more garbage and manure and filth there is the more flies will breed.

Don't let any manure stand in the boxes.

Don't let any garbage accumulate.

Screen the houses.

Kill the flies.

Keep everything clean.

Swat the fly. Never fail

The State furnished 100 treees to the county and under the direction of Mr. H. L. Boyd the school children planted them along the State road in front of Mr. W. Frank Jarrell's farm.

Mr. Applegarth, State Road Engineer, is making a decided improvement along the state roads of Kent and Queen Annes. Grass seed is being sown and when completed the road will look fine.

Abe Robinson had his right hand severely cut and lacerated while grinding ice Saturday morning to be used in his ice cream business. Dr. Whaland gave him surgical attention.

While returning from church last Sunday morning the auto driven by Mr. John H. Clendaniel skidded and turned over near Kennedyville. Mr. Clendaniel's arm was broken near the wrist while Mrs. Clendaniel was somewhat shocked by the accident. They made a lucky escape. Dr. F. B. Hines rendered medical aid.

The Rich Neck Farmers Club held an enjoyable meeting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clifton L. Jarrell on High St. Thursday evening. After the meeting the club members and guests enjoyed a delightful dinner. During the meeting a resolution was passed requesting President Patterson, of the Maryland Agricultural College, to remain as the head of that institution. A resolution was passed congratulating Mrs. Jarrell on the donation of her front room for a rest room for country ladies. The leading subject discussed was the new system of slacking lime with saw dust instead of lime and Messrs. James T. Anthony and W. Irving Walker upon being interviewed, think that the matter is well worth investigation. The meeting was one of the most successful and largely attended for some time. Mr. Koeler, farm demonstrator of Queen Anne's, was among the guests.

POLITICAL REFLECTION OF AN EASTERN SHOREMAN.

To the Editor of the Sun—Sir:

The sentiment for our candidate for Govenor seems to be growing. The political bees seem to be troubling one of our young men for Comptroller? There is a sentiment with our people that our people should satisfy our Western Maryland Congressman. He is an excellent man, and would make an excellent Comptroller. Now the Congressman has done a lot for the people of Maryland and why shouldn't the people favor his friend? The question arises, Why should our junior Senator want to be the executive of the State at this particular time? The people have not very long ago elected him by a large majority to the Senate. Does he think if he is not Govenor, with the patronage that he can't be his own sucessor? Now wouldn't it be very well for him to go way back and sit down until the time comes for electing his successor?

I read in your paper of Thursday, April 1, 1915, the announcement of our banker as a candidate for Comptroller. It looks very much as if it is the hands of the banker, but the voice of the junior. We have not been able to find the looseness in the present methods of the office to adopt a proper accounting system or a guess system of the tax rate. The present incumbent of that office, a business man, a man of ability, a man of integrity, and his head clerk whom we well know is no guesser, stands as an accountant as high as any man in this State. Do I understand that if he and his friend, the junior, are successful would they advocate a constitutional convention to tear up and break down all of these important commissions that we have in the State? I think you will find that the people of this State are opposed to a constitutional convention.
