Riding Cultivators

Our "Easy" Buckeye Cultivator is the simplest, neatest, strongest and LIGHTEST on the market. Has single tongue, 42-in. steel wheels and square tube steel frame.

The construction of the balanced frame gives the operator at all times an unobstructed view of the work ahead and eliminates all neck-weight and flying up of the pole.

It has eight teeth, the two inside teeth being independent. The wheels may be adjusted for wide or narrow rows, as wide as 47 inches or as narrow as 37 inches.

By the use of the balance lever all weight is removed from the horses necks.

You can come nearer hoeing corn with an "EASY" Buckeye than with any other Cultivator.

MR. BARROLL'S CANDIDATE FOR SENATOR

"Democrat" Lauds the Farmer, But Does Not Think He Has All the Strength of a Nation's Citizenship and a Man's Political Aspirations Should Not Be Put on the Ground of His Occupation.

MESSRS. EDITORS:—On the first page of last week's issue of the Barroll organ Mr. J. Elwood Morris is introduced to the people of Kent county as the Anti-Organization candidate for the State Senate. In the opening sentence the Barroll scribe makes use of that extravagant style which he adopts on all occasions whenever the interests of the Barroll faction are involved, directly or indirectly. Of course, there is a semblance of truth in what he says, but he has the faculty of working a modicum of truth so hard that it finds itself unable to stand the pressure of everything for which he desires to make it responsible. Consequently there comes a time when the apparent truth comes near to being a—well, the opposite.

The article in question begins by saying: "There has been an insistant demand from all sections of the county for a business man for State Senator, rather than a lawyer." This, I suppose, is, in a sense, true. It is very likely that in all sections of the county there is some representative of the Barroll faction; this representative is compelled to demand some man other than a lawyer, because the Barroll faction seems to be rather shy on professional men. It is therefore necessary for the Barroll organ to get busy now and appreciate the occupation of the farmer, and depreciate the profession of the law. By that same token, the trade of the master mechanic is denounced as an unfit preparation for a county commissioner; he must be a farmer. They may go further and say that Dr. E. A. Scott will never do for a Judge of the Orphans' Court, he must be a farmer; that Mr. Howard Turner won't do for the House of Delegates, that man must he a farmer—and so on down the list. Wonder why a farmer wasn't put into the postoffice!

Then, too, it seems to imply that the farmer is the only business man the county produces. When has it been that the farmer has been elevated and the lawyer been ousted from the class known as business men? If I know anything about it, the farmer is called upon many, many times to employ the lawyer to transact his business for him. And doesn't it seem a little anomalous that the lawyer is not to be mentioned in connection with an office that has for its specific function the making of laws?

But, while the Barroll organ seeks to make the impression that a lawyer is not the man to go to the legislature, he adopts, unconsciously no doubt, an apologetic tone; which, if Mr. Morris is at all keen to notice, damns him with faint praise. If one takes the pains to analyze the sentence: "'Tis true he is not a brilliant lawyer, or an eloquent orator," one will easily sense, not a self-gratification that such is the case, but rather a feeling of regret that Mr. Morris does not possess those qualifications. So. Mr Morris, you can just rest assured that you are backed by the Barrollites with a sort of regret that you cannot meet Mr. Beck upon the same level of fitness and proficiency.

Then with that assumption of superiority which is so manifest in everything he writes, the Barroll scribe goes on to credit Mr. Morris with "good, sound, business judgment; accurate knowledge of the needs of his home people; fine intelligence." This of course implies that Mr. Beck has none of those qualities. The junior editor goes still further, and, in spite of his declaration of some weeks ago that he had decided to conduct the campaign along lines of decency and fairness, refraining from all personal invective, he takes the pains to refer to Mr. Beck as a "shrewd" lawyer, a man legislating for his own interests, and disregarding the "business and agricultural interests of the county." Such an arraignment as that is so redolent of prejudiced partisanship; so manifestly unjust; in the minds of thinking people, so impolitic; to conscientious people, so untrue; to the general public so weak, that we wonder why such trash should appear in the columns of a newspaper edited by a college graduate, an ex-school teacher, postmaster of Chestertown, and a man who should possess some of those fine qualities he so generously attributes to Mr. Morris.

Some of those laws he abuses the Organization for are those that pertain to the improvement of the public school system; the abatement of the liquor traffic; equalization of taxation; beneficial change in the water system; municipal street building, etc. And, be assured, Mr. Beck, had you failed to bend your efforts in the direction of these salutary measures, you would have been just as surely attacked by the agile anti-scribe. Whether you do or do not, you are equally guilty. The junior editor can argue just as speciously on whichever side suits his convenience. If this year it suits him to back Gorman, and defeat Lee, next year he can slobber all over Lee. He "cussed" John Walter Smith, but in the late Senatorial fight, the Barroll organ was wonderfully silent. He has been waging Mr. Dixon's candidacy for county clerk with more energy than Mr. Dixon himself; but let Mr. Dixon declare himself, and then see how he will suffer from the pen of the editor when the present Clerk's virtues are compared to Mr. Hadaway's. But the merest tyro in politics can see that the Barroll plan in the Dixon candidacy is only to split the Organization vote. This evident intention is so inconsistent with the expressed reason for the support given to Mr. Dixon, one can not fail to see that it is an example of that general insincerity of conviction, and that readiness to say or do anything that will secure a vote for the Anti-Organization.

Now, Messrs. Editors, I would not have Mr. Morris, nor any other farmer, imagine for one moment this article is intended to insinuate in the remotest way that the farmer is unfit to represent the people in any capacity whatever. The farmer is the backbone of any county, state or nation. A substantial yeomanry constitutes the wealth of any community; and, as an occupation, that of the farmer has them all beat in point of importance and independence. The farm is the source of a nation's welfare, and well would it be if the young men of the land would stick closer to the field of their fathers. All honor to the farmer! But, the farm does not contain all the strength of a nation's citizenship; other walks in life produce strong men to do battle for local and national rights, and it ill becomes any man, even in the heat of a political controversy, to belittle a man's aspirations for political recognition on the ground of his occupation—be he lawyer, doctor, farmer, capitalist, merchant, barber, teacher, welldigger—or what not.

DEMOCRAT.

DEATHS

Mr. James Wood died at the home of Miss Sallie Scotten, near Locust Grove Wednesday evening last of heart trouble, aged 64 years. He was a brother of Mr. William Wood, of Worton, and Mrs. Mary Lecates, of Chestertown. Funeral services will be held at Union M. E. Church at Worton this Saturday afternoon at three o'clock. Interment will be in Union cemetery. Undertaker William H. Krusen in charge.

Mary Helen, beloved wife of Mr. George C. Lee, and fond daughter of Capt, Chas. R. and Maggie A. Kerr, died at her home in Fairlee Sunday night after just one week's illness of typhoid fever, aged 25. She was a sweet, even-tempered lady and one who made friends wherever she went. She leaves a husband and a year old daughter The funeral took place at Rock Hall on Wednesday at 2.30 p. m., interment at Wesley Chapel, Rev. J. W. Prettyman, officiating; Casey Bros., undertakers. The bearers were Chas. G., Frank, J. S. Kerr, Chas. S. Porter, Mahlon and Harry I. Lee.

Harry B. M. Steele died Wednesday morning at the home of his mother, Mrs. Enoch Pleasanton, in Chestertown. He had been sick for several months, and everything possibe was done for his comfort He was 21 years of age and leaves a mother and several sisters. He was a young man of good character and well liked by all who knew him who now mourn his loss. The funeral will take place this (Saturday) afternoon at 2 30 from the home of his mother, Mrs. Pleasanton. Dr L E. Parrett will officiate. The bearers will be Merrick Horn, Eli Elliott, Harvey Blyman, Edgar Clark, Graham Nelson and Bryan Newton Interment in Chester cemetery; J. E. Ferguson, undertaker.

DISTINGUISHED GUESTS.

Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Hubbard are entertaining Lady Hope, of London, widow of Admiral Sir James Hope, quite a distinguished guest. She was born in Australia. She has been interested in uplift and charitable work a great many years. She organized the first workmen's coffee house in England and various social organizations for domestics, etc. Lady Hope is a well-preserved little woman, probably on the far side of sixty. Roses still bloom in her cheeks. Her light blue eyes sparkle and flash with pleasure when she enters upon a description of the many things in the United States. She is expected to be at Christ Church Sunday School Sunday afternoon. Dr. Kelley, the great surgeon, and Dr. Davis will also be guests of Mr. Hubbard while in town.

We know you like good, pure Ice-Cream, and you should do so

Pure Ice Cream! Has the thought ever entered your mind, while enjoying a plate of cream under what conditions it was manufactured?

Did you ever investigate the plant in which the cream you have been in the habit of buying is made?

Do you appreciate the fact that there are different qualities of Ice Cream sold at exactly the same price that good, pure cream can be obtained for?

To produce absolutely pure, wholesome Ice Cream, the manufacturing plant and general conditions must be sanitary from the foundation. Cleanliness must be the watchword. Good material the substance. Careful and clean help in attendance.

Ice Cream is a Pure Food Product—a Wholesome Product—an Appetizing Product—if you know that is manufactured under absolute cleanly conditions.

Ice Cream manufactured by the Chestertown Candy Kitchen at their establishment on the corner of High and Cross Streets, is made under strict sanitary conditions, from the best products the markets afford, and cost you no more than the inferior grades sold elsewhere.

The Chestertown Candy Kitchen solicits your business for home use. They serve the family trade as well as dispense their Pure Ice Cream and Fancy Ices in boxes or packed, Soda Waters, Fancy Sundaes, etc., at their store at High and Cross Streets.

ACCIDENT ON QUEEN ST.

In Attempting To Cross Street In Rain, Twelve-Year-Old Girl Badly Injured By Automobile—In a Serious Condition.

Evelyn, the twelve-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Bennett, while attempting to cross Queen street, returning from an errand was run into by Dr. Metcalfe, of Sudlersville, and knocked to the street. Her jaw was broken, several teeth knocked out, her shoulder injured or broken, her limbs and body bruised and lacerated, and she now lies at the home of her parents in a condition if not critical, is certainly pathetic.

An eye witness of the pathetic accident states that the child saw an automobile that was down Queen street and that the driver saw the child and stopped his car. Dr. Metcalfe's car was going in the opposite direction, and he did not see the child until it was too late. He then applied the emergency brake at once, but the child, her head covered by a shawl to protect her from the rain, rushed across the street, coming in contact with Dr. Metcalfe's then slowly moving car.

Dr. Metcalfe jumped from his car and took the child—who had crawled from beneath the auto—in his arms and carried her into the office of Dr. H. G. Simpers, directly in front of whose residence the accident had occurred, where both doctors worked on her.

All was done for her here that could be done, when she was removed to her parents home on Riverside Terrace and is doing as well as can be expected.

W. C. T. U Meeting.—At the County W. C. T. U. executive meeting held on May 26 it was decided to hold in the near future in Chestertown an Institute with Temperance Rally at night. Dates and speakers will be duly announced. On account of State and National conventions coming at an early date, to complete the county work, Unions are urged to collect and pay dues to county treasurer at once. Suggestions for Flower Mission Day, June 9th, were given, Mrs. Bryan, of Chestertown, Supt. Mrs. John White, of Fairlee Union was appointed Supt. of Health and Heredity. A resolution of thanks was voted to the Federated Club for supplying a long needed rest room. As an outcome a waiting visitor became so much interested in the work that she became a member. A generous bunch of peonies was left for decoration, together with a more substantial offering to help defray the running expenses of the Rest Room.
