DEATHS

Bernard J. McCauley, one of Kent's foremost citizens, died at his home near Galena on Thursday after a short illness, aged 72. The deceased was born in Philadelphia in 1843, a son of Dennis McCauley, who was born in Ireland, and was of Scotch-Irish ancestry. At the age of eight years he came to Kent and in 1856 attended the Mt. St. Mary's College until 1860. Three years later he took charge of his father's farm and has since devoted his time to agricultural pursuits. He had 500 acres of rich and arable land, which he so managed as to add greatly to its value and attractive appearance.

On the 7th of January, 1864, he married Miss Ella A., daughter of Simon and Ann Woodall, of Georgetown, and they became the parents of thirteen children, seven of whom are now living; Bernard R., Andrew W., Herman, Francis A., Mrs. Holt Woodall, Mrs. Dr. E A. Scott, Mrs. Wilson Cochran. He was an earnest and devoted communicant of the Catholic church, a citizen of intelligence, of sound judgment and a valuable member of the community. He was a lover of music and his home was a centre of many social occasions of great joy. Hospitable and kind, respected and esteemed by all who knew him.

The funeral will take place at 11 A. M. today, service at St. Dennis' Church, Galena.

Capt. James Hyland, 59 years old, 1729 McHenry street Baltimore, an employe of the Sewerage Commission, was stricken with heart disease and dropped dead while at work on Kate avenue, near Reistertown road, Monday afternoon. After the man was pronounced dead by Dr. James T. Akehurst, 4012 Park Heights avenue, he was taken to his home in the Northwestern district ambulance. He had spent most of his life in Kent on the water and knew our river and bay perfectly. Mr. Hyland is survived by his widow, Mrs. Anna Hyland, three sons Harry John and Beverly Hyland, one daughter, Mrs. Charles Bear, five brothers and one sister.

The bearers were R. L. W. Crouch, Jos. A. Ashley, Romie Crouch, Wm. Hyland, Lewin Hyland, Walter Elburn. C. L. Dodd, Undertaker. Rev. Johnson officiating. Interment at Wesley Chapel Thursday morning.

The funeral of Mrs. Mary Gore Thomas, who died on Friday last, took place Monday morning at her home 407 North Carey street, Baltimore. The services were conducted by the Rev. Dr. J. P. Wright of Brookland, D C, assisted by the Rev. Dr. J. P. Nicholson and the Rev. J E. Amos; of Baltimore. Burial was in Mount Oliver Cemetery. Mrs. Thomas left surviving her six children—Misses Carrie C., Mattie T. and Sadie G. Thomas, of Baltimore; Mrs. B. Tilghman Hudson, of Kent county; Edward G. Thomas, of Atlanta, and Walter D. Thomas, of Richmond, Va.

The levy list will be published next week. It was handed to us this week but owing to rush of work, deferred for a week.

The will of David James Blackiston, of Cumberland, was probated Tuesday. It bears the date of May 11, 1914, and with the exception of minor bequests, leaves the entire estate to Richard S. Bell, attorney, who has been associated with Mr. Blackiston for a number of years, and Elizabeth H. Tinker, daughter of the Rev. William M. Tinker, principal of the Allegany County High School Miss Tinker is a Bryn Mawr student. The Tinker family has been occupying the handsome residence of Mr. Blackiston on Washington street, who made his home with them. Mr. Blackiston states in his will that he gives "nothing whatever to my sister, Mary Jane Blackiston, because I have heretofore given her a house and lot in Chestertown, Md., and the insurance on my life is assigned to her." He gives nothing to his nephews, A. Houston and George Peare Blackiston, as "they now have sufficient to themselves without anything from me."

Dr J. E. Graham says he picked his first ripe tomatoes last Friday. Mr. S. Vannort's expert gardener also picked his first ones same day.

Matinee Races at Chestertown.

The matinee horse races at Chestertown on Monday, July 5th promise to be great. Forty-eight horses have been entered which is the largest list known for an Eastern Shore Matinee. The fine Greensboro Brass Band will furnish music. The racing will begin at 1 30 sharp. Don't miss them.

We understand that some of Rowdy Boy's rivals will be here to try and take his scalp, a hot race can be looked for that day between some of the best horses in the state.

FOR REGISTER OF WILLS; GEORGE W. SUTTON.

With a unanimity that forebodes victory many good Democrats have rallied to Mr. George W. Sutton, of near Locust Grove, as the candidate for Register of Wills in the coming primaries. Mr. Sutton needs no commendations from the News for he is a well known Second District tenant farmer. A man of the highest integrity, a good Democrat and an untiring worker in and out of season. He is master of Kennedyville Grange which shows the esteem in which he is held by those who are his neighbors. He is not wealthy in worldly goods but he has an abundance of those things which should count for more.

He has never been before the people before and we predict a rousing majority for him. You don't find them any better than George W. Sutton. He has not a word to say against his opponent except he thinks that one office at a time should be sufficient for any man. Mr. Sutton is capable, deserving and appreciative.

HARRINGTON IN KENT.

Addresses Open-Air meeting At Rock Hall.

COUNTY CANDIDATES THERE

Senator Beck and Howard Turner Speak.

A rousing open-air massmeeting took place at Rock Hall, in lower Kent Saturday night in the interest of Comptroller Emerson C, Harrington, Democratic candidate for Governor, who made an address outlining his platform, and was accorded an enthusiastic reception.

Mr. Harrington impressed the hundreds present with the fact that he was in this campaign determined to win. He had the audience with him, and his speech was frequently interrupted with applause. He told of the fight in the last Legislature for the rights of the oystermen and commended the men who made it. He said if nominated and elected Governor he would treat Baltimore city fairly and give an administration that would be progressive, businesslike and honest.

The speaker said he was the first man in the Stat to suggest the budget system for the financial affairs of Maryland, but that since that time a number of public men, both in Baltimore and outside the city, had advocated the same thing.

Pledges Economy.

He declared he would promise an economical administration and pointed to his reports to the last legislature, in which he showed he warned against extravagance in appropriations, and said he would not permit the State to spend money in excess of its receipts.

The Comptroller paid a glowing tribute to Congressman Lewis, of Western Maryland.

With much earnestness he pledged to the people of the whole State that he would be his own boss if elected Governer and would allow no man to dictate to him. He said his public record, both as Comptroller and as a public official in Dorcheeter County, showed that he would fill the chair of Governor in a fearless, honest and unbossed manner.

W. Thomas Kemp, of Baltimore, the attorney for the Oystermen's Protective Association, told of the work Comptroller Harrington had done for the people of the State. W. Purnell Hall also spoke along similar lines.

Beck and Turner speak.

Senator W. W. Beck and Howard Turner, candidates for renomination to the Senate and House, respectively, were also called for by the crowd and made enthusiastic speeches for Harrington, Ritchie and McMullen and told of Mr. Harrington's fight for the people in the last Legislature.

The Rock Hall meeting was held on the street, with the Rock Hall Brass Band furnishing music. The Harrington people are confident of carrying the county by a good majority.

Mr. C. Frank Wheatley, of Rock Hall, introduced the speakers. Every candidate on the local organization ticket was present.

EDESVILLE

The S. D. A Camp meeting will begin this week at Hamilton, Baltimore Co., and continue until the 4th of July.

Mrs. Blackston, mother of Mr. Columbus Blackston, is quite ill at her home near Rock Hall.

Mr. Jack Scoone, severely injured his hand on last Wednesday. He was preparing to make his run to Tolchester, and in cranking his machine it came back, striking his hand and breaking several bones.

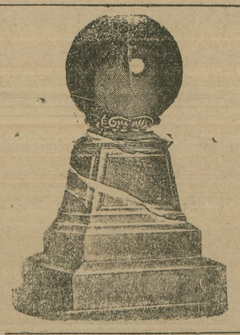

Many farmers in our vicinity have begun cutting wheat.

The Children's Day service was held at Wesley Chapel Church last Sunday morning. The church was tastefully decorated with ferns and many flowers. The children all did splendid, the little tots excelling themselves. Miss Clara Coleman touchingly recited a most beautiful poem. Rev. H. W. Johnson made an address. The music too was especially fine, under the direction of Mr. Charles Judefine and the choir composed of Mrs. Charles L. Miller, Mrs. Elmer Leary, Mrs. Shallcross, Mrs. S. P. Fithian, Mrs. M. T. Miller; Misses Buy Leary and Helen Wagner, Mr. M. T. Miller and Mr. Davis. Miss Helen Wagner and Margaret Burgess instructed the Children.

Rock Hall was all alive on Saturday night especially at Cross and Main St., where there the speaking was held.

Our next Governor, Hon. Emerson C. Harrington was received with much applause, for the reason that Mr. Harrington represents the people and seemingly to take pride in the fact, that he came from the country, from honest humble parentage and has attained his present position only by his own ingenuity. "Who could know the need of the people" said he "better than one who was raised amoung the people."
