HARRINGTON TO CARRY OUT PROMISES

Comptroller Emerson C. Harrington spent a busy day Wednesday in his home town of Cambridge, for in addition to receiving congratulations from many scores of friends upon his winning the Democratic Gubernatorial nomination in Tuesday's primaries over Senator Blair Lee, he was called upon to serve as one of the pallbearers for the funeral of W. Lake Robinson, Clerk of the Court of Dorchester County.

Mr. Harrington's statement was as follows:

"Of course, as a successful candidate, I am much pleased with the result of Tuesday's primaries. I went into the campaign with the determination honorably to do all in my power to win the nomination, but also determined to conduct a clean campaign and gracefully to accept the result, whether it be for or against me.

"Our state-wide primary gives to a candidate an excellent opportunity to know his state and its people and should be of valuable assistance to him in the campaign for election. The unpleasant part of it is that for the time being there exists a divided household. But when the primaries have spoken there should be a uniting of forces for the final contest.

Bears No Ill Will.

"I come out of the primaries with cordial and friendly feelings toward all of our opponents, and I am certain that I have no enemies from the contest.

"I shall expect the Democratic convention to adopt such a platform as will not only enlist the support of all Democrats, but commend itself to the entire electorate of the state.

"If elected I shall give my entire time to the service of the state and shall know but one duty: to serve the best interests of all our people. I have confidence in my ability to do this, and I know that I have sufficient manhood and backbone to live up to my pre-eletion promises.

"I do not desire to enter into any further discussion of the issues of the campaign until we can obtain the collective wisdom of the Democratic State Convention.

THE Ford runabout owned by Mr. J. Hall Denny was turned over between Worton and Chestertown Monday when Mr. Roy Barnett, who was driving, lost control of it, and run it in a ditch. No one was hurt. Mr. Thomas Dixon, Jr., accompanied him.

There are six buildings being erected within view of a person standing on Kent Circle, viz, the new public school, three residences on Mr. Vernon Place, Mr. G. Frank Clark's, Mr. Thos. W. Eliason's and Abe Robinson on Prospect street.

Mr. William T. Duyer is having his house on Cannon street painted an attractive color. The M. P. Church is also being painted.

LEAGUE ON EXCURSION

West Baltimore Epworthians on Trip to Chestertown.

Having aboard 1400 members of the West Baltimore District Epworth League the steamer Louise arrived at Chestertown Monday on the annual excursion of the association, the proceeds of which will be devoted to the Methodist Hospital Fund. Special exercises were held in the Methodist Episcopal Church.

There was a band of music aboard and on the trip down the Bay popular selections were rendered. While passing Fort McHenry the band played the national anthem, the Star-Spangled Banner. Mr. and Mrs. James V. Christy and Miss Mildred Wittes entertained the members of the league with musical and humorous selections.

On arriving at Chestertown the members of the league repaired to the Methodist Episcopal Church where a special meeting was held. Rev. J. F. Heisse, pastor of Union Square Methodist Episcopal Church, delivered the opening prayer. Addresses were delivered by Rev. L. E. Barrett and James T. Anthony, Rev. W. W. Barnes, superintendent of the West Baltimore District; Rev. George Peck, pastor of the First Church, and Rev. R. L. Wright, superintendent of the Methodist Hospital. While some of the members attended the meeting, others watched a base ball game between the Chestertown and Star baseball teams, on the College diamond. The visitors won 4 to 3. About 500 were served luncheon in picnic style on Kent Square and everything was in beautiful style. At 5 o'clock the excursionists turned their faces homeward, reaching there about 10 p. m.
