A GREAT GATHERING OF DEMOCRATS!

Convention Lasts Five Hours—Standard Bearers Nominated Amid Great Enthusiasm—Discussion Over Platform—A Healthy Sign.

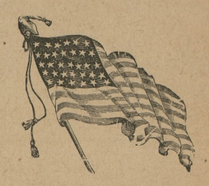

A SPLENDID PLATFORM

The Democratic State Convention Thursday put through the program prepared by the Harrington-Smith forces, but only after a five-hour session in which the Lee-Preston people, lead by Mayor Preston and City Solicitor Field, made a tremendous fight for a resolution offered by the Mayor, pledging annexation along the lines advocated by the city administration; promising the city control of the finances of the Police, Liquor License and Park Boards, and declaring for certain amendments to the Primary Election law, most of which were included in the platform framed by the Smith people.

The convention, which was to have met in the Academy of Music at noon, was not called to order until nearly 2 o'clock. It adjourned at 7.15 o'clock. Fully three-quarters of the time it was in session was taken up with the fight made by Lee-Preston people on the floor of the convention and in the resolutions committee. Gen. Murray Vandiver, chairman of the State Central Committee, called the convention to order and John Hubner, of Baltimore county, former President of the State Senate, presided. Oliver H. Bruce, Jr., of Allegany county, and John A. Mackintosh, of Caroline county, were the secretaries.

Nominations Ratified.

Late in the session the nominations of Emerson C. Harrington for Governor, Hugh A. McMullen for Comptroller and Albert C. Ritchie for Attorney-General were formally ratified. Mr. Harrington's name was placed before the convention by his friend and schoolmate, Thomas W. Simmons, of Dorchester county, E. Clark Fontaine, of Worcester, seconded the nomination. Mr. McMullen was placed in nomination by James A. McHenry, of Allegany county, and his nomination was seconded by Congressman David J. Lewis and others. Mr. Ritchie was nominated by State Senator William J. Ogden, and Robert H. Carr made the seconding speech.

The Platform.

The main plank of the platform, as adopted, is a promise to institute economy and efficiency in the management of the State affairs and, to that end, a commission is named to study the situation and recommend a comprehensive plan of reform to the next Legislature, in accordance with the idea suggested by Comptroller Harrington during the primary campaign. This commission is composed of Dr. Frank J. Goodnow, president of Johns Hopkins University.

James Alfred Pearce, former judge of the Court of Appeals.

Philip D. Laird, former chairman of the Public Service commission.

Joseph D. Baker.

B. Howell Griswold, Jr.

State Senator William Milnes Maloy.

Frances Neale Parke.

The platform also contains a plank promising the city complete control of its harbor and pledging fair treatment to both the city and the counties (Baltimore and Anne Arundel) in any extension which may be made of the city limits in the surburban area. This phase of the plank was regarded by the Smith people as implying a pledge of reasonable annexation.

Main Planks In The Platform

Indorsement of President Wilson and the national Administration.

Appointment of commission, headed by Dr. F. J. Goodnow, to prepare a plan for a reorganization and reform in the State's financial system.

A plan to abolish useless offices, to eliminate waste and duplication, to install the budget system and to enforce the most rigid economy in the State government and in the Legislature.

A declaration upon the subject of annexation in favor of giving the city complete control of its harbor and of such legislation as will be just to city and counties in a reasonable extension of the city limits.

A plank promising the abolition of the fee system wherever it can be done without prejudice to economy and efficiency.

A pledge to extend the Baltimore City Primary Election law to all the counties and to abolish the envelope system.

An indorsement of the home rule amendment and a pledge to enact the necessary legislation to make it effective.

A pledge to introduce a uniform system of accounting in all State offices, and to consolidate the State fishery force, State Game Warden, Shellfish Commission and State Forestry Board into conservation commission.
