"The Thinkers of the Country Are the Tobacco Chewers"— said one of the greatest thinkers this country ever produced.

Will It Be Ball or Strike?

SHALL he slam it between short stop and center field, or try for the fence? Here's need for a true eye, quick judgment, with every muscle and nerve at attention!

Crack! He's keyed up to just the right pitch by a mildly stimulating chew of the famous

PIC NIC TWIST 5¢

CHEWING TOBACCO

When he's back on the bench, he won't feel the "let down" that comes of chewing strong, black tobacco. There's complete tobacco satisfaction in long-lasting PICNIC—the TWIST of perfect chewing leaves of a richly mellow taste.

Look for it in 5c twists or in the drum of 11 twists.

BOY CONFESSES ARSON

Twelve-Year-Old Negro Admits Burning House In Kent

Caught Trying To Repeat, "Jimmie" Washington Admits Starting Two Fires to the News Reporter.

John W. Marshall, assistant State fire Marshall, was in Kent last week investigating the burning of the Gale mansion, at Worton Manor, January, 9. This house was owned by Mrs. A. B. Costello, who was in Baltimore at the time, and there had been no fire in the furnace for a week. The tenant, Mr. Allen, and daughter saved part of the furniture. The loss was put at $9000.

Saturday mording Mr. Famous and State's Attorney Vickers arrested a colored boy about 12 years old, who, confessed. The boy is named Jimmie Washington, and was brought to Kent by Mrs. Costello about four years ago. He had been intrusted with making the fires and doing chores about the house,

The boy could not give any reason for his act, except to say he wanted to see the fire. The first time the boy was suspicioned of the deed was this week.

A bungalow had been erected on the farm where Mrs. Costello and her tenant lived. While contractor A. M. Culp's men were at work erecting a new $10,000 house Tuesday morning the workmen discovered a fire in the bungalow and at once went and extinguished the blaze. The boy admitted having early in the morning set fire to some papers in a box couch. But when he put down the top the blaze was smothered. Then while the family was at breakfast he went up in the attic and set fire to curtains, and it was the smoke from this last fire that attracted the attention of the carpenters.

"Jimmie was seen by the NEWS reporter and stated the circumstance, of the Gale mansion fire. Said he, "I got up at midnight, saw some newspapers sticking out of one corner of the building and set fire to them. I then went back to bed and was called by Miss Allen." The boy will be held for action of Kent's grand jury, which meets here Monday, October 18.

FIRST CALL FOR BIG HORTICULTURAL SHOW.

Premium lists are out for the annual Maryland Week Exhibition to be held at Baltimore on November 16-20, 1915. Maryland Horticultural Association, State Crop Improvement Association, State Dairymen's Association, and State Beekeepeers' Association, has come to be one of the leading agricultural and horticultural shows of the East. The list of awards this year, covering all classes of native fruits, decorative and flowering plants, nuts, vegetables, household goods, grains and other farm and dairy products, promises one of the largest and best exhibitions in the history of the organizations.

WASHINGTON WINS 30 to 0.

The Polytechnic Institute eleven, of Baltimore, was no match for Coach Kibler's team Saturday and was snowed under by the score of 30 to 0

The defensive work of Healy at right tackle for Washington was particularly brilliant, while Captain Larmore also did excellent.

The work of the entire backfield was very good, but the line seemed a little weak. Frampton played his first game in the backfield and ran the team well. A feature also was the forward passing of Enright and the catching of the passes by Bourland at left end. Cain, who was substituted for Young at the beginning of the second half, did good work at right end, receiving some good passes. Later F. R. Wallace was substituted for Frampton, but the latter returned again in the fourth quarter. White was substituted for Bourland, Gordy for Hooper, Caldwell for Schelberg and Errickson for Cain.

Washington was a little slow getting started, scoring only one touchdown in the first half.

At the beginning of the second half W. Wallace received the kick-off and ran back 85 yards for a touchdown. After this the ball was in Poly's territory most of the time. Four touchdowns were scored in the second half. Enright made the first, Frampton the second and W. Wallace the other three. Enright failed to kick goals.

Next Saturday the W. C. eleven will journey to Westminister and tackle the Western Maryland College aggregation. As Western Maryland won from Poly by just one point more than Washington it looks like a good game is in prospect.

A quiet wedding was solemnized at the M. E. Parsonage, Sassafras, Sept. 30th. The contracting parties were Mr. Wm. J. Oneal of Galena and Miss Beulan M. Marvel of Townsend, Del. They will make theis home near Cecilton, Md., with Mr. and Mrs. J. Bramble.

WOODS—WOOD

Col. Charles E. Woods, rural carrier on route 3, from the Chestertown postoffice, and Miss Effie Wood, of Baltimore, sister of Mr. T. H. Wood, of Morgnec were quietly married on Thursday. They will reside on R verside Terrace. The wedding was a very quiet one. The ceremony was performed by Father Earn r. Former Postmaster M. W. Thomas attended the groom as best man.

ANOTHER DELAWARE WONDER

A Guernsey cow in the Delaware College Farm herd has earned $665 in one year. After a reduction of $153 for feed, and $42 for labor, her activities show a net profiit of $380 for the year. This cow, Imp Yenadizze's Flora 36340, produced in 365 consecutive days 13,831 pounds of milk and 588.2 pounds of butter-fat. Her product was sold in the form of 33 per cent, cream for 20 cents per quart, and the skim milk fed to young stock. One thousand five hundred and sixty-five quarts of cream at 20 cents, and 10,731 pounds of skim milk at 25 cents per cwt. are worth about $340: and the manure was worth about $25, and her calf was sold for $300.

She received for rouhage alfalfa hay and corn silage, and her grain was taken from a mixture of the following proportions: 200 pounds of bran, 200 pounds of hominy, 125 pounds of dried brewer's grains, 100 pounds beet pulp, 75 pounds of cotton seed meal and 50 pounds of oil meal. In addition to the above mentioned feeds, she received daily 4 pounds of dried beet pulp and 1½ pounds of molasses. Her bedding was shreded corn stover and all of it went into the manure. She carried a calf during the last six months of the year's test and was milking quite heavily at the end.

The fact that the average cow of Delaware produces yearly only 3,000 pounds of milk and about 130 pounds of butterfat, makes the record of this cow especially notable. It shows that it pays to keep a high grade of stock, and also that a profit like that of this cow will easily justify a greater outlay of capital on breeding stock than is usually made.

THE "Exploits of Elaine," featuring Pearl White, and concededly greater than "Perils of Pauline," will be shown at Lyceum Theatre, beginning Thursday Oct. 14th. Don't miss the opening chapter.
