All Are Invited To These Meetings

A FINE WEDDING present for President Wilson would be a re-election!

VOTE for every Democrat on the ticket, both State and County offices, and you will be doing nothing but your duty to the great majority of the taxpayers of the State and County. VOTE, VOTE VOTE, the Democratic ticket.

It is now reported that Frank Elbert Compton, Chicago publisher, is to marry Miss Margaret Wilson, the President's eldest and only unmarried daughter! The wedding is scheduled to take place on the same day that Mrs. Galt becomes the bride of President Wilson. Cupid certainly has been hovering about the Capital.

THE PEOPLE'S CANDIDATES

But three weeks more before the election, Nov. 2nd, and the NEWS would call the attention of the voters to the nominees who won in the recent primary. The Democratic party is exceedingly fortunate in the personnel of the state candidates.. They are all men of the highest character—that inborn, God-given gift, without which all ability is but a sham.

In his address of acceptance the Hon. E. C. Harrington was so frank, so explicit as to his position and his interpretation of the meaning of the Democratic platform, that it should carry conviction to the most skeptical mind that if he is elected Governor of Maryland the party promises will be lived up to in both letter and spirit.

No higher tribute could be paid a man than that which recently appeared in Baltimore's great daily paper, when it said that "Mr. Ritchie, as the people's counsel in the gas probe, had done for three thousand dollars work that would have cost the city forty thousand dollars." Not measuring his labors by the compensation, but only satisfied when he had given up for the cause in which he has enlisted the very best that is in him.

In Hugh A. McMullen we have a man that has started at the bottom of the ladder of life, amidst the trials and tribulations of the humble toiler, but by honest thrift, perseverance and integrity, has climbed to high places in the esteem of his fellowmen and in the business world.

As to the local ticket, all are well qualified to fill the position to which they aspire, and are so well and favorably known throughout the county, that they need no word of commendation from us. Many of them started life with only a pair of hands and a willingness to work; all honest, successful men of good judgment and business ability, which is the best guarantee for the faithful discharge of public duties; all men who are worthy of your confidence and your vote.

THE Hon. David J. Lewis will be with the State candidates at the meeting at Chestertown on Tuesday afternoon, October 26th, and at Rock Hall at night. This will be a great treat.

THE Governor has granted a reprieve of two weeks to Benjamin E. Davis in order to consider the evidence more carefully. A great effort is being made by his parents and their many friends in Kent to secure a commutation of death sentence.

THE following words of wisdom is from one of the strongest Weller papers in the State, the Evening News :

"The independent voter in this State, earnestly trying to use his ballot to the best purpose, runs first of all against the proposition that, other things being equal, the State is probably better off, and certainly less restless, under Democratic rule than under Republican. In this campaign, furthermore, only the confessed partisan mind would fail to recognize the Democratic platform as a much stronger instrument than the Republican. Only the partisan will deny that, other things being equal, we should expect to see more accomplished when Executive and Legislature are in political harmony than when they are not; and there is a faint chance that the next Legislature will not be Democratic."

COMPARISONS SOMETIMES ODIOUS

Our Republican contemporary in its last issue suggested a comparison between conditions under Democratic regime and those existing under the administration of Governor Lowndes and his Republican Legislature.

Now we really do not believe that the editor wants such a comparison made, for it would show up the Republican party in very bad light. Thinking men will probably recollect that during the Republican administration of the State, and at the same time of Baltimore City that negro rowdyism was rampant throughout Maryland.

That more outrages on white women happened than for years previous.

That school teachers were invited by private letters to vote for Lowndes' re-election and have their salaries raised—an insidious insult to their intelligence and manhood.

That in Baltimore white ladies were afraid to walk the streets at night without an escort.

That extravagance ran rampant in nearly every public office of the State Government.

The late Senator Rayner said :

"Admitting all that is claimed for the Legislature of 1896 and 1898, I unhesitatingly say that so far as public and private honor were concerned they presented a ghastly scene of riot and corruption. It was a disgrace and a reproach to the fair name of the State."

In contrast with this State of affairs the administration of Governor Crothers was clean and honest.

Make your X in the square opposite the word Democratic. There are 17 candidates.

THE GREAT NATIONAL GAME

The baseball games the past ten days between Boston and Philadelphia teams prove the great hold this sport has upon the American people. While all Europe was at war, all America was sporting, watching this game. The real games were played in the above cities, but the scoreboard was watched by thousands in every city in this country. Chestertown had its lovers, and each afternoon they gathered in front of the NEWS office and watched the score by innings as it came over the Chesapeake & Potomac wires. To Manager Harris and his obliging operators we extend thanks for this information. 143,000 persons saw the games, while the receipts were about $320,000. The players only share in the first four games.

The winning team will receive $86,939 70, or 60 per cent. of the total. As 23 players of each team are eligible contestants in the series, the individual share will amount to $3,779.98 each, if the division is equal. The players themselves are the authorities in deciding how the money shall be disposed of and may reduce the allowance to utility men who have figured little in the activities of the league series or of the series, by vote among themselves. To the losers will go $57,959 80, or 23 shares of $2,519 12 each, if the division is equal.

The players' profits this year are not equal to those of 1911 and 1912, the record crows at the two games played on Braves' Field failing to offset the restricted attendance at the Philadelphia park.

These two teams will go to the Pacific Exposition October 29th for a series of exhibition games. This will be a fine trip for the boys. Who says baseball does not pay—the Bostons or Phillies?

OUR esteemed cotemporary, Easton Star-Democrat, came to us Saturday containing 16 pages, all home print. The NEWS takes off its hat to the Democrat and considers it the finest paper, both in style and make-up, of any paper in this State, we except none.

HUNDREDS of fine big Thanksgiving turkeys are dying in the southeastern part of Connecticut from a serious epidemic known as "blackhead." The disease, which is causing heavy loss to the turkey raisers in Lyme, Stonington and other towns near the Rhode Island line, is reported to have spread as far as the Vose farm, in Westerly, where the White House turkey is being fattened.

IMPORTANT TO FARMERS

It is certainly time that our State and National authorities give to the disease known as Hog Cholera the attention it deserves. Thousands of dollars are taken from the coffers of Kent farmers alone every year and equal amounts from other counties, and yet but little attention is given to prevent the spread of the disease. Why is it?

Do we need more laws? Then let's have more legislation, but we doubt that this is the trouble.

Possibly there are no means at hand to enforce the laws we now have. If so then let every Grange in Kent get busy and appoint committees to take action as soon as the next Legislature convenes.

There is certainly one law that every farmer can obey and the enforcement of which he owes to his neighbor. This is the State law with regards to the proper disposition of carcasses of animals dying from cholera. The law provides: "That all hogs and other domestic animals dying of any contagious disease or infectious disease shall be buried at the depth of at least 3 ft., or be buried, at the descretion of the owners, and any person or persons permitting any dead hogs or any other domestic animals having died of any contagious or infectious disease to remain unburied upon his or their premises for the space of three hours prior to sunset of said day after he has discovered the same, shall be guilty of misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof before any justice of the peace, shall be fined not less than $10.00 for each offence, or imprisonment in the county jail for not less than ten days, or be both fined and imprisonment at the discretion of the justice."

Farmers should be on the alert these days for the least indication of cholera amoung their hogs and should prepare to combat this dread disease vigorously.

It has been discovered that well hogs may be treated with hog-cholera serum so that they not take the disease if exposed later. Such treatment is called immunization. This method of treatment has passed the experimental stage and is now on a practical working basis. The Agricultural Station at College Park, Md., will furnish serum at cost. The cost usually runs about 75 cents for half grown hogs. This cost may seem high, but it is securing insurance at a figure which is far lower than the losses which occured when cholera visits a herd.

After cholera has been on your farm do not put hogs in the same pens before they have been cared for.

1—As soon as the last victim of cholera has either died or recovered, burn all the bedding that has been contaminated with the discharge from the sick animals.

2—Spray the pens, inside and out, with a strong disinfectant solution, using aforce pump.

3—Apply a coat of whitewash containing 5 per cent of carbolic acid to the walls of hog houses, pens and fences.

4—Sprinkle the floors of the pens and yards with slaked lime.

5—Scald frequently with boiling water all buckets and troughs used in feeding the hogs.

Let us all work together and drive hog cholera from the county and bank money from our hogs this fall and winter instead of burying them now.

T. G. POWNALL FOR McMULLEN

Progressive Leader Of Allegany Boosts Democratic Candidates.

Cumberland, Md., Oct. 3—Thomas G. Pownall, an official of the Union Tanning Company here and the Progressive leader in Allegany county, stated yesterday that he hoped Hugh A. McMullen, Democratic candidate for State Comptroller, would get every vote in the county.

"I would like it if it were possible to see Mr. McMullen in charge of all the departments of the State for a while, so that he could apply business methods, such as he practices in his own affairs," Mr Pownall said. "The time has come for men of commercial, rather than political tact, to be pushed to the front in public matters. Mr. McMullen is making a great sacrifice to accept the Comptrollership. He has ambitions to show what service he can render the State, and if all men were fair and non-partisan there would not be a single vote registered against him in Allegany county next November. He deserves every vote in the county."

A CARD.

To My Friends and the Public:

Having consented to serve as a candidate on the Republican ticket for the House of Delegates, to fill a vacancy caused by the resignation of Franklin B. Harper I solicit the support of all voters irrespective of party affiliation; and if elected I pledge my best efforts to serve the best interest of all the people of our county.
