SATURDAY, OCTOBER 30, 1915.

In Southern Maryland Sydney E. Mudd pleads for the election of the Republican ticket so as to enable that party in Maryland to show its influence in the next presidential election. While this is all the reason necessary for Republicans to act as a unit for their nominee it is a pretty good reason, too, why the Democrats should present a solid front on November 2d.

ANOTHER BUOY TO GO AROUND!

MESSRS. EDITORS:

The present short though spicy campaign has progressed until it is near the finish. Within a few days the voters of our commonwealth will have said what party shall fill the State and county offices. This is one of the occasions when every good citizen should embrace the opportunity to give of his best efforts to select those men who have some experience and understand therefore the needs of our State and county interests.

Let it be remembered that the officers we elect are to serve the people, and, if they have some knowledge of the peoples needs, we can then have the right to happily conclude that the good old State of Maryland and Kent county are still safe. Now, as matter of course there is but one way for the voter to reach out so as to arrive at his part in this fight to obtain the best man of the two who are candidates for Governor. This is my way of getting at it. We have known of Mr. Harrington for a number of years; he has been State Senator and Comptroller of the State. He has aided in the legislation for manufacturers, farmers and with an especial vigor for the oystermen's interest at each session while in the senate. Haman was hard to down, but he found Harrington to be one of the heaviest weights that ever sat on him and his efforts to lease the oyster bars. When the "Sheppard" oyster bill was being prepared in the last session of the legislature, Mr. Harrington sat hard by, and with his eagle eye noting every word and phrase, he would occasionally say, dot your I's and T's Mr. Sheppard.

So, Messrs Editors, it is no hard task for me to make a choice for governor, and his running mates on the same. I feel that Mr. Ritchie, candidate for Attorney General, and Mr. McMullen, candidate for State Comptroller have the highest regard for Mr. Harrington, and that they will be in hearty sympathy with him for a splendid administration of the affairs of state. What are the issues! Good government; the most good to the most people. I do not know Mr. Weller, the Republican candidate for governor, but, if he entertains Boston notions for the private ownership of the oyster bars, I am quite sure our people will give him very little help in this community or anywhere on the Eastern Shore. Mr. Weller has spent a good portion of his business life in Boston and it does not seem clear to me that he can entertain our southern ideas about the conduct of state affairs, so we may steer clear of the Haman notions and expectations every time the legislature meets. Governor Goldsborough placed him at the head of the Roads Commission, and then he cut Gov. Goldsborough's political throat. Given a chance, he might cut the throat of the oyster interests of this state and make an opportunity to invest his many thousands under a leasing or selling law.

I think my eyes are fully open to the best interests of our people, and do not hesitate to say, that every democrat—more than that—every fisherman and oysterman should attend the polls next Tuesday and cast his vote for Harrington and every candidate on the democratic ticket. We need not only the governor, but also both branches of the legislature, and then we can feel sure that the Sheppard bill will stand for at least two more years.

The primary was held on the 14th of September—we have gone around that bouy. The next buoy to be gone around is Nov 2. Let's go around that buoy with Mr. Weller and all the Republican candidates.
