FARMERS MEET

Discuss Interesting Subjects at The Home of E. B. Pennington.

The Still Pond Farmers Club met at the home of Mr. E. B. Pennington Oct. 28th. The subject for discussion was opened by Mr. S. G Rosebury, "Does it pay to raise colts at present prices"? He said he had increased his number of horses during the past seventeen years that he had been farming and had sold $2400 worth of horses during that time. He expressed the opinion that it had paid him to raise colts. Mr. Pennington said it did not pay him to raise colts as every colt that he raised took the place of a cow that he could get more profit from. He said that a tenant who was not allowed to add to his number of cows could raise colts to a profit.

Mr. Cornelius quoted from the Government Agricultural Department's figures putting the average cost of raising a colt to three years of age $140, and the average selling price now at $100. He said he could not make money raising colts. Mr. Corey said $100 colts do not pay but $200 colts which would weigh about 1400 pounds at 3 years would pay. Mr. John Sutton said he thought the large breed of horses described by Mr. Corey would require so much more feed that the extra cost of raising them would eat up the profits.

Mr. Cornelius said he could plow his ground with an engine at a cost of 75 cents per acre which is cheaper than it could be done with horses. He predicted that the engine and automobile would gradually take the place of horses which would become still cheaper in the future. Mr. Price said he could not go back on the horse and he believed it paid to raise colts. He said he could raise them cheaper than the Government figure of $140 for a 3-year colt. Mr. Jarrell said he had raised a great many colts and had made money on them. Mr. Shafer considered a cow more profitable than a colt.

The question committee submitted two questions for discussion at the next meeting, "What is the average value of a cow and what does it cost to raise one?" "Is the milking machine practical?" The next meeting will be at Mr. Wm. H. Bonwill's on Friday, November 26th.

IF MARYLAND WILL VOTE DRY

If Maryland will close her 2,700 saloons, the people of the State will go a long step toward the millennium.

If Maryland will vote dry, the people of the State will save at least $25,000,000 annually. This sum will go a long way toward making good the deficit in the State's finances.

If Maryland will vote dry, a thousand of her boys will be saved each year from contracting the drink habit.

If Maryland will vote dry, 2700 sources of temptation will be shut up.

If Maryland will vote dry, it will bring comfort and happiness and a decent chance to 25,000 boys and girls.

If Maryland will vote dry, it will mean a clean State, clean politic and clean manhood.

If Maryland will vote dry, it will mean happy homes, contented wives and healthy children for many thousands now discontented, unhappy and sick.

If Maryland will vote dry, thousands of men who now loaf and are a care upon their families will become self-supporting and respectable.

If Maryland will vote dry, the efficiency of her workingmen will be increased 50 per cent.

Let's try it.

A Fine Estate.—Mr. Edmund C. Rivers, a former Baltimorean, late of Denver, Col., and well-known in Kent, who was drowned in Barr Lake on October 24, left an estate valued at $170,000, according to the petition for the appointment of an administrator filed there by Arthur D. Rivers, a brother.

Of this amount at least $120,000 is personalty, including an insurance policy for $18,000. The realty consists of five lots in the business section of Denver, a small piece of trackage property and a 160- acre farm in Adams county, Colorado. The City Bank and Trust Company was appointed administrator. The heirs are the following brothers and sisters: Arthur D. and Lily L. Rivers, of Baltimore, Wilfred J. Rivers, of Eastover, S. C., and Mrs. Jula M. Tyler, of Fredericksburg, Va.
