COHEN'S IS THE PLACE TO DEAL

If you want your dollar to go twice as far as anywhere else

HAVE purchased about $2,500 worth of bankrupt stock from the wholesale firm of John A. Horner at a "cut rate" price, and we expect to sell same at "cut rate" prices. We are selling all of their goods at half price—the same goods you pay $1.00 elsewhere, you get here for 50c, or $10.00 elsewhere, you get here for $5.00. What better fact do you want than this to prove that your dollar will double itself here on our "cut rate prices?

TO ENTERTAIN STATE GRANGE

Annual Convention Will Be Held In Salisbury December 6 to 9

Salisbury, Md., Nov. 13—Great preparation by members of the Salisbury Grange and public-spirited citizens of Wicomico county are being made for the annual convention of the Maryland State Grange to be held in this city from December 9 to 6

The local grange expects to entertain 1,000 members from the granges throughout Maryland, and some of the most prominent agricultural experts in the country will address the meeting.

On the evening of December 6 the Salisbury Grange will hold a reception at the Armory Building to the visiting members. Mayor William F. Bounds of Salisbury will preside. A. W. W. Woodcock is to deliver the address of welcome. Governor-elect Emerson C. Harrington will deliver the chief address.

Following is the official program for the week:

Tuesday, Dec 6—General business meeting of all the grangers in convention. During the afternoon automobiles will be provided by the citizens and the visitors will be conducted to points of interest on the peninsula. The chief address of the afternoon will be by State Master B. John Black, of Roslyn, Baltimore county. Addresses at night by Congressman David J. Lewis and Prof. F. B. Bomberger.

Wednesday, December 7—Report of committee on Agricultural College and Experiment Station. Conferring of degrees and report of financial auditing of State granges

Thursday, December 8—General discussion of legislative matters. Installation of grand officers. Chief address of the evening will be by National Lecturer John W. Gaunt.

TELLS HOW TO CHOOSE A WIFE

Professor Names Age, Health, Ancestry And Education As Factors

Six hundred bachelors, some young and some pretty old, spent their luncheon hour the other day receiving "fatherly" advice from Prof. Winfield S. Hall, of Northwestern University Medical School, on "Choosing a Wife."

"I don't see any bald heads in the audience," said Dr. Hall, "so I take it for granted you all are good candidates for marriage. By that I mean you have sound health, are morally clean and can support a wife if you can win one.

"Imagine the girls of your acquaintanceship lined up before you. Out of the possible 6 to 20 girls you are to choose a wife. Which one will you choose?

"Four things must be considered—her health, her hereditary qualities, her education and her age. Exclude from the ranks the girl of poor health. It's a calamity for a man to marry such a girl. Some of you say that the girl might get well. Let her get better before you marry her.

"Let her go into the woods for a year or so and develop the ability to walk 15 or 20 miles and return without fatigue and with Dame Nature's priceless rouge upon her cheeks. Then you may marry her, knowing she is of good health.

"Don't marry a girl just because she has a pretty figure and large, lustrous eyes and is a beautiful dancer, if at 20 she has only the mind of a girl of 12 years of age."

Among other suggestions he gave to the man considering choosing a wife were:

Don't marry an heiress. You may become unhappy with her and her money.

Don't marry into a family where there are traces of insanity or feebleminedness.

Look up the health record of her parents and grandparents.

Avoid the daughter of a confirmed alcoholic.

When he came to that part of his lecture referring to ages for marriage he turned to the blackboard, wrote down some figures and said:

"According to the best scientific research, the figures on the board show the relative ages at which men and women should marry."

Here is the table as he wrote it:

A man of 21 should marry a girl between 19 and 23 years
At 25—one between 21 and 27.
At 30—one between 33 and 28.
At 35—one between 23 and 30
At 40—one between 25 and 33.
At 45—one between 25 and 35.
At 50—one between 40 and 50.
At 60—one between 45 and 60.
At 70—one between 50 and 60.
At 80—one between 60 and 70

"When a man gets to be 50 years old," he continued, "he should not expect to rear a family. I advise such a man to marry a widow with several children.

"When a man of 60 or more marries, it is only for the purpose of having a nurse during his declining years. It is unfair for him to marry one younger than himself. He should marry a childless widow or an old maid."
