CHAPTER OF ACCIDENTS

Two Men Thrown Down a Stairway When Scaffold Breaks at The New Hynson House on Water Street—A Still Pond Citizen Loses Three Fingers And Possibly His Arm.

While Mr. Samuel Sparks and Romie Patrick were at work plastering the new Hynson home on Water street Wednesday morning the scaffolding broke throwing both men and injuring both more or less. Mr. Sparks only fell one story and his injuries were light but Mr. Patrick fell three flights cutting his head and injuring his back. These men were working over the hall and they made quite a commotion as they went falling. Mr. Sparks, who always tries to see the best side of everything, says when he landed he wondered what had become of his companion. He looked down to the bottom of the stairs and there to his surprise he saw Mr. Patrick rolling a cigarette and preparing to take a smoke! Dr. Simmons was called on to treat Mr. Patrick's injuries which are not considered serious, we are glad to to state.

Mr. Wm. H. Thompson, a well-known citizen of Still Pond, was badly injured Friday evening at his ice cream saloon in the village. He was utilizing his gasoline engine to run a sausage grinder and accidentally caught his hand in the machine. Three of the fingers were mashed off Mr. F. B. Harper brought the injured man to Chestertown where Dr. H. G. Simpers was consulted and they at once went to Easton Hospital. At this writing the physicians report the patient doing finely.

Just as Mr. Thompson was carried into the hospital another accident was reported from Denton and the injured man carried into the operating room, The facts of this accident are noted in this telegram:

"Frank Jacobs, a prosperous farmer of Caroline county, was fatally injured early Saturday morning while driving from his home to Denton. His horse was frightened at a passing automobile and ran away, throwing Mr. Jacobs out of the carriage. His head struck a telephone pole and his neck was broken. He was rushed to the Emergency Hospital but lived only about three hours."

Mr. Brown, living next door to Sacred Heart Church, Chestertown, on Tuesday while examining a revolver, the weapon was discharged and the bullet ploughed through his finger lodging in the back of his hand. Dr. Simmons treated the wound. Mr. Brown's wife was standing near when the pistol was fired and made a narrow escape.

Mrs. George Bacon fell on the ice near her home on High street on Tuesday and sprained her arm.

While helping make sausage one day last week Mrs. Clarence Webb had the end of one finger nearly severed by having it caught in the grinder.

BROWN BROS., opposite Court House, is advertising in this issue great sacrifice prices. They want to save you money on your Christmas shopping. Give them a call.

2500 Free Presents and they go to children who come to meet me. I will arrive at Chestertown Wednesday, Dec. 22nd, by train at 11 o'clock. Should it be a bad day I will go somewhere else and come to Chestertown on the next day, Thursday, Dec. 23, 1915.

I will have a big crowd of Brownies with me. Lot of fun and Free Gifts. Don't miss this the biggest treat Old Kriss has ever given.

FIRST SNOW BLOCKADE

Six inches of snow fell Sunday night and Monday. A strong wind caused the snow to drift so that on Tuesday many of the roads were impassable. The rural carriers had to miss some of their routes, while the Rock Hall mail was four or five hours late. Judge Scott and Commissioner Davis started here from Galena, but failed to arrive. Many teams and autos were stalled and some unusual experiences encountered.

The mercury went down to 18° and the river was frozen over, but not strong enough for skating.

The Tolchester boat was compelled to discontinue her trips up the Susquehanna and Sassafras rivers on account of the ice.
