ROCK HALL

Rev. J. W. Prettyman put in a hard day's work last Sunday, preaching a.m., officiating at two funerals, that of Mrs. Smith here, and the other little Willie Clayton in Chestertown in the afternoon and preaching again at night, the best sermon delivered by him since being here, so thinks a number of his hearers. The good parson is some live wire, sure.

A handsome tailored broadcloth Prince Albert coat, the gife of the M E. Sunday school, was tendered Mr. Prettyman during the Xmas tide as a token of their high appreciation of the reverend gentleman as pastor and superintendent. Mr. Richard Hague's family also remembered the pastor by leaving a 20-pound turkey at the parsonage, and many other smaller, but none the less appreciated gifts, were also left at and sent to the parsonage.

During the preaching serviee in the M. E. Church on Sunday night a prominent business man of the town arose in the midst of the preaching and declared for God and His Righteousness. The announcement was as an electrical current, permeating the assembly with highest enthusiasm.

The Patriotic Order Sons of America held an open night social in Fraternal Hall on Friday evening, New Year's eve, at which were the families of the membership, the widows and children of deceased members and other invited guests. The program consisced of addresses, select reading, trios, and refreshments. The R. H. Band furnished music. Rev W. H. D. Johnson, of the M. P. Church, and Rev. J. W. Prettyman, of the M. E. Church made splendid addresses which captivated the large audience and kept them convulsed with enjoyment. Dist. Pres., J. Frank Wheatley, and Ex-Dist. President, W. B. Coleman, were expected to be present and participate, but these gentlemen were roomed with the grippe fad, prevalent in the county metropolis and failed to get here. Boys, you missed the enjoyment of a "good thing." Besides those mentioned, the following young ladies took part in the rendition of the program: Misses Catherine Urie and Thelma Azhley, and Messrs Keuben Greenhawk and Bunchey Sewell.

Mr. James Jones has moved his business from up-town to the ex-barber shop next door to Blaustein's emporium.

Mr. T J. Elburn, who recently moved to E. N. Island, will move back shortly to one of the Alexander properties south of town.

The rural route change going into effect this week is looked upon as an imposition by the residents of Allen's Lane, and other sections down this way.

A Letter From Berryville, Va.

"The telephone you put in my house has become so useful that I cannot realize how I got along without it before.

"We need a telephone because we have so far to go to get a doctor, or assistance in case of trouble, or to the stores.

"The telephone brings the town to the country."
