KENNEDYVILLE

Rev. Frank S. Cain was called to Salisbury, Md., on Saturday last to take charge of the funeral of an old friend, Mr. G. Gillis Pusey, who requested Mr. Cain to preach his funeral.

Mrs. Cain has been away helping to nurse her nephew, Mr. Robert C. Johnson, who has been dangerously ill with double pneumonia. We are glad to say, however, that he is much improved at this time, although not yet able to be out.

The stork visited the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Weer, Jr., on Sunday last and left them a bouncing baby boy weighing ten pounds. Mother and son are doing well at this time.

The sale of postmaster Miller, held on Tuesday, was well attended and good prices were paid for nearly everything sold. Mr. Miller has accepted a position in the milk shipping plant at Blacks station.

The Ladies' Aid Society of the Methodist Protestant Church will meet at the parsonage on Friday next, the 28th, at 7.30 p. m.

The sick in our village, we are glad to say, are improving. Mr. Medders is able to be out again, but Mrs. Medders is quite ill, not able to leave her bed. Dr. James W. Urie, who has been indisposed for a few days, is again able to attend those who are sick. Mrs. Joseph H. Weer, Mrs. Dukes and Mr. R. Haggerly are all improved, but not able to be out yet. Miss Ada Hurlock is also able to be up about the house.

Quite a number of our Grangers attended the meeting of Fairlee Grange on Wednesday of this week, and enjoyed it very much.

Kennedyville Grange expects to be well represented at the Pomona Grange which meets at Worton on Saturday next, at 10 30 a. m.

Regular service in Kennedyville M. P. Church on Sunday next, 23rd. Sunday-school 9 30 a. m., E. T. Othoson, superintendent; preaching 10.30 a. m. and 7 30 p. m. by the pastor, Rev. Frank S. Cain.

OYSTERS BOBS UP AGAIN

Perennial Subject Of Legislation Appears Early In Session—Wilkinson's Proposition To Enlarge Committee So That Whole State Would Be Represented Defeated.

Annapolis, Jan. 14—The eternal question of Maryland politics and Legislation—the oysters!—came up in the House today in the course of the action upon the report of the Organization Committee. Mr. Wilkinson, of Baltimore city, wanted each county and legislative district given representation on the committee on Chesapeake Bay and Tributaries, and Mr. Hall, also of Baltimore city, who aided two years ago in the passage of the Sheppard act, fought him and won.

The encounter was brief. Mr. Wilkinson said that it had been the immemorial custom to place on this committee members from the tidewater counties, the theory apparently being that oyster legislation concerned only the tidewater counties. He said that he believed the time had come when the other parts of the State, Alleghany county and so on, were as much interested in oyster legislation as the tidewater counties and should have representation upon the committee.

Mr Hall said the purpose of Mr. Wilkinson's proposal was to reopen the oyster question, which he said, had been settled in the last Legislature by the passage of the Sheppard act, which he supported. He called upon the tidewater members to vote down the Wilkinson plan as a matter which affected their living and the livings of their constituents.

Mr. Wilkinson said that he failed to see how any man could take pleasure in calling attention to his participation in the passage of the Sheppard act, inasmuch as it already had resulted in condemnation damages against the State amounting to about $275 000, which probably would be increased to $600,000 before long. Mr. Hall said the damages were the consequence of "thieves" getting possession under the Haman act of natural bottoms to which the oystermen were entitled; that the surveys by which such possession had been obtained had been corrected by the Shellfish Commission under the Shepperd act, and that that act simply did justice to the oystermen.

The vivi voce vote upon Mr. Wilkinson's amendment increasing the membership of the committee so as to give representation to each county and legislative district was declaared lost by Speaker Laird. Mr. Wilkinson demanded a roll call and was supported by Mr. Shriver, of Baltimore city, who had seconded his amendment. Mr Hall made the point that under the rules a demand from five members is necessary to obtain a roll call. A demand not being made by that number of members, Speaker Laird declared the amendment rejected.
