Planting Seeds of Success

¶ As the farmer plants seed in the springtime for the harvest in the fall, so the person who would achieve success in any undertaking must prepare far in advance.

¶ Starting a bank account, no matter how small, is one of the first steps toward success. To plant the seeds of success, save SYSTEMATICALLY and PERSISTENTLY.

¶ The very habit of saving, however small the visible results at first, leads to independence and aids in attaining success.

¶ The Officers of this Institution are at all times glad to talk persons about "planting the seeds of success."

Krusen had charge of the funeral arrangements and the bearers were Wm. A., Wm. H. and James T. Crew, Horace Brice, James Brice and John Boone.

Mr. William Webb, an old soldier of the war, and a well-known citizen of upper Kent, died at the home of his sister, Mrs. John McGuire, of Locust Grove, on Wednesday morning at eleven o'clock, after an illness of lagrippe, aged 87 years. Funeral will take place at M. E. Church, Galena, today (Saturday) at one o'clock, Rev. John Sutton officiating. Undertaker W. H. Krusen. Interment will be in the Galena cemetery.

On January 10th Mrs. Robert J. Lank, of Alberta, Canada, died in the 72nd year of her age. Mrs. Lank was a sister of the late Mrs. Thomas R. Hubbard, of our town, and during Mrs. Hubbard's lifetime was a frequent visitor to Chestertown and made many friends here. Mrs. Lank, Mrs. Hubbard, S. W. Thomas, George W. Massey and James M. Wolcott were all school children together and natives of a small village near Greenwood, Del. She was a Miss Sallie Watson, of that State, and cousin of former Gov. Watson, of Delaware. Thirty-five years ago Mr. and Mrs. Lank resided at Kennedyville for a short while, and in 1880 they removed from Kennedyville to Kansas, where Mr. Lank purchased a large tract of land near Wichita, and in a few years he sold this body of land for several times its original price, and then removed to Edmenton Canada, purchasing another large body of land, where Mr. Lank was engaged in growing wheat on a large scale and cattle raising. A few years ago they purchased a town house, where they resided in winter, spending their summer on the ranch. Mrs. Lank leaves 8 children and a large number of grandchildren. Mr. Wilbur W. Hubbard, nephew of Mrs. Lank, says a letter received by him, giving an account of death, stated that the day Mrs. Lank died the thermometer registered 51° below zero. She leaves one sister, Mrs. Thos. H. Turner, of Topeka, Kansas.

JOHN M. DENNIS IS TREASURER

John M. Dennis, president of the Union Trust Company of Baltimore, was elected State Treasurer by the Legislature Tuesday, receiving the solid Democratic vote.

Gen. Murray Vandiver, who has held the office for 16 years and who was a candidate for re-election, withdrew in the interest of party harmony.

Governor Harrington, in a statement given out last night, expressed gratification that the Treasurership matter had been settled and that Mr. Dennis had been elected, and called for united and harmonious action in the redemption of party pledges.

Everybody seems pleased with the happy ending of the controversy.

Mr. Dennis was agreed upon by the State leaders in the morning, the anti-Vandiver Democrats readily agreed to his selection and his nomination by the parta caucus followed as a matter of course, as did his election.

The Next Stste Treasurer.

Mr. Dennis, who came to Baltimore in 1891 to enter the employ of Tate, Muller & Co., grain exporters, is a native of Frederick, Md., where he was born February 23, 1866. His father was Col. George R. Dennis. The father was a large land owner and was the president of the Central National Bank of Frederick for several years.

After the death of George Blackiston, the directors of the Union Trust Company sought for several months for a man to succeed him as president of that institution. Mr. Dennis was selected in November 1914. He had become president of Tate, Muller & Co. in 1910, the name having been changed to the Louis Miller Company. He was a director of the Maryland National Bank until it was merged with the National Bank of Commerce and he was a director and a member of the executive committee of the Continental Trust Company until he became president of the Union Trust Company.

Educated in the public schools of Frederick and at Milton Academy, at Philopolis, Md., Mr. Dennis' first employment was in the office of the auditor of the Cincinnati, Washington and Baltimore Railroad Company. He later became traveling freight agent of this road. It was this position which he left to associate himself with the firm of Tate, Muller & Co. He came here to take charge of their Western department.

Strong Financial Figure.

For years Mr. Dennis has been known as one of the strong figures among the Baltimore financiers. While he has always been a Democrat, he has not taken any active part in any political campaign until the last Democratic primary. He was very much interested in the nomination and election of Governor Harrington and took part in the primary and the general campaign. He was chairman of the finance committee in the primary.

Besides being a banker and a man of marked social qualities, Mr. Dennis is a farmer who knows farming practically. He has never forgotten his youth in the country. He has a large ferm at Riderwood and the fine cows he has there have taken prizes at dairy shows. He is the president of the Maryland State Dairymen's Association.

Mr. Dennis was married on June 6, 1899, to Miss Mary Carr Chiles, of Independence, Mo. They have two children, a boy and a girl. He is a member of the Protestant Episcopal Church. He maintains membership in a number of social organizations, among them the Maryland Club, the Merchants' Club and the Elkridge Club. He is a Knight Templar and a Mystic Shriner. He has three brothers, George R. Dennis, of Frederick; A. R. Dennis, of Baltimore; and Thomas Jennings Dennis, of the United States Army. His sisters are Mrs. Henry W. Rogers, of Sherwood, Md.; Mrs. J. Lynn Richardson, of Charlestown, W. Va.; Mrs. Franklin Buchanan Smith, of Frederick, Md., and Mrs. J. W. D. Briscoe, of Hyattsville, Maryland.
