Resolutions of Respect.

WHEREAS, Our Heavenly Father in His infinite wisdom has called our friend, co-worker, and one of our Honorary members, J. B. W. AYDELOTTE, of Washington Camp No. 42, P. O. S. of A., Millington, to his heavenly home, we face the solemn fact that never again in this life will we hear his familiar voice and step, or look upon his kind, impressive face, or enjoy his cheerful company, therefore be it

Resolved, That we humbly submit to the plan of our Heavenly Father who doeth all things well.

Resolved, That in the life of Brother Aydelotte we recognize the elements of true manhood, true character, and one who was ever true to his order, his community, and devotedly attached to his home and family.

Resolved, That these sturdy qualities which proved him a loving husband, a devoted and earnest worker and useful citizen with many other reasons made him a loyal member of our order.

Resolved, That we, the members of Washington Camp No. 42, of Millington, express to his wife and family our sincere sympathy in the hour of lonliness and sadness, and be it further

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be sent to his family, county press and written upon the minutes of our order.

B. W. DULING,
SUDLER WEIST,
Committee.

Engagements.—Mr. and Mrs. I. H. Huhn announce the engagement of their daughter, Anna Mabel, to Mr. F. D. Zadere, of Millington, Md.

FARMERS and gardeners should write to T. W. Wood & Sons, Richmond, Va., for one of their up-to-date and useful catalogs of all kinds of vegetable and flower seeds and implements.

ROCK HALL

Troop One, Boy Scouts of America, will celebrate the Sixth Anniversary of the founding of the Boy Scouts of America on Tuesday evening next in Amusea Hall. Among the features of the occasion will be splendid camp fire songs, Scout Work demonstrations, a dandy Scout play, admission of new members and honors to be given. The President of the Scout movement, Mr. Colin H. Livingstone, who was entertained by Troop 1 at their camp in Washington last summer, has written a letter to the Troop which will also be read. Rock Hall band will furnish music. This affair promises to be one of the most entertaining and instructive of the season.

Mount Pleasant Lodge No. 5, K. of P. celebrated the Second Anniversary of its institution a few evenings ago with oratory, song and music. A large assembly of members' families enjoyed the affair. Refreshments consisting of ice cream, cake, fruits and candies were abundantly served. The theme of the oratory was, Triumph of right over wrong, Justice over Oppression, Truth over error, Light over darkness. The audience were admonished that while rejoicing over the progress they have made, not to forget to exemplify that humbleness of spirit and conduct that should characterize the true followers of the loyal and faithful Damon and the brave and self-sacrificing Pythias.

Mr. W. A. Bramble has retired from the oystering fraternity and will take up farming. Having rented Dr. Schwatka's farm, he moves there this week. Wise old boy. May the best of success be his reward. The youngsters here will miss him.

Mrs. A. P. Levy and son, Rulon, of Baltimore, ase guests of Mrs. L.'s sister, Miss Daisy Ryan.

My! Such miserable weather that is being dealt out to us. Certainly the ground hog has nothing to do with this slush of rain, sleet, hail and snow.

Messrs. J. S. Jones, S. B. Colyer, M. L. Maslin, Ryan, Sr., are additional recruits to the sick list.

Revs. J. W. Prettyman and S. T. Shader seem to be quite chummy, and why not? They are both traveling the route leading to the celestial shore whose inhabitants are all chums, and none but those willing to be chums can reach there. These two pastors participated in an interesting missionary day exercise at the M. E. Church on Sunday last.

Fruit-buds made such advancement during the past two weeks as to cause alarm among fruit growers now that severe cold weather is expected.

STILL POND

Mr. Wm. Medders and sister, Miss Minnie, left Tuesday on a visit to his brother, Dr. and Mrs. Bert Medders, of Omaha, Nebraska.

Mr. B. D. Quimby and Miss Eleanor Ross, of Seaford, Del., have been visiting his sister, Mrs. J. C. Bowers.

Mrs. William Thompson has returned from Baltimore where she has been at the bedside of her husband, who is in a bospital there for treatment. At this writing he is getting along nicely.

Mr. C. B. Krusen has returned home after spending sometime with relatives in Wilmington and Philadelphia.

Mrs. Davis, of Claymont, Del., is visiting her daughter, Mrs. F. B. Harper.

Mr. James H. Robinson is visiting his son, Herman, in North Carolina.

Mrs. Baker and Master Marcell Beale are visiting friends in Baltimore.

Little Miss Edna Hackett has been visiting her grandmother, Mrs. Elwood Whaley, of Chestertown.

Mr and Mrs. Ralph Robinson and son, Ralph, Jr., are visiting her brother, Mr. James Robinson, of Havre de Grace.

Mrs. Harry Watkins and son, William, of Betterton, spent Sunday with her sister, Mrs. Carl Norris.

Mr. Wilson Capps is visiting his daughter, Mrs. Harry Watkins, of Betterton.

THE firm of Graham & Thomas, Chestertown, have with them, Mr. Wm. R. Nickerson, an expert machinist, formerly with the John Deere Plow Co., to assist them in their engine and machine business.

A MISSIONARY "Bake" will be held in the vacant Toulson store room to-day at 11 a. m. Proceeds for Mr. Norman Jefferson's Sunday school class.

DR. RICKARDS IN FIGHT

Physician Beats Man Who Accused Him—Attack on James R. Meredith Aboard Steamer Tred Avon Results in the Arrest of Both.

Using a deck chair as a club, Dr. Harry M. Rickards, 53 years old, the North Charles street physician, and formerly of Denton, who was found guilty of manslaughter in the Baltimore Criminal Court No. 2 Saturday night, attacked James R. Meredith, 29 years old, the State's chief witness, on board the steamer Tred Avon in the harbor of Baltimore late Monday afternoon.

Meredith was knocked to the deck of the saloon and, according to the police, was struck several times on the head and body with the chair. His face was cut and he was badly bruised on the body.

Screams from women passengers and shouts of men brought Captain John Clark, master of the Tred Avon, and several of his officers from the upper deck. Captain Clark and his aids lost no time in overpowering Dr. Rickards and in separating the combatants.

Four sharp blasts from the Tred Avon's whistle brought the police patrol boat Lannan to the steamer's side. Amid unusual excitement Capt. Edward Carey and Patrolman Vickers of the Lannan, boarded the Tred Avon and both Dr. Rickards and Meredith were taken prisoners from the bay steamer to the after cabin of the Lannan.

When the Lannan docked at the foot of Broadway Captain Carey telephoned for the Eastern district patrol, and Dr. Rickards and Meredith were taken to the Eastern Police Station.

On the way to the station Meredith held a blood-stained handkerchief to the cut on his face. Policemen sat between the two prisoners. Dr. Rickards glared at the State's witness, but said nothing.

Dr. Rickards was accused of assaulting and striking Meredith and of acting in a disorderly manner on board the steamer. Meredith was accused of acting in a disorderly manner on the steamer. Both men were arraigned before Justice Smith.

Meredith was bound for his home at Church Hill, Md., and boarded the Tred Avon shortly before 3 o'clock. Dr. Rickards boarded the steamer about the same time. Meredith, it is said, did not know that the physician was aboard until the vessel headed down stream.

When the steamer was off the shipyard of W. E. Woodall cries from passengers attracted members of the crew. A quartermaster ran inside the saloon and saw two men fighting. Captain Clark, leaving the wheel to the first officer, ran to the saloon and threw himself between Dr. Rickards and Meredith. Meredith was bleeding from a wound and a deck chair lay nearby.

"You men are under arrest," Captain Clark said to them, "you can't fight on this vessel."

"Meredith told me," said Captain Carey, "that he tried to avoid Dr. Rickards and that he was walking in the saloon when the physician struck him with a deck chair and knocked him down. He said that when he was down Rickards struck him several times. Meredith said that he tried to defend himself, but that Rickards rushed him.

Dr. Rickards was released at 11 o'clock Saturday night, when a professional boudsmen pledged property valued at $12 000 to cover the bail set by Judge Duffy. Immediately after the jury found Dr. Rickards guilty his attorney motioned for a new trial. The motion is now before the Supreme Bench. The case against the physician was prosecuted by Deputy State's Attorney Roland R. Marchant and Lindsay C. Spencer.

Dr. Rickard was released on bail for the action of the Grand Jury, while Mr. Meredith was dismissed.

Deputy State's Attorney, Roland R. Marchant, who tried the case against the physican, was present at the hearing at the station-house and he prayed a jury trial on the part of State. Dr. Rickards was represented by Attorney Richard H. Stevenson, and Meredith by Emory L. Stinchcomb. During the hearing, Mr. Stevenson asked Meredith if his attorney was not in consultation with the State's Attorney before the trial of the case. Mr. Marchant immediately answered the question by saying that he had been and that he expected to be a number of times before the trial of the case in the Criminal Court.

RESOLUTIONS OF RESPECT

INASMUCH as it has pleased our Heavenly Father in His wisdom to call to rest eternal our worthy friend and brother, TILGHMAN SHAFER; and whereas, we are thankful that we have been so privileged as to be brought into contact with such a sturdy, upright character as he possessed, and realizing that he held by reason of his wise council—so readily given to all who asked—such a high place in the esteem of all in our community that it will be hard to fill his place; therefore, be it

Resolved, First, that we, the members of Kennedyville Grange, No. 244, bow in humble submission to the will of the All-wise Heavenly Father.

Resolved, Second, that we extend our loving and heartfelt sympathy to his wife and family, enjoining them to remember that the "dead do rest from their labor."

Resolved, Third, that a copy of these resolutions be sent to the family of the deceased and also that they be spread upon the minutes of our Grange, and also be sent to the county papers for publication.

Respectfully submitted,

GRANGE NOTES.

Worton Grange held the usual interesting meeting on Monday evening with quite a good attendance. Several important legislative measures which had been sent by State Lecturer Brigham, were ably discussed. The lecturer had quite an interesting and helpful program prepared.

Next Monday evening at 7 30, Hon. David J. Lewis will deliver an address on Government Ownership of Postal Telegraph and Telephones. While this address has been arranged through the efforts of the Grange, the public is cordially invited to hear this able speaker. Doors of the Grange Hall open at 7 p.m. No meeting of the Grange will be held on this evening.

Still Pond Grange held its regular meeting in the Grange Hall on Saturday afternoon. After an interesting business meeting, at which several important questions were discussed an interesting literary program was given. This afternoon, February 5th, the Grange will be entirely in the hands of the sisters. All of the officers chairs will be filled by them and they, only will be on the literary program. The following week the brothers will have entire charge of the meeting. A judge will be present at both meetings and the side that conducts the better meeting will be served supper by the losing side the following week.

Kennedyville Grange, No. 244, held a most interesting meeting last Monday evening with fifty members present. This order meets now in the Assembly Hall of the new school building which it worked so valiantly to procure for Kennedyville. During the past year it has installed a lighting plant in this building, has placed 100 new chairs in the Assembly Hall for the use of the school as well as the grange, and has other furnishings under consideration. At this last meeting our hearty support was given the Galena Grange in their efforts to obtain for their town the school building which they so badly need. Resolutions of respect to the memory of Mr. Tilghman Shafer and of sympathy to the family in their sorrow were read and adopted. The lecture presented a most delightful program. Singing, America, by the Grange; recitation, by the lecturer; duet, Miss Othoson and Mrs. Clews; a number of mirth provoking jokes were read by Miss Pennington; music, by male quartette. Questions of interest to dairymen were next discussed by Messrs. Hurlock, Hill, Clendaniel, Sutton and others. The program was brought to a close with a vocal solo by Miss Kelley. The lecturer announced that she had secured the promise of Hon. David J. Lewis to address us on February 8. The meeting will be held in the Assembly Hall of the new school building at 7.30 p. m. The public is cordially invited to attend. At a late hour all repaired to their respective homes voting that we all had a good time and that it should be continued in our next which will be Saturday, February 5, when the third and fourth degrees will be given to four candidates.

THE fire and lightning insurance business formerly conducted by the late Tilghman Shafer will be continued by his daughter, Miss Emma C. Shafer and Mr. E. L. Redmile under the firm name of Shafer & Redmile.

FEBRUARY 12 will be the anniversary of the birthday of Abraham Lincoln.

MISS CAVANAUGH, of the Blind School, will speak before the Woman's Club next Monday afternoon at the Rest Room in Imperial Hotel, Chestertown.

CHURCH NOTES.

Christ M. P. Church, Rev. W. K. Graham, D. D., pastor. Services on Sunday, February 6th, at 10 30 a. m. and 7.30 p. m. Revival service in the evening. Sunday School 2.30 p. m. Christian Endeavor service 6 45 p. m. Mid-week service Thursday evening at 7.30 o'clock.

Although Rev. H. B. Bryan, dean of the Trinity Cathedral at Easton, who is now in Utah conducting a mission, has been dismissed by letter, by Bishop William Forbes Adams, of the Protestant Episcopal Diocese of Easton, he will not sever his connections with the church until he knows why he has been ousted. The letter, dated January 7, 1916, tells Dr. Bryan that "his services as assistant minister of the Cathedral are terminated upon January 31, 1916, and that no further stipend will be paid after that date." Dean Bryan desires to know why he has been dismissed, and through his attorney, Murray Lloyd Goldsborough, has taken the case into court.

Rev. E. H. Dashiell, filled the M. E Church pulpit Sunday, both morning and evening, in the interest of the aged preachers fund which the M. E. Church is raising.

Many Buy Lighting Plants—Mr. G. E. Williams, who represents the Oxweld Acetylene Co., of Newark, N. J, and Chicago, Ill., has been busy during the past few days in Kent and Queen Anne's counties selling and installing their Pilot Generators to those who appreciate the convenience and comfort of lighting and cooking with gas. Among those who Mr. Williams sold recently in Kent county are Messrs. Claude Parks, Chestertown; J. Frank Leaverton, Hill Top Boarding House, near Fairlee; B. F. Harper, Still Pond, who will light both his store and dwelling from the one plant, and Wm. H. Krusen, undertaker, of Still Pond.

WM. P. ROLPH SUICIDE

While his two sisters occupied apartments across the street waiting to meet him Wednesday, a traveling salesman, William P. Rolph, 38 years old, a Baltimorean, son of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Rolph, 2027 Eutaw Place, committed suicide early that morning at the Hotel McAlpin, New York. The dead man, according to advices received from that city, first tried to end his life by opening the veins of his wrists and ankles, but finding this method of doing away with himself too slow, cut his throat with a penknife. The penknife broke and he used his razor. He died shortly afterward. His father is on one of the Chesapeake Bay boats, on which he is employed.

Rolph travels that portion of West Virginia embracing Parkersburg and other cities in that section. He came to Baltimore about 10 days ago and remained for several days with his parents at their apartment on Eutaw Place. He then left for New York, and his two sisters—Misses Nannie and Mary Rolph—arranged to follow him and were to have met him in New York Wednesday.

When they called at the hotel they were informed of the tragic end of their brother. They were stopping at the Martinique Hotel, just across the street from the McAlpin.

Rolph was married and has a child 2 years old. Mrs. Rolph, with the child, makes her home in Pittsburgh, and when his business permitted her husband spent his time with his family in that city. When in Baltimore he made his home with his parents.

The dead man is well known in this section, his parents having removed from near Chestertown to Baltimore.
