HEAT FLASHES, DIZZY, NERVOUS

Mrs. Wynn Tells How Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Helped Her During Change of Life.

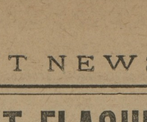

Richmond, Va.—"After taking seven bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I feel like a new woman. I always had a headache during the Change of Life and was also troubled with other bad feelings common at that time—dizzy spells, nervous feelings and heat flashes. Now I am in better health than I ever was and recommend your remedies to all my friends."—Mrs. Lena Wynn, 2812 E. O Street, Richmond, Va.

While Change of Life is a most critical period of a woman's existence, the annoying symptoms which accompany it may be controlled, and normal health restored by the timely use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Such warning symptoms are a sense of suffocation, hot flashes, headaches, backaches, dread of impending evil, timidity, sounds in the ears, palpitation of the heart, sparks before the eyes, irregularities, constipation, variable appetite, weakness and inquietude, and dizziness.

For these abnormal conditions do not fail to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Pyorrhea Demands Attention

Of Both Dentist and Doctor, Says Dr. William A. Brady.

Pyorrhea alveolaris et dentalis (chronic inflammation of tooth sockets and discharge of pus from the gums) is so very frequent and so very injurious in its effect upon the general health that it deserves free discussion.

Severe anemia (weak or watery blood) stomach and intestional troubles, and "rheumatism," are so commonly noted among the injurious effects of neglected pyorrhea that good physicians nowadays insist upon an expert dentist's examination, fortified, perhaps, by an X-ray photograph of the jaws, in order to reveal any hidden pus markets or "septic foci" which may be entirely accountable for the general ailment.

In previous discussions of the subject, competent critics inform us, we have not sufficiently emphasized the importance of dentistry. We have dwelt upon the dameba and the streptoccus as causes of pyorrhea—the former treated by hypodermic injections of emetine given by physician or dentist, the latter by scraping out the pus pockets and preparing a vaccine from the material, to be administered at intervals over a prolonged period of weeks.

Of cource it is a dentist's affair—pyorrhea. He must determine whether the disease has progressed to the extent of calcareous deposit and, so far as he is able, whether and where there are pus pockets to be drained and curetted. But he should work in conjunction with the patient's doctor. The best dentists always do so when treating pyorrhea. For instance, without the physician's sanction, in a case of pyorrhea with secondary joint lesions, it might prove disastrous for the dentist to curette or surgically attack a number of pus pockets at one sitting—it is always better to do a little at a time, and at intervals of several days, because each curattage or opening of pus pocket effectively vaccinates the patient with his living vaccine, a very helpful thing for the secondary lesion if homepathic, a very risky and sometimes disastrous thing if in large dose.

Success, then, in the attack upon pyorrhea is to be anticipated by teamwork. Most people look upon their dentist much in the spirit in which they look upon their dresmaker or barber. That is wrong. A dentist is a force for health if you give him an opportunity. He should be approached as a specialist, by and with the co-operation of the family doctor.

THE GIRL WE CALL "HELLO"

There's a certain kind of people very useful, yet obscure,
Who receive small approbation from the public, I am sure,
Yet the service which they render none of us could well forego,
Still 'tis rare we kindly speak or think of the girl we call "Hello."
The public simply take her as a cog in one great wheel,
Placed there for their convenience, to promote the commonweal,
And it's rare indeed a kindness to these faithful girls we show,
But oftentimes we "cuss" aloud the girl we call "Hello."
We grasp our 'phone, a number give, and should there be delay,
We frankly are ashamed to own the awful things we say,
We seem to think that ours must be the only call, you know,
When perhaps some forty others, quite insistent call "Hello."
But still though "kicked" and "cussed" about you always find her sweet,
We don't know how she does it, we confess to give up, beat,
But When our days on earth are done should we to heaven go,
We sure will find a multitude of girls we call "Hello."

KENNEDYVILLE

Another automobile accident happened near this village on Sunday afternoon, when a five-passenger touring car, filled with men from Pocomoke City, Md., skidded and run upon the bank, throwing one of the occupants of the car through the windshield, cutting him quite severely. They brought him to Dr. Urie's office where medical attention was given.

Mr. Olin Davis, of Galena had a car load of Ford automobiles delivered here on Monday.

The fourth quarterly conference of Kennedyville Methodist Protestant Church will be held in the office of Dr Jas W. Urie on Tuesday, Feb. 15th, 10 a. m.

The Fairlee Grange has challenged Kennedyville Grange for a debate to take place in Fairlee Grange hall on Feb. 16th., at 7 30 p. m, which has been accepted.

SUNDAY WANTS TO WIN MORE MEN

He Preaches To 10,000 Men—Pleads With Them To Enter Work of Church—He Asserts That Men Are In The Small Minority In Church Membership In America—Seventy-Two Per Cent. of The Church Made Up of Women.

Deprecating the fact that men are in the small minority in church membership in America, Billy Sunday, at a men-only meeting today, pleaded with 10,000 listeners to change this condition in the makeup of the churches. He flayed the laxity and indifference of men for church work as a disgrace to American manhood. Sunday said that 72 per cent. of the church is made up of women, while men frequent the haunts of iniquity in preference to church membership.

"It is a disgrace that the institutions of decency are packed with women, and the places of degradation are full of men. Tell me this. Are the churches full of men or of women? Of women, and you know it. Are the gambling dens, the penitentiaries, the racetracks, the saloons, the jails, the reformatori full of men or women? Of men."

Sunday's call for trail-hitters at the conclusion of the afternoon sermon on "How To Be Less Than a Man," brought 270 converts up the aisles.

"No man can give a reason for not being a christian," he said in the course of his sermon. "He may give an excuse but not a reason. If you want to be a man, all right, go to heaven. If you want to be less than a man, got to hell."

Church Needs Men.

He predicted that men would want the church as a hiding place when the mortgage is foreclosed on life. "The church wants and needs the men," he went on, "and you will find it to be the only institution to stand after all others have fallen. The one institution that stands for God is empty of men.

"Men's place is in the church," the evangelist said, "and it is a disgrace for any man not to be working for the salvation of others as well as himself. Why, you're obliged to be decent," he shouted.

"Why, I would rather have standing room in heaven than own the world and go to hell. If I absolutely and positively knew that death was an eternal sleep, as some claim, and that there was no heaven or hell, I would still continue to live the same kind of a life I am living now."

Sunday took a hard whack at the isms and schisms again today. He pictured Bob Ingersoll as an intellectual genius, "brighter than any president of the United States in 20 years, a marvel among men. But Ingersoll's life was a failure," he said, "because his infidel teachings unchained the passions of hell." The infidel, Billy said, is trying to wreck our religion and belief in Jesus Christ.

RESOLUTIONS ALL MIGHT ADOPT

I submit some resolutions that each one of us might do well to adopt and keep as well as he can:

"I will not believe evil of anyone unless the facts are well proved.

"I do not repeat any harmful gossip I hear of anyone.

"I will be true to my convictions and recognize that other folks have a right to differ and be just as honest as I am.

"I will be as strict as I can toward myself and lenient toward others.

"I will do nothing to any living soul that may cause any bitter memory.

"I will be as polite and agreeable in a charming manner as I known how to all my family as I am to strangers.

"I will do or say nothing to disgust an honest man, offend or soil the soul of a good woman or causelessly wound or hurt a little child.

"I will 'play fair,' no matter what's the game—love or work.

"I will practice how to be a good fellow, entertaining without becoming a bore, moral without trying to make others be as good as I think I am or would like to be thought.

"I will not neglect my friends in time of need, but studiously neglect my enemies at all times.

"I will promise to forgive everybody each and every night before I go to bed, even if I can't forget.

"I will do good to all, evil to none.

"I will not slander or listen to slander.

"I will be decent, clean, unselfish, true, brave, strong, patient and sincere to all."
