SATURDAY, APRIL 8, 1916.

ROOSEVELT says he is willing to be a candidate for President, but won't give up any of his "cranky" notions to get the nomination.

IN the death of James F. M. Woodall Kent county loses one of its best-known and ablest citizens. He was a man of broad mind and conscientious beliefs.

THE Legislature has adjourned. Many good measures were put on the books and some not so good. But taking everything into consideration the work as a whole was excellent.

GOVERNOR HARRINGTON deserves praise for the most excellent manner in which he has tried to carry out the several planks in the Democratic platform. His task was a hard one, but he has made a fine record.

THE annual meeting of the Maryland State Bankers' Association will be held this year at Atlantic City, with headquarters at the Marlborough-Blenheim. The sessions of the association will be held on May 23, 24 and 25, and arrangements for the meetings are now in the hands of a committee.

THE results of the last Legislature so far as local laws for Kent is concerned is not definitely known. The curfew law has been signed by the Governor and goes into effect June 1st. The new road law has been passed but not yet signed by the Governor. The new school house law passed with a referendum.

WASHINGTON COLLEGE received from the legislature an appropriation of $28,500 for maintenance and $20,000 to help rebuild Wm. Smith Hall. The appropriation bill has not yet been signed by Gov. Harrington, but all friends of the college are very much pleased at the fair treatment so far received and are sanguine the Governor will be equally favorable to the College.

FIRE MARSHAL'S JOB GONE

The Senate passed the Tydings bill abolishing the office of State Fire Marshal. The bill was so amended as to provide that the State Insurance Commissioner shall designate a deputy fire marshal, who shall be paid $2,000 and whose expenses shall not exceed an additional $2,000. In this shape the bill will save the State $6,000 a year, the present appropriation for the State Fire Marshal's office being $10,000 a year.

CONGRESSMAN LEWIS IN KENT

Congressman David J. Lewis has been campaigning in Kent this week. He made a personal canvas in Millington, Galena, Rock Hall and Chestertown in the interest of his candidacy for the Democratic nomination for senator and was very much encouraged every where he went. If the Democrats of Kent vote the way they are now talking, Mr. Lewis will carry Kent county. He reports his prospects in other parts of the State as fine.

ENVELOPES AND OUTSIDE BALLOTS ARE PROHIBITED

Under an amendment to the Primary Election Law, passed by the recent Legislature, the use of outside ballots in the primary election which is to be held on May 1, for the United States Senators and Congressman, will not be allowed. The act is made to go into effect immediately, and will apply next month. Under the old law it was possible to have the ballots marked and given to voters, who would vote the same without risk of losing their vote. But now each voter must get an official ballot and take it to the booth and make his own marks on it.

LOOK OUT KENT!

Kent county should get a share of that $2,700,000 fund for roads and bridges passed by the last legislature. It is said that the Chestertown gap will surely be built the first thing and it is our belief that if a united and harmonious effort is made that a stone road to lower Kent county can be secured. Now is the time to make plans to get the Road Commission to look seriously into the need of a road for this section. But one thing is certain, the State Road Commission will pick the route and we would do well to confine our efforts to persuading the Commission to give us a road and not try to dictate the route.

SUCH an awful bellowing as the Baltimore papers are setting up because they did not succeed in robbing the adjoining counties of part of their territory. And they wanted to force them to come into the city without their consent. Then again, Baltimore itself was not united on any one line of action until the last minute. We advise the city to first present a united front on what they want, act fair and not try to take territory by force How different the Baltimore papers acted when the prohibition fight was on. Then they insisted that they should have a voice in saying whether the Prohibition law should apply to Baltimore, but did not want to give the counties the same treatment when annexation was considered. Consistency is still a wonderful thing and Baltimore should practice it a little more.

HARRINGTON IS SATISFIED

Governor Harrington said in regard to the work of the Legislature:

"I had hearty co-operation from Speaker Laird, and I must say, he did wonderful work for the State. President Campbell also stood with me in pushing through the administration measures and deserves thanks. In fact, I had the support throughout the session of every member I asked to assist in getting the administration measures through.

"I am sure that when the citizens of the State have opportunity to review and sum up what has been done they will appreciate the work of their representatives."

"As to revenue measures of which there were many passed, no one as yet can make a safe estimate, but the Governor said he would have an estimate made up in a week or so.

"If there is not an increase of $400,000 or $500,000 a year in the revenue we will be in a hole," said he.

PRETTY GOOD AFTER ALL

Even the Baltimore Sun which has been setting up a calamity howl for several weeks admits that the past Legislature has been good in these words: "With the passage of the bill submitting to the people the budget amendment to the State Constitution and the passage of the bill abolishing all "continuing" appropriations, constitute a pretty strong accomplishment looking toward economy and efficiency. If the work which has been done toward abolishing useless departments and consolidating overlapping ones is followed by a careful survey of the routine business of all the departments looking to the elimination of waste, the State of Maryland will find its public service conducted at a much cheaper figure and with much greater efficiency. It has been necessary for public opinion to be aroused to keep the administration and the Legislature up to the mark at all times, but on the whole the job is a good job. If public opinion continues to manifest itself, the job of surveying the routine work will be a good one."

STATE TAX RATE IS FIXED

The General Assembly passed under a suspension of the rules a bill fixing the State tax rate for the next two years. The rate for 1917 will be 36 5-12 cents on the $100, while that for 1918 will be 36¾ cents on the $100. The items set forth in the bill are as follows:

Purpose for which tax is levied:	1917 Cents.	1918 Cents.

"DID PRETTY WELL"

Dr. Goodnow Says The Commission Did't Work In Vain.

Dr. Frank J. Goodnow, president of Johns Hopkins University and chairman of the Goodnow Economy and Efficiency Commission, declared that he was well satisfied with the work of the Maryland Legislature as applied to the recommendations of the Commissions.

"The most important of all our recommendations," he said, "was the budget, and it went through. The plan will now be submitted to the people for their approval at the November election. I think it will be well to arouse public interest in it in order to be sure of its adoption.

Rsason To Be Satisfied.

"While the Legislature did not follow all our recommendations it complies with the majority of them, and I think we have every reason to be satisfied. In some instances the members of our Commission were divided as to what was the best thing to be done in the way of consolidation, and naturally members of the General Assembly had the same right to differ in opinion.

"Our recommendation was not followed in regard to consolidating the Automobile Commission with the Good Roads Commission, but the recommendation for linking the Fire Marshal and Insurance Commission up together was adopted and the Commissioner of Immigration was abolished.

Commission Did Well.

"Some offices were abolished or consolidated with others and I do not feel that the Commission threw its time away. Taking it altogether I think we did pretty well."

"As president of the John Hopkins, how are you satisfied with the way the Legislature treated the university in the matter of appropriations?" Dr. Goodnow was asked.

"Our Annapolis appropriation of $25,000," he replied, "was cut $10,000, the Legislature giving us $15,000, but it allowed $50,000 appropriation for the School of Technology. So I think, all things considered, we fared pretty well in this too. Everything could have been much worse, and in reviewing the the situation briefly, without having bad the time or opportunity to go into details, I will say that I am satisfied. Yes, the Legislature did pretty well."
