THE STORE THAT SERVES YOU BEST

The Hochschild, Kohn & Co. Store was founded in 1897. It began with a plain announcement of its policy and its intentions.

A clear contract was made — is still made, and will always be made—with every customer. This is the contract—it is printed on the back of every sales-check:

Our System

Reliable goods only, at uniformly right prices. For all articles returned, if uninjured, and within reasonable time, we shall willingly refund money.

Baltimore's Best Store is the store of progress. It is not ideal, but it is striving to be.

Its aim is to please—to satisfy; and it never loses sight of the mark. It is the accepted and avowed shopping place of a great many people, in Baltimore, throughout Maryland, and in almost every other state in the Union.

FIVE RULES FOR HAPPINESS

I

Cultivate the habit of always looking upon the bright side of every experience.

Worry and anxiety are the great killers. Worry has the effect of breaking down the nerve centres and making one less able to do one's work or to meet any difficulty. Don't cross the bridge before you come to it. Meet every trouble as it arises.

II

Accept cheerfully your place in life while you are in it believing that it is the best place for you.

This does not mean that one should not strive to better his condition, but it means that while you are in one position make the most of it and don't be envious, fretful, and jealous of others. "Oh," you say, "If I just had something else, or were in some other situation, I could be happy" No you would not be, If you cannot command happiness in your present position you could not find it in another.

III

Throw your whole soul and spirit into your work, and do it the best you know how.

No matter what your work is, while you are in it you must make a delight of doing it well or you will never be happy.

IV

Get in the habit of doing bits of kindness and courtesies to all those who touch your life each day.

This means at home principally. Any one can be polite and pleasant and thoughtful when out on dress parade. But the folks who love you most and whom you most love are in your own housebold or immediate surroundings. Try thoughtfulness, kindness and courtesy with them—husband to wife, wife to husband parents to children, children to parents, brothers to sisters and sister to brothers.

V

Adopt and maintain a simple, child-like attitude of confidence and trust in God as your own Father.—From a report of Dr. Charles E. Barker's lecture, "How to live to be One Hundred Years Old."—The Progressive Farmer.

DEALING WITH TYPHOID GERMS

One of the special dangers of typhoid bacillus is that even after the patient has completely recovered it may continue to inhabit him; and his secretion may remain dangerous for at least six years Persons who have recovered from the disease are potentially dangerous, and must be supervised for a long time.

Fortunately, there is not much danger that typhoid germs will infect water supplies. Doctor Houston, the superintendent of the water supply to London, has proven conclusively that the harmless organisms always present in water kill the germs in about ten days.

It is necessary to store the water for the supply of large towns in reservoirs; and by taking care that no water that enters a reservoir shall leave it in less than three weeks the danger of the water's carrying typhoid is made insignificant. The test that Dr. Houston applied was a heroic one; he himself drank water, after storing it for three weeks, that he had infected with typhoid fever. He suffered no ill effect.—Sir William Ramsay in The Youth's Companion.
