CAPT. KOLAND BENNETT, of Broad Neck, brought a curiosity to the NEWS office last Friday caught in a net in Chester river off Mr. Jack Westcott's shore. The thing looked like a sea horse in some respects. It had a tail that curled at the end, two front feet and a head like a young colt, but no horns. It was in alcohol and created considerable interest.

ANOTHER one of Chestertown's young men, Prof. William Frazier Russell, Jr., has passed the State Bar examination and is now permitted to practice law in this State. Mr. Russell deserves special commendation for this honor inasmuch as he attended the law school at the same time he was teaching at the Maryland School for the Blind. In this way he was enabled to make "both ends meet." Congratulations, Frazier.

W. B. STAFFORD has kept a record of the amount of mail hauled to and from the Kent train as follows: From Dec. 1st to Dec. 25th outgoing mail was 679 sacks and 186 sacks, outside parcel post. The incoming mail, same period, was 1181 sacks and 117 parcel post.

THE Grollman farms were not offered at public sale Tuesday but will be advertised and sold later. The Court ordered the withdrawal of the farms.

A SPLENDID CHRISTMAS TREAT was given at St. James Church Thursday evening. Over 300 boxes of candy were distributed and all enjoyed the entertainment. A pleasant feature was the singing by Miss Thomas, of Baltimore, and her sister, Mrs. Tilghman Hudson, and a recitation by Miss Barbara Willis, of Western Md. College.

THERE will be a public meeting of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union in the M. E. Church, Chestertown on Tuesday, January 4, 1916, at 2.30 p. m. There will be an address by Rev. L. E. Barrett with a fine musical program followed by refreshments. All the ladies of the town are invited to be present.

THE feature of the Community tree program last Friday was an address by Cashier William F. Russell, who was called upon to fill Judge Pearce's place, the latter being on the train which did not arrive until after all the exercises were over. The balance of the program was carried out as heretofore published in the NEWS.

A DELAWARE MAN has a collie that wades into natural oyster beds and brings him from one to three bushels of oysters a day. He had better keep a sharp watch on that dog or it will be shanghaied.

W. H. NEWNAM, of Mt. Washington, Baltimore, has sold his farm near Chestertown, in Queen Annes county, to Mr. Charles H. Vaughn, of Philadelphia. The farm contains 110 acres and the price paid was $9,000. Mr. Newnam formerly resided in Chestertown.

AMONG the removals we note that Mr. W. T. H. Whiteley has rented the Johnson 20-acre farm in Quaker Neck and removed his family there; Mr. Ellison will make some improvements to the corner property, High and Princess streets, throwing more room into the store for S. E. Kirby; Mr. Walter Elburn is moving to the farm in Queen Anne's now tenanted by Mr. Charles Baxter and recently purchased by Dr. Smith; Mr. Hicks Loller, one of Kent's young farmers, will remove to Mr. D. T. Hurlock's farm in Queen Anne's; Mr. Frank Walraven, who recently purchased the Fletcher Sparks farm, near Dudley's Church, Queen Anne's, will remove there Jan. 1, and he will be succeeded by Mr. Olin Spry.

AN unusual suit was docketed last week by Messrs. H. H. Barroll and Edw. Robinson against the Commissioners of Chestertown and the Water Board for alleged draining of the wells at the home of Mr. Robinson by sinking artesian wells on the lot which the town recently purchased from Mr. Robert J. McWhorter, and which adjoins the farm of Mr. Barroll and tenanted by Mr. Robinson. The amount sued for is $5000.

CONTRACTOR PRICE, of Baltimore, is tearing away the residence corner High and Water street belonging to Mrs. Gladys Wickes and will erect on the rear of the lot an 8-room modern cottage. This new home will be occupied by Prof. Creasy and wife.

THE Bradley store-room on High street has been rented by the Child's agency for a grocery store.

A. COHEN will accept our thanks for a sample of his fine oranges.

THE 50-acre field, detached, has been sold by Mr. Richard Haggerty to the Misses Pennington, daughters of Mr. E. B. Pennington, for $3500. This field adjoins the "Corner" farm and is a splendid piece of land.

THERE were many pretty Christmas trees but none more interesting than that of little Ida Speilberger on account of many mechanical devices.

THE flour and grist mill of Rhodes & Cross at Queenstown has been purchased by Harry T. Barton and James M. Ewing.
