PUT THEM TO WORK

The Kent county jail is filled with twenty or thirty prisoners most of whom are there for petty offenses. They are certainly a happy crowd expending considerable energy in song and shouting. We think the time has now come when these men should be employed on the streets of Chestertown or on the roads of Kent. Some years ago it was hard to find work and under such conditions we do not think that the honest laborer should be deprived of his daily wage by one who is in jail. But today conditions are very different. It is difficult now to get help and if these men are made to do manual labor it will lessen crime, improve conditions and be profitable to the tax-payer and to the community.

AN AMAZING RECORD

When the first Congress of President Wilson's term ended, with its remarkable record of legislation enacted in fulfilment of the Democratic party's promises, many Democrats even felt that the high-water mark of legislative achievement had been reached. The Underwood tariff, the Income Tax law and the Federal reserve act did, indeed, constitute a trinity of measures the importances of which could not be overestimated, and there was much favorable comment upon the manner in which the Democratic majority, under President Wilson's leadership, had become an effective working organization. The old reproach concerning the incapacity of the Democratic party as a constructive, working body was wiped out. But there was a feeling, almost general, that the party could not duplicate this success in the Sixty-fourth Congress. A new broom sweeps clean, the critics suggested, and Mr. Wilson was no longer a new broom. The party could be held together as long as there were jobs to be distributed but after the patronage was gone the President would find it difficult to get united support for his policies. So the gossip ran.

Well, the Sixty-fourth Congress has now completed its labors and its record in some respects is even more remarkable than that of the preceeding one.

It has provided for the national defense on a larger scale than ever before in the history of the country.

It has passed a rural credits act.

It has provided for Federal aid to the states in construction of rural post roads.

It has passed a child-labor law.

It has passed a tariff commission.

It has inaugarated a system of compensation for Federal employes injured in the course of their employment.

It has provided protection for home manufactures in case of "dumping" by foreign nations.

It has passed the shipping bill.

It has provided new legislation regarding water powers.

It has wisely amended the banking and the income tax laws.

It has passed the law establishing eight hours as the standard work day for train service employes.

It has placed a tax on munitions.

It has provided for the establishment of joint foreign agencies for the sale of American goods abroad.

It has authorized the President to invite the governments of the world to a conference, after the European war, to consider the subjects of an international court of justice and disarmament.

It has created a Congressional joint committee to study the whole subject of Federal regulation of the railroads.

It has passed a Federal law regarding bills of lading.

It has given the Interstate Commerce Commission authority over the much-disputed question of railway mail pay.

It has passed important legislation to facilitate the marketing of farm products.

It has authorized the construction of plants for the making of armor and projectiles and for the production from the air of nitrates essential in powder-making.

It has passed amendments to the postal savings law increasing the amounts which individuals may deposit.

And it has enacted a mass of miscellaneous, beneficial legislation too extensive to mention in this issue.

Not all of this legislation has been unquestionably wise. Some of it is doubtful. But of it, in whole, no other verdict can be delivered than that it is good and that it constitutes an amazing record. It forms convincing proof of the extraordinary ability of President Wilson as a party leader. It furnishes evidence of the sincerity and general wisdom with which Congress has worked for the public welfare, particularly the business welfare, of the country. And it must inevitably bring the voters of the country face to face with the question whether they desire to continue in office an administration that can produce such results as these.

WHO IS DUER?

Who is this Duer who is running for Congress on the Republican ticket? What has he ever done? By the silent campaign he is waging he must have contracted "pussyfootitis" from his leader, the Honorable Charles Evans Hughes. The Republicans are silent, so are the dead. Is there much difference between the two?—Easton Ledger.

A very cordial invitation is extended to the mothers of boys to see the new fall models of clothes at Bordley & Sons. Some excellent school suits there and priced very moderately, too.

SECTIONALISM CRY REACTS ON HUGHES

G. O. P. Candidate Is Mocked by Record of His Own Party in Congress.

LAWS ENACTED ARE FOR ALL

On Its Achievements Administration Invites Judgment as to Whether Its Work Is Sectional in Its Scope and Purpose.

Charles E. Hughes has raised the cry of sectionalism, complaining to his Western audiences because the important Committee Chairmanships in the House and Senate have been filled—this being due to seniority promotions—by Southern members.

"During the last year of Republican control there was not a committee chairmanship from the South," replies Congressman James B. Aswell in his speech reported in the Congressional Record. "Was that nationalism or blind, ignorant partisanship?" he asks.

"Let the people decide," he suggests, "whether the following great measures enacted by this so-called South-controlled Congress are sectional or national:

"The Underwood Tariff Law, just to the consumer as against the special privileged class, followed by a non-partisan tariff commission removing the tariff question from politics.

"The Income Tax Law, causing the rich to pay their just proportion of the expenses of the Government.

"The Rural Credits Law, the first legislation solely for the farmers.

"The establishment of rural routes, the extension of the parcel post, and better mail service for our rural population.

"The Good Roads Law for all sections and for all our people.

"Farm extension laws, including Smith-Lever Act, grain and cotton standards, regulating cotton futures, and so forth.

"Numerous just labor laws, the most beneficial in a century by the American Congress.

"The Child Labor Law for the children of the whole country and for civilization.

"The Federal Reserve Act, giving an elastic currency and preventing financial panics—the greatest act ever passed in the history of our Government.

"Conservation acts for the people as against special interests.

"Anti-trust laws and arbitration laws, preventing special-interest control.

"Shipping act for open markets for our products and commercial mastery of the seas.

"Federal Trade Commission Act, protecting the individual as against the vested interests.

"The Seamen's Law for the workmen, and public safety.

"Legislation supporting the President in keeping us out of the European war while maintaining peace with honor to the American flag.

"Mr. Speaker, for the sake of the great dignity of the high office he seeks and in the name of common decency, let Mr. ex-Justice Hughes specify and name the sectional measures in the above list and mention those he would repeal!"

100 PER CENT. AMERICAN.

"I am the candidate of a party but I am above all things else an American citizen. I neither seek the favor nor fear the displeasure of that small alien element among us which puts loyalty to any foreign power before loyalty to the United States."—From President Wilson's Speech of Acceptance.
