Rev. S. S Hepburn, who has been quite sick in Suttersville informs us by card that he is much improved, but will not be able to conduct service tomorrow (Sunday) at I. U. or Betterton. He hopes to be well enough for the services of the following Sunday.

In the twelve days revival meetings held at Skinners Neck School house closing November 2nd, we had 31 conversions among these were aged mothers and fathers, also about one third were young men. The evangelist Miss Mattie German, of Hebron, Wicomico county, Md., proved a great blessing to us in the salvation of these persons by her solos and personal appeals. She certainly is splendid help and the writer takes great pleasure in recommending her to any pastor who may need of like assistance. She comes for free will offering. This makes 57 conversions added to Piney Neck charge in the nearly four weeks revival. May the blessing of heaven rest on those who so graciously assist us through song, prayer and preached word, is the earnest wish and prayer of the writer.

Rev. S Reese Murray, pastor of the Catonsville Methodist Episcopal Church has been named pastor of Grace Methodist Episcopal Church to succeed Rev. Robert A. Colpitts. Rev. Mr. Colpitts and wife are both in very bad health and on that account has given up his work. Rev. Mr Murray is well-known in Chestertown as an able preacher.

An open forum on temperance was held in Christ Church Sunday afternoon which proved quite interesting. Every class assigned a subject responded promptly and to the point. Music was furnished by Miss Mayme Thompson's class of young ladies. Rev. J. L Ward preached a strong sermon on temperance at night. Misses Minnie Hudson and Flora Wheatley sang a pretty duet at the Young People's service.

Prices of foodstuff took an increased flight skyward last week, and oyster prices went down the scale.

The coal situation is very annoying to our people. There is no coal in stock in the coal yards in this town.

Many of the river oystermen who came to the bay side two weeks ago, have returned back to the river. Long walks and the slump in the oyster business is the cause.
