SEATS 7; WEIGHS 3005 LBS. BEAUTIFUL AND LIVELY

That well describes the 7-passenger 6-30 Chalmers. The car of the double cowl, marine lines, long tufted upholstery. Its activity on hills and in city streets has caused wide comment. Sane in design and sensible in action. Easy on the pocket book.

Until Nov. 30 only $1280. After that $1350. A quality car.

IF you are a business man, if you are a professional man, if you are employed at a daily wage, make up your mind to deposit weekly a certain sum of money in the bank. You'll be surprised how the sum will grow. Cash in bank gingers up the man who has it there. He has more confidence in himself. The business man is ready for a dull season. He is ready for an opportunity.

So is the professional man. The man who is working for a daily wage and who hasn't any money in bank frequently is fearful of a loss of his situation. He does not work as well or with the confidence in himself as does the man with something laid aside for a rainy day.

A SONG OF SASSAFRAS

BELLE CAPLES MORRIS.

Sing a song of Sassafras, a pocket full of rye,
Put it in the bottle and we'll never pass it by—
Sing a song of Sassafras and all her merry men,
Fill the bottle to the top we'll drain it dry again.
We're living in a world of gold this Indian Summer weather,
And merry men of Sassafras are happy all to-together.

Sing a song of Sassafras beneath the hunter's moon—
We'll take the coon dogs out tonight and ketch a big fat coon;
There's a hollow gum on Brice's that has one in't I know,
Get Henry Ward's old coon dog and all the gang will go;
Bob, Shep Ralph and Allender; small chance for that old coon—
Who wouldn't live at Sassafras beneath a hunter's moon.

Sing a song of Sassafras, the turkeys roostin' high
And Uncle Henry's lookin' round to see which way they fly;
He'll ketch a fat old possum, a ground hog or a coon,
For his Thanksgiving turkey may be roostin' in the moon,
And Marsa Harry, Marsa John, and all the happy crew
Will drain the cider barrel dry—the latch strings out to you

WASHINGTON LOSES TO CHESTER

Pennsylvania Military College's spectacular aerial attack opened up in the first minute of play swept Washington College's warriors off their feet Saturday. The cadets won hard-fought struggle, 17 to 0.

Horlacher, the soldiers' plucky and speedy little end, played a sensational game. He pulled down two forward passes, heaved by Martin, for thirty and forty-yard gains; circled the ends on criss cross plays for long distances and kicked a goal from placement from the thirty-five-yard mark.

Campuzano's splendid generalship o the cadet team figured largely in the victory. Realizing that Washington outweighed P. M. C., he opened up the play immediately after the kick-off. Tricky end runs by Sigel and Martin and a thirty five-yard forward pass, artin to Campuzano, resulted in the first touchdown The air route put the soldiers within striking distance again in the second period and Horlacher booted his goal.

Washington College's backs were unable to dent the cadet line. Big 'Ed" Cramp's tackling was deadly. Felin, Leet, Peters and Whitaker smothered play after play, and Davis, the six-foot five-inch end, smashed interference in beautiful style. The success of the P. M. C. forward passes ended when Martin was injured and forced to withdraw.

Smashes off tackle, ten and fifteen-yard runs by Sigel and Horlacher, gave the cadets their chance for a second touchdown in the fourth period, and Campuzano pierced the line for the score.

The Winner in Delaware

A prize acre of Johnson county white corn on the farm of Alonzo S. Whittock, near Odessa, was cut and husked under the supervision of Professor Wesley Webb, secretary of the State Board of Agriculture, and county Farm Agent W. H. Cooch, recently, and yielded 117 bushels. The corn was planted May 19, and 1000 pounds of lime was drilled on at that time and 900 pounds of 16 per cent acid phosphate was applied in three different applications. This is the best acre hussed so far in the contest, which is held every year, and has been won in the past four by Mr. Whittock.
