LOCAL NOTES

The marriage of Deputy Sheriff Hulbert Townsend and Miss Martha Walls took place at Pomona parsonage Thursday evening, Rev. Mr. Lindale officiating. The bride taught school at Hanesville last year and has her sister-in-law, Mrs. Frank Kerr. Clements. They are making their home at present with the Deputy's parents.

Announcement has been made of the marriage of George I. Lockwood, of Middletown, and Mademoiselle Louise Morgan, of Paris, France, on Thursday, June 30, in Paris. Mr. Lockwood is the eldest son of Mrs. George W. Lockwood, of Middletown. He met his bride in Paris during the World War.

Miss Goldie May Wilkinson and Harold Lambert, of Wilmington, Del., were married at Elkton July 5th. The young couple were returning from a visit at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Donelson, at Rock Hall, where Mrs. Lambert has been a frequent guest, and stopped at Elkton for the ceremony.

J. T. Hadaway & Son have opened a new service and repair shop in the R. Thompson building. The B. S. Ford brought 389 excursionists on the trip Sunday.

Dr. C. W. Whaland has bought a new Ford. His old car has been 9,000 miles. At a meeting of travelers of Mrs. Ida Skipper Parks held Thursday morning, S. Scott Beck, Esq., was made trustee.

The non-jury term of the Circuit Court for Kent County was held on Monday, with Associate Judge Lewin Wickes, on the bench. Only one chancery case was heard. An interesting question of law considered was the validity of negotiable notes containing provision for execution under judgment prior to maturity. Judge Wickes withheld an opinion but remarked that a note was a contract and as such would be enforceable.

The week of July 17-24, 1921, will be observed as "No-Accident Week," the purpose being to arouse our people to guard against the hazards of accidents, and to demonstrate how many are avoidable, because due to carelessness or indifference, and how materially accidents can be reduced by the exercise of common sense.

John A. Carroll, of Queen Anne's, lost his fine Russell trotter Tuesday. He had been speeding him, and seeing blood on the road, stopped and found the horse had broken blood vessels. Russell was said to be the fastest horse in two counties, 8 years old, and had been valued at $400 when colt.

Creditors of Claude F. Parks will be paid 50 cent of their claims after July 20th, in accordance with composition settlement agreed upon and confirmed by the U. S. District Court.

The "Legg" farm situated near Fairlee, was offered at public sale, on Tuesday by Herbert E. Perkins, trustee for Claude F. Parks, and withdrawn at a bid of $6500. The farm contains 158 acres.

During the electrical storm on Monday afternoon, lightning struck a shock of wheat on the Vickers-Carvel farm near town. It also struck a pole in Quaker Neck and C. E. Woods, who was driving near, says his horse dropped to his knees.

Harry Rasin, of Kennedyville, has been offered a chair in the Chesapeake High School under J. L. Davis.

Among other changes in tenants not heretofore mentioned in the News is that of Mark Rogers who will tenant the Boggs farm, near Crumpton. C. L. Jarrett will have a sale of the stock now there.

Dave Cannon will remove from Queen Anne's to the Melvin farm in Monrovia, situated by G. Ford. Maxwell Meeks has rented the Jas. D. Davis farm near Lambson.

Dr. Clarence P. Gould, president of Washington College, is on a tour of the Peninsula in an effort to secure students for the coming school year, and also to drive the campaign for the raising of the fund which the Alumni Association has undertaken to raise. The prospect is for a good enrollment next year.

Lynch, thru which the hail storm swept with such destruction, lays claim to the best wheat crop in the county. Charles F. Norris had 15 acres that was unscratched which produced 32 bushels to the acre. Let's hear from Massey.

Last year J. B. Dunn purchased the William Trev Brown farm in Quaker Neck for $42,000 and immediately converted it into a large stock farm for the purpose of raising thoroughbred cattle and draft and running horses. He stocked the farm with fine cows which now have 19 calves, and he recently imported a thoroughbred draft stallion and a number of fine mares. He also has stocked a large hennery with 2700 Rhode Island Red and Barred Rock young chicks which he purposes to develop into layers for the fall and winter season. Saturday he received twenty cows and six calves for stock purposes. The farm contains 420 acres. Harvey W. Morris is superintending the farm for the owner.

The local military company, Sanitary Detachment 1st In. Md. Nat. Guards, under command of Capt. Frank B. Hines, will leave by special train next Sunday morning for Saunders Range where they will encamp for two weeks special training. Following is the roster of the company, all of whom are expected to report for entrainment: Dr. Frank B. Hines, Captain in Command; Sgt. First Class, Olin B. Stafford; Sgts. Harvey Blyman, Thomas Perry, and Graham Nelson; Corp'l, Herman Blackway; Cook, John Bedwell; Privates, J. A. Blyman, Vickers Bowers, Harvey Brown, Arthur Burris, B. L. Clark, Howard Clark, Harry Clothier, Charles P. Coleman, S. C. Coleman, Oscar Faucett, John Hendricks, Joseph McGinnis, Spencer Mulford, Leonard Needles, Dave Roberts, Earl Smith, Foster Smith, J. W. Walbert, W. L. Walbert. The company will return home July 31st.

Personal Findings
