COW-TESTING ASSOCIATIONS

Some Notable Improvement in Milk Production Reported From State of New Hampshire.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)
In seven cow-testing associations in New Hampshire, 216 cows were sold during 12 months, and their places filled by more profitable animals, according to a report made to the dairy division, United States Department of Agriculture. This averages nearly 31 cows for each association. In these New Hampshire associations some notable improvement in production is reported.

In six cow-testing associations in that state, which have been at work for two years, 19 herds made an average age increase per cow of 768 pounds of milk annually, and an increase of $49.30 in the income over cost of feed. In six associations that have been at work for three years, six herds secured an increase of 866 pounds in the milk yield per cow, and an income over cost of feed of $93.21 more than the herds formerly averaged.

In general, cow-testing association work in New Hampshire is on a good, sound basis, the department says. Association members are studying individual cow records, the ability of purebred bulls to increase production, wise feeding practices, and the proper raising of young stock. The influence of these studies is affecting even dairymen who are not members of the associations.

DEVELOPMENT OF GOOD COWS

Typical Letter From Dairyman Aiding in "Better Sires—Better Stock" Campaign.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

To illustrate how a good herd of cattle may be developed from a small beginning, the United States Department of Agriculture makes public the following letter from a farmer near Nokesville, Va. This letter is typical of many contributed by practical farmers aiding in the "Better Sires—Better Stock" campaign.

"I am a farmer and dairyman. I milk 75 cows and raise about two calves a year so as to be able to cull my herd two cows a year and replace with young calves.

"I started with common grades of all kinds, but they were good ones. Then I began using my neighbor's purebred bull, and kept the best heifers. But this was slow progress, so I bought six grade Holstein heifers and also a purebred bull. Then I added two purebred cows."

"I now find a ready sale for stock I wish to sell, even for my grades. When one uses a good bull and good cows, well cared for, he does not have any scrub calves."

The letter points out clearly how it is possible for one to develop gradually into a breeder of purebred and high-grade live stock.

SEPARATE STALL FOR COWS

Youngsters Prevented From Crowding and Nursing Each Other's Ears—Expense Is Small.

A Wisconsin farmer, who had a number of calves, thought it might be well to find some means of keeping them separate while feeding. They pushed and pulled and "nursed" each other's ears so that the stronger ones were well fed while the weaker went hungry. Steel stanchions were an expense which he did not feel was justified with his small herd.

At little cost and with small labor he built wooden stalls to which the calves could be tied while feeding. Board partitions separate them more completely from one another, and individual earthenware bowls, which fit into a wooden frame, form separate feeding devices which may be easily renewed and cleaned.

RIGHT SPEED OF SEPARATOR

If Bowl Does Not Travel at Proper Speed Inefficient Skimming Will Be the Result.

The speed at which the cream separator is operated is a matter of importance. If the bowl does not travel at the proper rate of speed, inefficient skimming will be the result, too much butterfat being left in the skim milk. A decrease in the speed of the machine will cause a decrease in the fat test of the cream, while running the machine too fast will cause an increase. Care should be taken to operate the separator at the speed designated by the manufacturer. To be sure that the machine is being run at the correct speed the revolutions of the crank should be timed by a reliable indicator or a watch.

Ford

THE UNIVERSAL CAR ANNOUNCEMENT

Mr. H. B. Ford, President of the Ford Motor Company gives out the following statement:

"Another reduction has been made in the list price of all types of Ford Cars and the Ford Ton Truck to take effect immediately. The list prices f. o. b. Detroit are now as follows:

Touring Car$415.00	Runabout$370.00
Coupe695.00	Sedan760.00
Chassis345.00	Truck495.00

Fordson Tractor $625.00.

The big reductions last fall were made in anticipation of low material costs which we are now getting the benefit of, and this fact together with increased manufacturing efficiency and the unprecedented demand for Ford Cars, particularly during the past three months permitting maximum production, have made another price reduction possible immediately.

"Ford business for April and May 1921 was greater by 56,633 cars and trucks than for the same two months in 1920.

"During May we produced 101,424 Ford Cars and Trucks the biggest month in the history of our Company—4,000 cars per day will be produced in June.

"The Fordson Tractor is still being sold at less than cost of production—therefore no further cut in the price of tractor will be made at this time."

Wm. Frazer Russell, Jr., Solicitor. Annie Harris vs. Calvin Harris

In the Circuit Court for Kent County, in Equity, No. 2124.

The Object of the Bill filed in the above entitled case is to procure a Divorce, "a vinculo matrimonii", for the Plaintiff, a resident of Kent County, Maryland, from the Defendant.

THE BILL STATES:
1. That in the year 1916 she was married to her husband, Calvin Harris, with whom she resided in Kent County, Maryland, until sometime during the spring of the year 1921.

2. That, though the conduct of your Oratrix toward her husband, the said Calvin Harris, has always been kind, affectionate and above reproach, the said Calvin Harris has, without any just cause or reason abandoned and deserted her, and has declared his intention to live with her no longer and that such abandonment has continued uninterrupted for at least three years, and is deliberate and final, and the separation of the parties beyond any reasonable expectation of reconciliation.

3. That the said Calvin Harris on divers days and times since the said marriage has committed the crime of adultery with certain lewd and abandoned women in said Kent County whose names are to your oratrix unknown.

4. That ever since their said marriage your oratrix has behaved herself as a faithful, chaste and affectionate wife.

5. That your oratrix has not lived or cohabited with the said Calvin Harris since she has discovered his said adultery.

6. That your oratrix and the said defendant Calvin Harris have had no children born to them from said marriage.

7. That the said Defendant, Calvin Harris, is a non-resident of the State of Maryland, whose present whereabouts is unknown.

It is therefore this 19th day of July A. D. 1921, ordered by the Circuit Court for Kent County, Maryland, in Equity, that the Plaintiff, by causing a copy of this Order to be inserted in some newspaper published in said Kent County, before the 22nd day of August next, giving notice to the said Calvin Harris, non-resident Defendant, warning him to appear in this Court in person, or by Solicitor on or before the 8th day of September next to show cause, if any he has, why a decree ought not be passed as prayed.
