MILKMEN TO PAY LESS TO FARMERS

Letter To Deduct One Cent Per Gallon For Distributors Next Month—Retail Price To Remain.

Consumers will pay the same for milk in May as during the past several months, but the farmer will receive one cent less per gallon, according to an agreement reached Tuesday at a conference of milk distributors and producers at the office of the Maryland State Building, Baltimore.

Clyde L. King, of the University of Pennsylvania, milk arbitrator for Maryland, came over from Philadelphia and suggested the drop from 26 to 25 cents in cost to the distributors.

Among the reasons given for the drop was that more milk will be produced in May than in April on account of improved conditions in pasturage.
Since the distributors have contracted to buy all the farmers can produce, it was stated it will mean that the city dealers will be compelled to take on a surplus in May, and will have to provide means of turning what is not sold into butter or cheese, or charge it off as loss. The decrease in price, it was maintained, is too small to pass on to the consumer, and if it were done it would not be sufficient to stimulate sales to the point of absorbing all the surplus stock.

Baltimore, said D. G. Harry, president of the Dairymen's League, who presided at the meeting, is absorbing from 42,000 to 45,000 gallons of milk daily. This, he stated, amounts to not more than half pint for each individual in the city. Supplying this vast quantity of milk are 3,200 shippers, or farmer-dairymen, and on the distributing end are about 80 retail concerns with wagon routes.

Many of these distributors, said Mr.
Harry, cover the same territory, and he thought the consumer might get his milk about a cent a quart cheaper if the territory was divided up so that there would be no duplication of service.

"I do not believe it would be a good thing for any large city, however," said Mr. Harry, "to have this business under a single management. It would tend toward a monopoly and the possible loss of the milk in the long run, be more than offset by lack of proper service, or in quality of the supply." Retail prices, it was stated, will continue at 12 cents a quart and 7 cents a pint.

ALL REAL ESTATE TO BE REASSESSSED

Complete re-assessment of all real estate in Kent county, prior to the levy in 1923, has just been ordered by the State Tax Commission of Maryland, and in a letter to the board of county commissioners they are directed to include the sum of $7,000 in their levy for 1923 to take care of the expense incident to the review.
The last general assessment of real estate was in 1917.

The order from the State Tax Commission to the board of county commissioners for Kent county is as follows:
Whereas, by Article 81, Section 235, Paragraph 6, it is the duty of the State Tax Commission to require that all property in the State be reviewed for assessment at least once in every five years, and whereas the last review for assessment of real estate was in the year 1917, and it now becomes the duty of the Commission to require a revision in 1922.

Therefore, the County Commissioners of the several counties be, and they are hereby directed, to immediately proceed to review all real estate (embracing land and improvements thereon) for assessment purposes, said review to be completed prior to the levy, in the several counties in Maryland, of 1923.

And the County Commissioners of Kent county are authorized and directed to include in their levy for the year 1923, the sum of seven thousand ($7,000) to take care of the expenses incident to said review.
The order was placed before the board of county commissioners at their regular weekly meeting. No action has yet been taken, but some time during the current year it will be necessary to appoint a staff of assessors, and re-assess all real estate throughout the entire county.

A portrait of Dr. Charles W. Reid, a former president of Washington College, is being painted by Miss Ethel Peinewill Brown, of Dover. The portrait will be placed in William Smith Hall, Washington College, as a memorial to Dr. Reid, and will be finished before commencement.

The report of the Board of Town Commissioners shows an expenditure of $20,034.54 for various town improvements and expenses during the past twelve months, and a balance of $1,224.88. The assessable basis of the town property is $1,400,000; the town tax rate for all purposes 75 cents on the $100.

A WORTHY CAUSE

Splendid Meetings in Churches Sunday for Near East Relief—Several Hundred Dollars Raised—Old Clothes Week.

The pulpits of the Methodist Episcopal and the Methodist Protestant Churches were filled on Sunday morning and evening by Miss Katherine Reynolds McCormick, National Speaker for the Near East Relief, an organization chartered by Congress in 1919 to meet the appalling misery in Turkey which is more commonly called the Near East.

Miss McCormick explained the political situation existing there today, and continuous warfare, which has made reconstruction impossible, made continued help an imperative necessity.

She showed the bravery of the natives, Christians, Greeks, Syrians, Assyrians and Armenians in their stand for the Allies and especially that of the Americans whom Lord Robert Cecil officially reported as giving more men to the Allied cause than any other nationality in proportion to their numbers.

Miss McCormick dwelt particularly on the marvelous way in which this race had held their faith in Christ in the fall of unbelievable persecutions and placed it squarely before her hearers as a great Christian cause.

She explained the financial working of the organization, how overhead expenses must be kept within 10 per cent and how the half of this expense is borne by Mr. Cleveland Dodge, of Newport, thus insuring the use for relief of at least 95 per cent of all money and she further explained that many, like herself, are volunteer workers some even paying their own expenses.

Miss McCormick pleaded for three forms of help:
First—Strong letters to Congressman and to the President urging an effort to give to these subject Christian nationalities the justice which was promised them by the Allies during the war.

Second—Money contribution as liberal as possible that as many lives as possible may be saved.

Third—Contributions of clothing that no money may be diverted from the buying of food.

Money received to date as reported is $105.68 in cash and $34 in pledges from the M. E. Church and $75.81 in cash and $39 in pledges from the M.
P. Church.

The Episcopal Church will take up the matter later when Mr. Ainsley, of Church Hill, one of three clergymen appointed by Bishop Davenport to do special Near East Relief work in this diocese, will speak.

All three Sunday schools and the day schools are taking up special work for this cause, the children in the grammar grades each hoping to bring seventeen cents, the price of a breakfast, dinner and supper and so fill for one day the empty bowl of a little Christian orphan over in the land which gave Christ birth and which is now a land of orphans.

They are anxious too to bring in old clothes for the clothes we sent last year not enough or are all worn out.
Miss Rebecca Davis has been appointed clothes chairman and Mrs.
Hope H. Barroll and Mrs. Fred. G.
Usilton will assist her.

Dr. Edward J. Clarke will send out letters this week to every teacher in the county asking her to have the children collect clothing using the school house as a depot and bring it all into Chestertown on the day of the School Rally.

"How great the need is for all you can send us, is more than I can make you understand" wrote Mrs. McCorn-ick from Constantinople a few months ago.

"You who have only seen the America can have no idea what nakedness means. Patch upon patch and the patches in shreds," writes a worker from Mardin—"Send us clothes for men, for women, for children and send them quickly."

"It was shivering lot of humanity" writes Miss Caldwell from Rodosto.
"Men and women, little children were with only one tattered cotton garment and the sleet falling." Thanks for clothes which had just come in from America we were able in four days to clothe 7199 people. Thank God for America. They plead for work and it is a happy day when we find jobs, but if we can't give them work we must give them food and clothes."

$100 has been given by private individuals to Miss McCormick personally and sent in.

Diacesan Convention Monday

Preparations are perfected for the 54th annual convention of the Episcopal Diocese of Easton to be held in Emmanuel Church, Chestertown, beginning Monday. The program has been completed. The most important features will be the service on the evening of May 4, when Rev. Dr.
James E. Freeman, of Epiphany Church, Washington, will preach.

Tuesday morning Bishop Deveport will read his annual address, after which the first business session will be held. In the afternoon there will be an address by Rev. B. T. Kemerer, of New York, representing bishop and council, and in the evening there will be a meeting devoted to rural work.
The addresses will be by Rev. George B. Gilber, professor of rural work at Berkley Divinity School, and Rev. J.
L. Ware, field secretary of religious education for the province of Washington.

On Wednesday, May 3, there will be a business session in the morning and afternoon, followed by a conference for women led by Mrs. Julius Freeman, president of the Church Service League of the Diocese of Maryland, and a conference for men led by J.
Warfield Hobbs, of Baltimore.

In the evening there will be a young people's conference. The convention will elect delegates to the General Convention which meets in Portland, Oregon.
