

LOCAL NOTES

Sudlersville will have a fine matinee at the Driving Park Tuesday. Keen Horsey has bought of Mrs. Whitaker the double dwelling in Galena for $3,000. Mr. Horsey expects to occupy one of the apartments. The term of the present postmaster of Sudlersville will expire September 5th, 1922. This office is known as A Presidential office, and an examination to fill this office will be held in Centerville on July 15th next. This office pays a salary of $1300. The farm of the late Israel Woodruff, father of Mrs. Owen B. Crow, of Chestertown, was sold last Tuesday in Centerville by J. H. C. Legg, to W. H. Milby for $7,143.42. The farm is situated between Starkey's Corner and Flat Iron Square and contains 170 acres of land and two houses. John Durham, inspector for the C. & P. Telephone Co., had his ankle broken last Thursday at Rock Hall. A crew of workmen were removing a pole from the roadside preparing to erect same when the pole skidded striking Mr. Durham breaking his ankle. Several Chestertownians went to Denton Wednesday night to hear Rev. Parkes Cadman but he failed to appear because of the death in his membership. They report no rain until they had reached Church Hill neighborhood. Col. E. D. Abright takes the prize for first ripe tomatoes in Chestertown. His garden on Princess street on the avenue take pride in their work also including W. F. Jarrell, W. T. Pippin, J. T. Davis, G. W. Rash, Dr. H. B. Simmons and others. Mrs. Stouffer at Pomona has a Hydrangea about 2 1/2 feet tall that has 70 well-developed flowers. A new series of installment shares will be issued by the Kent Building & Loan Company next Monday night, July 3. This institution is now retiring its 31st series of stock and is in a highly prosperous condition. Beginning next week most of the stores of Chestertown will close earlier at 6 o'clock for the remainder of the summer. The "Dorance" or "Denny" farm situate in the 6th district, on Fairlee creek and containing 628 acres was sold Tuesday at Trustees' sale. It was bid in by J. Raymond Simpers for R. Hynson Rogers and Mrs. Guy Henry, former owners, at $25,000. The sale was made by Clarence W. Perkins, Esq., of Baltimore, as trustee. Gilbert B. Taylor, county surveyor, has been at work during the past 10 days surveying for the United States government a quantity of waste land near the mouth of Chester river, for purpose of reclaiming the land for cultivation. This land consists of a small island, which it is believed can be made a very productive spot, and as soon as the survey is completed it will be occupied. The waters surrounding the island abound in fish, oysters and crabs, and the shooting for wild ducks is unsurpassed in season. Col. Wm. J. Vannort is the owner of a book which contains the names of every soldier who served in the Civil War from the State of Maryland, including the regiment made up of Kent county men. Not more than five of these men are now living, Col. Vannort being among the oldest. The names of those from Kent are engraved on the monument which the late Judge James Alfred Pearce had squares of the town in front of the court house. Hicks Loller has sold his crop of wheat to be threshed to Metcalf Bros. for $1.07 per bushel. The $1,000 5 per cent lateral road bonds for Kent county were bought by the Third National Bank at a bid of $2 per hundred premium. There were three bidders.

Frances Orr, Robert Edmondson, Virginia Thompson and Gertrude Wilson of the University of Maryland have been awarded a silver medal in the High School Public Discussion League of Maryland. The High School Public Discussion League was initiated by the University of Maryland Extension Service to encourage a study and discussion of timely questions. This year the subject chosen for competitive debate between the high school teams was: "Resolved, That the closed shop would benefit the nation as a whole." The County Commissioners of Kent, Queen Anne's and Cecil held a conference in Chestertown Tuesday, in order to come to some understanding as to a uniform assessment basis. It was learned that the highest rated farm in Queen Anne's was the Hurluck land now owned by Mrs. Sweeney near Chester bridge, while the highest rated that was owned by James T. Dixon, near Chestertown. It was agreed that land adjoining the State road should be assessed somewhat higher than other farm land. Page Gale, of Seventh district, and James Wood, of Pikesville, and Woodall, of Galena, have resigned as assessors because of other pressing work. Lightning early Tuesday morning struck the home near Hanesville occupied by Joshua Davis. It tore the breach of a gun which stood up in the corner of the room. Lightning also killed two cows on the John D. Welch farm in upper Kent. Ruthvin Strong also had a calf killed by lightning several days ago. A truck loaded with "jumpy steady" was wrecked near Church Hill Tuesday evening and the load spilled. The stuff was consigned down the Shore. The lawn fete at Worton was not held Wednesday because of storm. It has been postponed to Friday, July 7th. There are many vacancies in the teaching force of Kent schools. Kentonville has three places to fill.

ORGANIZE INDEPENDENT BALL Movement On Foot To Form Baseball League To Include Easton, St. Michaels, Chestertown, And Centerville. An independent baseball league is in the course of formation on the Eastern Shore. Chestertown, Centerville, Easton, and St. Michaels will be asked to join, and to place on the field only home players. Chestertown is very anxious to enter such a league, and it is believed that St. Michaels will also come in. A number of persons formerly interested in baseball have already promised to contribute toward the team's support, and with the idea of home players more interest will be manifested than with a professional outfit. The Saturday Evening DANCES At Tolchester Will be held from 9.00 to 11.30 P. M. (Kent County Time.) 117 TOLCHESTER COMPANY
