ROCK HALL

M. Alexander has been making great improvements in his store by new shelving, whereby a better display of goods catches the eye of all comers.

Kramer and Durding's new store building is rapidly nearing completion and will soon be in operation to which time we are all looking with fond anticipation for rumor has it, that Alexander will cut prices down to our own choice while Kramer will just place on his counters all goods possible and say friends, just help yourselves to anything yo usee, free of charge. "Won't that be a happy time?"

Some of our business men born and raised here say they have never known so much money in circulation as has been the case in this section the present winter and past fall.

The pursenet fishermen are jubilant over the defeat of the purse net opposers. While the stake net men are grunty over the latest discussion concerning the depth of water stakes are allowed to be placed in.

Oystering on Swan Point has become so profitable that many of our oystermen have quit the Chester river for the bayside.

GRANGE NOTES

One of the most enjoyable meetings of Worton Grange was held last Monday night when this Grange was host to Still Pond and Kennedyville Granges. Altho the night was stormy and the roads muddy, yet quite a goodly number braved the elements and enjoyed the evening with us.

New life seems to have sprung up within us, as on this evening eleven new members were taken into our order with more to follow soon. These were all good active working members as was demonstrated at the entertainment given on Friday evening. Bro. Rash, our lecturer, had charge of the program for the entertainment of our guests and ably filled the bill. Bro. S. S. Hepburn was present and with his ready wit, gave us an inspiring address. Several solos, recitations and general discussion completed the evening, until refreshments consisting of cake and coffee was served by the Graces.

The entertainment of Friday night was more in the form of a musical, and was well worth the price of admission. About $26.00 was realized to swell the Grange treasury. We are meeting every Monday night at 7.30, so come out.

Still Pond Grange No. 245 held its regular meeting Tuesday night, Mar. 4th, 1924, with Worthy Master Albert Jervis in the chair. This live Grange has been very active in the last two months. In January a committee of two, consisting of Mrs. Howard Rasin and Mrs. J. L. Price were appointed to go to Baltimore to purchase a piano for the Grange. They selected the coldest day in the winter, with the thermometer hovering around 16, they started for the city, thinking of course the thermometer would go up but to their suprise, it went down, down to zero, but the committee kept stepping, arrived in Baltimore about 12 noon, went to Peabody Institute, purchased a piano and drove home without freezing. It was shipped as soon as the weather and ice would permit.

The next thing was to pay for same. This live Grange in 1915 took out a Liberty bond of $50, having that for a nest egg to start with. A committee of earnest workers soon had $75 for a first payment. Tuesday night, Feb. 26th, the Grange held an entertainment in Harper's Hall to a packed house, it was a wonderful success. The Chestertown orchestra under the leadership of Arthur Bacon, gave us some fine music. Howard Rasin and son, Gale, with their songs and recitations, took down the house. The State lecturer, Mrs. Harry Williams, was at her best with some humorous recitations. Miss Anna Rasin can cry so natural, they thought it was real. Mr. and Mrs. Brice know how to please their audience with song.

Mrs. Waters entertained us with instrumental music, also Miss Bonwill and Hacket. Mrs. Harry Moore knows when a man needs his hair cut, while Mrs. Shockley had so many admirers, she had to marry to get rid of them. Mrs. Shallcross and Mrs. Geary in their usual way, gave us some good music, also Mr. Carroll delighted the audinece with song, while Mr. Cooper can tell the boys how to wait, and how to hug a pillow in his dream. After this delightful entertainment the Grange realized enough money to finish paying for the piano. Chicken salad sandwitches and coffee was served to all that took part in the entertainment. Still Pond Grange expects to entertain Kennedyville and Worton Granges in the near future.

FARM BUREAU TOMATO POOL

The Board of Directors of the Kent County Farm Bureau met in the Farm Bureau Office in Chestertown last Wednesday. The tomato situation was the principal topic of discussion. Reports from the committees in Kent county showed that there were 3,800 acres signed in the Tomato Pool, with a few sections yet to be heard from. It was also brought out that Queen Anne's county had 2,800 acres signed in their pool and Dorchester county had over 4000 acres in their pool.

A discussion of price for tomatoes brought out the fact that every Farm Bureau Local was unanimous in saying that the Kent farmer must receive 30 cents or more per basket for his tomatoes this year. This was also the unanimous opinion of the two county-wide meetings of Kent county tomato growers.

The general price for tomatoes last year was 25 cents per basket. The increase of 5 cents per basket necessary to the farmer would only cost the canner, and should only cost the consumer less than one-half cent per number 2 can, and less than two-thirds cent per number 3 can, the large size.

Meetings held lately at Massey and Rock Hall show that both Local Farm Bureaus are much alive. Both are very active with their programs of work and are getting good results.

Young People's Day at Janes M. E. Church, colored, March 9, Bishop M. W. Clair, who was to preach on the above date will preach Sunday, March 16, instead. Don't fail to hear him. Sunday 10.30 a. m. a special sermon to young people by pastor, Rev. L. H. McArthur; 3.30 p. m. A sermon by Dr. T. J. Sard of the M. E. Church, of Chestertown; 8 p. m special young pupils program. Public is invited.

MILLINGTON

H. Steinke has sold his ice and Electric Light Plant to Charles S. Church, of Syracuse, N. Y. Possession to be given the first of April.

Mrs. Edward Pinder, of New Castle, Del., was the guest last week of her sister, Mrs. E. A. Wilson.

Mrs. W. H. Burris has purchased the property of the late J. R. Poore, situated on South Crane street and recently occupied by Mrs. Maggie Poore, widow of the late James Poore.

Mrs. John E. Woodall, who fell down stairs six weeks ago today, is a little better but still unable to do anything.

John G. Moore who has been quite ill for several weeks we are glad to say is very much better. Among others on the sick list this week are Mrs. W. H. Burris, Mrs. C. T. Branigan, Master John Barnhart and Ringgold Comegys.

Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Greenwood and two little daughters, Phyllis and Laura, visited friends in Baltimore.

Mrs. Robert M. Logan has been appointed principal of Massey school in place of Miss Anna P. Radnor, who has resigned.

Mr. and Mrs. John W. Higman have returned home after spending two weeks with relatives in Philadelphia.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Freeman, of Chester, spent the past ten days with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. H. Burris.

Wm. Jarman, of Crumpton, was the guest this week of his daughter, Mrs. Leonard Robinson.

Freddie Rickets, of Millington, was the lucky boy last week in the Health Limerick Contest of a Wilmington paper. Freddie is 13 years old and in the fifth grade. Freddie's last line was so good that he was awarded the first prize of $5.

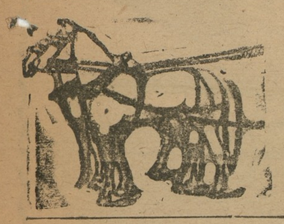

This community was shocked last Wednesday night by the sudden death of Hiram Wooleyhand. Mr. Wooleyhand had been at work during the day in his usual health, but in the evening not feeling so well, he went to the office of Dr. Merritt Brice for treatment, but finding the doctor not in his office, he started to return home and fell on the street. He was found by some young men lying in the street, picked up and carried into the store of Paul Comegys, where he was treated by Dr. G. L. Copeland, but in a very few minutes he passed away. When found by the boys, they started at once for a doctor and he told them it was too late. He seemed to know he was in a dying condition and only lived about ten minutes. Mr. Wooleyhand was 54 years of age and is survived by his wife, two sisters and three brothers. Funeral services were not arranged for at this writing.
